Two couples planned their weddings for June 27, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, and exchanged vows in a 10 a.m. Nuptial Mass, offered by the Rev. William Stone before a host of invited friends and relatives.

Dr. Edward Raitano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raitano, San Francisco, claimed Phyllis Honzel as his bride; and her brother, Andrew Honzel Jr., took as his bride Beverly Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Young, 230 Donald Street. The senior Honzels divide their time between their home on Lakeshore Drive and Brookings.

White daisies decorated the altar and marked alternate pews. Sue Vandenberg was organist, and accompanied Ellen Sullivan, soloist.

Phyllis and Beverly wore identical dresses of imported white embroidered organdy, floor length, with long sleeves and low round necks. Appliqued pique flowers and embroidery outlined the neck and hemlines. They wore organdy half-hats with three-quarter veils.

Bouquets were ring-shaped of white lilies and stephanotis.

Phyllis was attended by her sister, Mrs. George Brosterhous, as matron of honor; and her bridesmaids were Barbara Brosterhous, from Berkeley; and Lois Galloway, San Francisco.

All the attendants for both brides were dressed alike in white embroidered organdy, waltz length, off-the-shoulder necklines and they all wore bandeaus with nose veils. The matron of honor's dress was embroidered in yellow, and her bandeau, slippers and bouquet of daisies were also yellow. The bridesmaids color accent was blue.

Dr. Raitano was attended by George Brosterhous as best man; and ushers were Jim Tuley, Seattle; and Warren Unochai, San Jose. Ring bearers were Eric and Greg Brosterhous, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Brosterhous.

Mrs. Honzel wore a navy silk afternoon dress, pink hat and pink daisy corsage to her son's and daughter's wedding. Mrs. Raitano wore gold silk, brown accessories and a yellow and white daisy corsage.

The reception was at Reames Golf and Country Club; beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Loren Palmerton and her daughter, Mrs. Richard Newman. Mrs. Edward Cross, San Jose, poured; Mrs. John O'Heron, Seattle, cut the cake; and Guest books were
