Langlie Lists Topics Of Meet

OLYMPIA (AP)—Gov. Langlie said Monday three items will head the list of topics to be discussed at the conference of governors in Seattle Aug. 2-6.

He listed them as: Organization and administration of state governments; federal-state relationships, and land and water resources.

The chief executive indicated President Eisenhower would participate in the round table discussion of federal-state relationships, and perhaps some of the other topics. He added:

"The conference will have particular significance because of the expected participation of President Eisenhower in some of the field of federal-state relationships, but also in areas where the discussions will cover major administrative problems confronting the individual states."

The federal-state roundtable will be presided over by Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

In commenting on the roundtable, Langlie said:

"The federal government gradually has assumed activities which traditionally have been reserved to the states and by pre-empting tax sources has made the states increasingly dependent upon federal handouts.

"The governors will discuss a taxes best suited to state administration and weigh aid programs which could be discontinued."

Timber Bill Objected To

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of the comptroller of the currency raised objection Monday at a Senate banking subcommittee hearing to a bill which would permit national banks to make loans of up to 10 years on timber tracts.

Sen. Gordon (R-Ore.) and Rep. Eusewark (R-Ore.), sponsors of the bill, urged its approval. Officials of the Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service expressed belief it would be a step in the right direction. Bankers and lumbermen endorsed it.

But W. M. Taylor, deputy comptroller of the currency, expressing doubts of his office, said:

"The office of the comptroller of the currency recommends that loans secured by mortgages on timberlands be restricted to those which will be liquidated from the immediate or short-term utilization of mature timber, and that such loans should not be made for a longer period than three years."

"There would be no objection to legislation permitting loans secured by timberlands if the loans are so restricted," he added.

Most Film Actors Work At Other Jobs During Layoffs

By BOB THOMAS
 HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Q. What happens to film actors when they're not acting? A. Most of them work at other jobs.

Something new has been added to the social strata of Hollywood. That is the part-time actor. The actor who spends some of his time acting and the rest at other work is beginning to outnumber the player who can make a full-time living at it.

That doesn't mean that Marilyn Monroe and Debbie Reynolds are going to labor as carhops between pictures. They and other big-name stars can still earn a handsome living from the make-believe world. But the actors without the big names are having a tough time of it. The reason: Film studios can no longer provide enough employment for the number of actors who thrived in Hollywood some years ago.

Woodworkers Count Ballots

PORTLAND (AP)—The counting of strike ballots began at the CIO International Woodworkers of America headquarters here Monday.

The tally is expected to be completed Wednesday. The IWA claims a membership of 45,000 in the Northwest.

The issue was whether to strike in demand for an unspecified wage increase. Earlier the union had demanded an increase of more than 10 cents hourly.

Some 7,000 CIO workers at Weyerhaeuser plants and several other locals have conducted separate negotiations. The Weyerhaeuser workers tentatively accepted a 5-cent hourly increase.

Postal Hike Gets Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Business, labor and educational groups joined Monday in blasting a move by the Eisenhower administration for immediate increases in postal rates.

Testifying before the House Post Office Committee, they insisted more time is needed for basic studies of the problem of the post office deficit which has been running about 500 million dollars a year.

They suggested it is unfair to ask mail users to bear the entire cost of the postal service. They said the Post Office Department makes a vital contribution to the nation's general welfare and the cost should be borne partly by all citizens.

President Eisenhower and Postmaster General Summerfield have been pressing for action at this session of Congress on their plea for a 240 million dollar annual increase in postal rates, including a one-cent boost for first class letters and air mail.

Congressional leaders have indicated prospects are dim for any action before scheduled adjournment of Congress in about 12 days.

3 State Deaths Over Week End

By The Associated Press
 Three persons died in week end accidents in Oregon.

An automobile went out of control seven miles north of Hermiston Sunday, overturned and killed a passenger, Henry Caldwell Hudson, 29, whose identifying papers indicated he was from Walla Walla. Another passenger, Alice Powell, 46, Walla Walla, suffered minor injuries.

Joseph Filumina, 3, Portland, was injured fatally Sunday when he fell from a moving car onto the road and into the path of another car at Portland.

The boy's death raised the city's traffic toll to 29 this year.

Donald Frank Floyd, 18, Merlin, drowned Saturday while swimming in Lower Grave Creek, 15 miles northwest of Grants Pass. Another swimmer, Edgar W. Brockman, 36, also of Merlin, recovered the body.
