Study Groups' Ways Paved

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday signed legislation setting up separate commissions (1) to study reorganization of the federal government and (2) to survey overlapping functions of state and federal governments.

The reorganization group is similar to the commission which served under former President Hoover in drafting plans for overhauling government agencies. It will have 12 members, four each to be named by the President, the speaker of the House and the presiding officer of the Senate.

The new group will have a broader field of study than the Hoover Commission, which was set up in 1947 and functioned for about two years. For one thing, the new commission will be directed to look into federal activities in competition with private enterprise.

The commission on inter-governmental relations will look into duplication of federal and state taxation and the proper role of the federal government generally in relation to state and local governments. It will have 25 members. Of these, the President will pick 15, and five each will be named by the House and Senate.

The President's choices will include no more than nine from one party. The Senate and House will name three each from the Republican Party and two Democrats.

Security Check Made of Ship

ASTORIA (AP) — The Greek ship Fotini sailed Thursday night for Vancouver, B. C., after passing a U. S. security check here.

Cmdr. Roger Seccombe, Coast Guard captain of the port, said the check was necessary under the Magnuson Act requiring security clearance of any ship making its first call in this country after visiting a Russian satellite port.

The Fotini loaded a cargo of soy beans in Manchuria last February. The ship unloaded the cargo in Europe. This was the first U. S. call since. The ship was in quarantine here three days.

Hop Board To Close Shop

PORTLAND (AP) — The Pacific Coast Hop Control Board decided Thursday that since it was out of business it might as well sell its equipment.

A vote of growers scrapped a federal hop marketing agreement June 30, and put the board out of business.

A liquidation committee here approved sale of the equipment and recommended that the $25,000 to $30,000 remaining in surplus funds be distributed to handlers and dealers who contributed 1952 crop assessments.

Sheriff's Posse Joins Boy's Hunt

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — A sheriff's posse joined Friday in the search for a 13-year-old boy who has been missing in the timbered Cascades 50 miles east of here since Wednesday evening.

The missing boy is Roy John Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nelson, Jennings Lodge, Ore.

He was barefoot and was wearing a light shirt and jeans when he became separated from other members of his family on a fishing trip along Seven Mile Creek.

A score of men searched Thursday without any sign of the boy and a greatly increased number of men went out Friday.

BIG DAY

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrians voted Friday on a new constitution and elected their first President. The only candidate was the country's strong man, Brig. Adib Shishekly.

CLARENCE A. HUMBLE is general chairman this year of the Pollack Brothers-Shrine Circus, scheduled for the Fairgrounds, Aug. 10 and 11.

SHE'S THEIR GIRL—Men of the Norwegian training ship Narvik salute as Synnoeve Gulbrandsen steps aboard and favors the quarterdeck with a smile. The blonde Miss Norway is one of a group of Miss Universe contestants in New York on sightseeing tour before leaving for Long Beach, Calif., where they will vie for the title "Miss Universe of 1953."

Thomas Takes Look Around At Stars Stuck With Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stars in your eyes—

Let's take a tour of the glamor factories and find out what's cooking with those few film stars left in Hollywood this summer. Out in the valley, James Stewart is going through the motions of enacting the famed bandleader in "The Glenn Miller Story." With rimless specs and a new toupee, he's a ringer for Miller.

Jimmy even maneuvers the trombone with the ease of a veteran. But the illusion is good only as long as the playback record is heard. He blows and makes the movements, but nothing comes out. "You have to develop tough lips with years of practice," he explains, "and I've only been playing a couple of months."

This fellow Stewart is probably making more money from movies than any other actor, thanks to his deals for 50 per cent of his films' profits. And he shows no signs of slowing. He goes right into "The Far Country," a Western to be made in Canada, then plans to do two films at Paramount before the year is out.

He is an air enthusiast, and I ask if he has any story he's eager to do.

"Yes. The story of Charles Lindberg's flight across the Atlantic. It was a fantastic story of courage and his example sped the air age. But Lindbergh won't sell the film rights." . . .

Outside "The Gladiators" set we find Susan Hayward, sitting alone on the cement steps in a Roman costume bedecked with jewels. And what is this glamor girl's first topic of conversation? Her twin sons' swimming lessons.

She also is wondering what is going to happen to the movie business. "The studio is going to make only 12 pictures a year and I'm supposed to do three a year," she reasons. "How are they going to put me in one-fourth of the product?"

She says she isn't going to worry about it, since her deal has four years to go without options. Still, she hankers for freedom to do a lot of things, including her first try at the stage.

"I don't mean little theaters," she adds. "I mean big theaters. If I flop, I'm going to flop in a big way" . . .

On the inside, Victor Mature is doing a tense, almost hysterical scene for "The Gladiators." As soon as it is over, he strides happily into his dressing room and turns on some swing records. He is a happy fellow. After about five months of being in armor for "The Robe" and the current sequel (formerly called "The Story of Demetrius"), he will soon be on his favorite haunt, the golf course.

He tells how he wangled out of playing in another costume epic, "Prince Valiants": "I just told the studio I was too distraught to even talk about it. Remember how for a couple of years after the war all the leading men were just too tired to carry on? I pulled that routine."

Nowadays, the same boys who were too weary to carry on are lucky to be working, adds Mature.

Paper-bag Bandit Sorry He Had To Take $1,500

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A paper-bag robber got $1,500 yesterday—with apologies.

Police said he waited his turn in a teller's window at a downtown branch of the Bank of America. When his turn came he produced a gun and a note demanding "all the money." While teller Virginia Holcomb was placing the money in the bag he commented: "I'm sorry to have to do this." He seized the bag and fled.

One Hour, Three Inches of Rain

DENVER (AP)—A sudden, driving downpour at last night's rush hour transformed city streets into raging streams, snarled Denver traffic and flooded basements in widely-scattered sectors.

Lowry Air Base measured the rainfall in less than one hour at three inches. The downtown weather bureau recorded an inch.

Fire Chief Allie Feldman, whose men were swamped with calls for aid, said damage would exceed one million dollars.

Negro Prays For All at Execution

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., (AP)—A youthful St. Louis Negro, outwardly calm and praying for the man he killed, went to his death in Missouri's lethal gas chamber early today.

Kenneth Boyd, 23, died for the slaying of Sam Barenfeld, a St. Louis grocer, Jan. 13, 1951.

On his way to the execution chamber, he prayed for his victim as well as the judge who sentenced and the jury which convicted him.

Boyd got $30 in the robbery.

FOUR HIND LEGS

FENTONVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — A Holstein calf with four hind legs has been born at the farm of Raymond Nelson. The animal's front legs bend backwards, and it cannot stand.

SEES BOYS IN LINE

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Lt. Gen. Huang Chieh, commander of Nationalist troops repatriated to Formosa from Indochina, has returned here after an inspection of his forces already incorporated into the Nationalist Army on this island. Approximately 30,000 Nationalist troops interned since 1949 in Indochina were repatriated last month.
