Blue, Yellow and Pink in Pastel Hues Chosen by Beverly Karnes For Her Pretty Summer Wedding

A beautiful June wedding was solemnized in the First Christian Church when Beverly Jeane Karnes, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Karnes, 518 High Street, became the bride of Rudy Magallanes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mauro Magallanes, Worden, Ore.

The 4:30 p. m. double-ring ceremony was read on the 28th day of the month of brides, by Rev. George Alder before a beautiful background of pink and white stock, lighted tapers in floor candelabra, woodwardia fern and palms.

Immediately before the ceremony, Mrs. Sam Mushen played an organ prelude and accompanied Peter Armen who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" before, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the service.

The bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, was radiant in a full length gown of slipper satin with long sweeping train. The gown skirt was designed with redingote lines, with a front inset of illusion over satin, bordered by three rows of dainty lace. The low-cut sweetheart neckline featured an illusion insertion, bordered by the same fine lace extending to the waistline of the fitted bodice. A coronet of matching lace held the finger-tip veil of illusion.

Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded with mephoritis tied with white satin streamers carried on a white prayer book. For "something old, borrowed and blue" the bride wore a garter belonging to her matron of honor, and worn by her at her own wedding where Rudy and Bev met. The penny in her shoe was sent from the First National Bank in Portland, where Bev was employed for some time. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Louise (Evelyn) Magallanes.

(Buz) Karnes, bride's brother, here from Philadelphia for the wedding, and Oswaldo and Louie Magallanes, brothers of the bridegroom were ushers.

The bride's mother was striking in an afternoon length dress of natural lace over pink taffeta, with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of shaded roses. Mrs. Magallanes was smart in a dress of powder-blue worn with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was the same as Mrs. Karnes'.

Following the ceremony, the many guests were received in the church parlors. The large, elaborately decorated 4 tiered cake was served by Mrs. Isabel Jackson and Mrs. Sam Ritchey. Louise Linman and Mrs. Clifford McKoon, Merrill, served punch; and Mrs. Bert Miller presided at the coffee service. Eloise Woyak registered the guests and Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, Mrs. James Cox, Mrs. A. J. King and Mrs. Paul Patterson Jr., assisted about the rooms.

For travel, the new Mrs. Magallanes chose a smartly tailored white Irish linen dress topped with a navy blue faille duster and matching accessories. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet as a shoulder corsage.

After an Oregon and California honeymoon including points along the coast, the newlyweds are at home, 927 Lincoln.
