

LIKE TO BE A GIRL SCOUT?

IN THE TALL PINE TREES . . . on the shores of Lake o' the Woods, at Camp Esther Applegate, Girl Scouts from Klamath Falls and elsewhere have spent the summer in relays, just having fun. They live in tents under the watchful eye of Ella Redkey, camp director and a group of councilors . . . do their own laundry, hike mountain trails, swim and learn to shoot a wicked arrow, pass judgement on the "stew" and "laze" awhile beneath a summer sun. This group has had ten days of rest and recreation, will return home ready for the school bell and another year of learning.
