FIRST STEP OF PRISONER EXCHANGE—North Korean POW's march glumly from one compound to another on Koje Island as first preparations for exchange of prisoners gets under way. Thousands of Communist prisoners are being moved from the UN island prison camps to mainland stockades until the actual exchange begins.

Paternity Suit Winner Wanders In Stocking Feet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The young woman who won a paternity suit against Charlie Chaplin in 1946 was returned to the psychopathic ward of General Hospital yesterday.

Police said they found Joan Berry, 33, wandering in her stocking feet in suburban Torrance. She could not explain, they said, how she got there from her home in nearby Redondo Beach. She underwent voluntary treatment at the psychopathic ward about a month ago.

Miss Berry was at one time Chaplin's protegee. Her suit named him the father of Carol Ann, now 9.

New Truck Pulls Cow Out of Ditch

BLACKFOOT, Idaho (AP)—It took a car wrecker to pull a wayward cow out of a ditch near here.

Blackfoot city police, Bingham County deputy sheriffs and about 30 volunteers blistered their hands in an attempt to drag the 500-pound animal from a ditch. Finally aid was summoned from a local garage.

The cow was found lying on its side in the ditch with its head barely above the water.

US Debt Never Hit 290 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal debt has never come within 10 billion dollars of the 290 billions to which the Eisenhower administration wants to push the legal ceiling.

The all-time high was reached Feb. 28, 1946, when the debt totaled $279,764,369.348. On June 30, 1946, before the United States entered World War II, the federal debt was 43 billion dollars, pushing hard against the existing ceiling of 45 billions.

Since then the debt limit has been raised five times and lowered once.

McKay to Arrive

PORTLAND (AP)—Secretary of Interior McKay plans to attend the governors' conference at Seattle next week. He and Mrs. McKay are scheduled to arrive at the Portland Airport at 8:25 p. m. Saturday.

Voiceless Voice Project Produces Hay, Grain, Feed

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (AP)—The 1,119 acres into which the United States State Department plowed $4,473,290 for a Voice of America project near Dungeness is producing hay, grain and pasture instead of propaganda.

The project was abandoned in February after a congressional squabble over its usefulness. The government says about 2 1/2 million of the cost is in equipment which can be used elsewhere.

Not all the acres are good farm land. Before the government took over the area 775 acres were in production; the rest were classified as woodlots.

When the project went to pot 11 farmers—men who owned the land previously or farmed nearby—leased most of the 775 acres. One of them, Val Cameron, estimated the land in production now at 626 acres.

The State Department got the land through condemnation. When abandoned, it reverted to the General Services Bureau, which is required by law to determine if any other federal agency can make use of the land. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service gets first crack at the acreage.

Legislation which would allow former owners of the land to purchase back their plots at prices paid by the State Department was introduced Wednesday by Reps. Westlund and Mack (R-Wash). However, no action on the measure is expected during the waning session.

What happens at the end of the present growing season when the leases run out? Farmers of the area want the good land put back into production and the Farm Bureau seeks to have the crop land put up for bids with former owners having the right to meet the highest bid and reclaim his property.

Jodays Women

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Note to lonely wives: If your husband is a traveling man, pack your bag and go along.

It's a wonderful way to have a second honeymoon, or even a third or fourth, says Mary Andrews, strawberry blonde partner in one of Hollywood's most successful marriages.

Mary's husband is Dana Andrews, handsome, tough star of numerous movie thrillers, now on his way to South Africa for the filming of "Duel in the Jungle." Dana will be away until Christmas, but Mary will be with him until time to start work on the film. They plan a leisurely motor tour of England, France and Italy before Mary goes back to Hollywood in September to start the children off to school. Says she:

"When Dana has to go away on location for a movie, we often try to start a week or so early, and I go along. After he starts working I go home, because he's too busy then to spend much time with me. "I think that's a good plan for most wives. If your husband has to go to a business convention, don't go along for that. When it starts you'll never see him anyway. But go ahead of time and have a vacation with him first."

Dana and Mary have been married 14 years, which is in the high brackets for Hollywood. They met at the Pasadena Playhouse, where both were working hard to become actors. But when they got married, Mary put aside ambitions for a stage or screen career. She says:

"Two careers in the same family just won't work—or at least not often. When a husband and wife are both in pictures, a normal, happy marriage is almost impossible, I believe. The woman who is working in a movie has to get up about 5 a. m. and go to the studio hours before the man, to get her hairdo and makeup.

"It's a long, hard day during the filming of any picture, and when she comes home she's too tired to do anything except collapse. Also, if she happens to get ahead faster than her husband, there's bound to be jealousy and life generally is difficult.

"My husband and children are more important to me than any other career. That's the way it is, and that's the way we like it."

There are four Andrews children: David, 18, Dana's son by his first marriage; Kathy, 11; Stephen, 8, and Susan, 5, when Mary and Dana are away on one of their jaunts, a relative of Mary's takes over the household for a few weeks.

When Mom and Pop Andrews are at home, which is a great deal of the time, they go in to family sailing parties aboard their 55-foot yawl. Says Mary:

"I don't believe in children being raised by a nurse. We both feel that children need their parents' personal care and attention. That's another reason I gave up the stage."

SUMMER "COOLER"

Nation's Weather Generally Cooler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered thunderstorms roamed the Northern Plains states and the Upper Mississippi Valley today but in most sections the weather was fair.

Most early morning temperatures were in the 60s and 70s. Some readings in the 50s were reported along the Canadian border, however, and 80-plus readings were common in the Southwest.

NEW YORK (AP)—The first person arrested for allegedly using an illegal token to pay the city's new 15-cent subway fare used a Chicago Transit Authority token—worth 20 cents—police said.

Seized by transit employees yesterday was Rafael Rivera, 37, of Manhattan. He found guilty. Rivera would face six months in jail and a $500 fine, or both.

hearing reports that the Fish and Wildlife Service wanted the area for a waterfowl refuge, went on record against such a program and asked that the land be returned to farming.

Cameron said only 10 acres of the tillable land was rendered useless for farming by the clearing work done to prepare for the "Voice" transmitter.

Priest to Try For Cuban Truce

HAVANA (AP)—An aged Catholic archbishop planned to go into the mountains to arrange a truce between armed rebels hiding there and President Fulgencio Batista's government.

Pending the outcome of the peace mission by Magr Enrique Perez Serantes, archbishop of Santiago, government troops were reported holding their fire against the insurgents. The rebels are remnants of a force of about 200 who failed Sunday in an armed attack on two military posts in the Santiago area.

Unofficial estimates placed the total dead at 70 rebels and 18 soldiers in the fighting Sunday and the mop-up operations since.

Msgr. Perez said he would be accompanied in the mountains only by a Catholic layman. The trip was regarded as dangerous, since the rebels have been firm at anything moving in the area.

Edna Ferber Willing To Make Peace With Texas

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attention, Texans. Edna Ferber is willing to negotiate a truce in her battle with the Lone Star state.

Mind you, the novelist is not one to run away from a fight. But she claims she has never had any beef with Texas. Some Texans who have read her book "Giant" feel otherwise about her.

"The reaction was quite violent in some quarters," said Miss Ferber. "Especially around the Houston area. They called the names that were unprintable—but they printed them! Their anger seemed to be directed against me personally, rather than the book."

Miss Ferber, an attractive woman with silver hair and a facile tongue, is here to confer with Director George Stevens and producer Henry Ginsberg about the filming of "Giant." She admitted that the book has bought the bitter reaction of any she has brought.

"All of my books, with the exception of 'Showboat,' have been more or less controversial," she declared. "I still get mail from ones I wrote 20 or 30 years ago. But none have evoked the great initial reaction that 'Giant' has brought."

"It started with the serialization. Serial readers apparently are great letter writers. I am still getting hundreds of letters. Some are very biting. But many praise the book. Texas women will write me and wonder how I could have done such an accurate job of picturing the state. They recognized certain aspects which I thought I had made up."

The novelist admitted happily that the controversy helped book sales, but she couldn't understand the vehemence of the attacks.

"At the same time 'Giant' came out," she observed, "there was a new book called 'Sironia, Texas.' It depicted Texans as idiots, murderers, rapists, prostitutes and arsonists. Yet there wasn't a ripple of protest about it."

"Maybe that's because it was written by a Texan. It's all right if a Texan calls his fellow citizens names. But let an outsider write about Texas!"

"My book merely depicted a man who was in love with the soil. That's a perfectly normal instinct, one of man's oldest. The trouble with this man was that he carried his love to the land to extremes."

"That's the nature of Texas. They go all the way in everything. Some of the most charming persons I have ever met have been Texans. But when Texans are difficult, they can be impossible."

Director Stevens vowed that the film version would follow the spirit of the book. "We will make no effort to avoid the controversial elements of the story," he remarked. "After all, the screen should not dodge issues; controversy is good in a democracy. I will rely on the intelligence of the movie goers in Texas."
