

The Delos Mills' Home Is Scene Of Their Niece's Summer Wedding

DORRIS—The lovely fireplace in the Delos Mills home, Klamath Falls, provided a fitting background for the beautiful evening ceremony at 7:30 Friday evening, June 26, which united in marriage, their niece, Lila Winebarger and Donald D. Stumbaugh. The bride is the granddaughter of one of Butte Valley's better known pioneer families, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robison. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stumbaugh, also a well known in Dorris civic and social circles.

Delicate white iris, flanked by single white candles in gold colored holders were striking mantel decorations, and on either side of the fireplace were floor candelabra holding white tapers. Marcia Mills, cousin of the bride, played appropriate music and the Rev. Galen Onstad, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Klamath Falls, solemnized the vows.

The pretty bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, was charming in a navy blue linen suit, complemented with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and stephanotis. Darlene Winebarger attended her sister as bridesmaid, wearing a sheer pink-plaid dress and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds. Archie Stumbaugh served his brother as best man.

For her granddaughter's wedding, Mrs. Robison chose a navy blue suit and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Stumbaugh wore a light tan suit, with yellow and pink tea rose corsage, and white accessories.

At the reception, which followed the nuptials, the table was decorated with brown and yellow flowers and yellow candles on a brown cloth. Central note was the three-tiered wedding cake adorned with yellow rose buds. Mrs. Harlan Collins presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Marvin Squires, at the coffee urn. The cake was served by Mrs. Carroll Robison. Other than mentioned above, the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Robison, Diana, Cinda Lou and Monte, Red Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robison, Lila's brothers and sisters, Hilary, Keith, Sheila, Kent and Kirk, all of Mt. Hebron; Mr. and Mrs. Stumbaugh Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bay, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Collins; Mr. and Mrs. Squires and Luther Stumbaugh.

100 YEAR OLD DAMASK CLOTH COVERS BRIDE'S TABLE AT LAKEVIEW WEDDING RECEPTION

Ruth Margaret Briscoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack V. Briscoe became the bride of John Pierre Dalen, son of Mrs. John H. Dalen, at the Lakeview First Presbyterian Church Sunday July 19, when the Rev. Charles Wayne Juller read the double-ring ceremony at 4 p.m.

As the young couple knelt on a white satin pillow before a background of white tapers and gladioli, Will Hilgert sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The petite bride was given in marriage by her father. The bodice of her gown was of nylon lace and was fashioned with long pointed sleeves, button back and a sheer yoke with jewel neckline edged with an applique of the lace. The skirt was of nylon net over satin with a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of illusion net fell from a dainty tiara of pearls. On a white Bible she carried a shower arrangement of white Elf roses.

Attending her were her sister, Mrs. Bruce Harlan, as matron of honor and Mary Sullivan of Portland, as bridesmaid. Mrs. Harlan wore a Cape blue and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and blue delphinium. Mary Sullivan wore blush pink and her flowers were white carnations and pink roses. They wore small arrangements of the same flowers in their hair. Their bouffant satin frocks were similarly styled with stoles and overskirts of nylon net.

James Stewart, brother-in-law of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Dr. Norman Carothers, Robert Alger, Ben Vernon and Don Kistner.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Herbert Sanderson at the organ. Preceding the ceremony Will Hilgert sang "Through the Years" and "How Do I Love Thee?"

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Briscoe chose a dress of powder blue lace and crepe with navy velvet trim and accessories. Mrs. Dalen wore natural shantung with French blue accessories. Their corsages were shattered pink carnations.

Guests were received amid beautifully arranged garden flowers in the reception room of the church. The bride's table was exquisite with a century old linen damask cloth used by the bridegroom's great grandmother as a bride. Centering the table on a large round mirror was the three-tiered wedding cake. It was topped with the same miniature basket used at the wedding of the bride's sister. In it were dainty Beale roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Sprays of the roses decorated the mirror and the delicate pink was repeated in tapers in silver candelabra.

Serving the cake were Mrs. James Stewart, sister of the bridegroom, Jacqueline Holland of Portland, Mrs. James Howard and Mrs. W. H. Buell.

Presiding at the coffee urn were Mrs. J. B. Stanley of Medford, and Mrs. Ben Frakes, Mrs. M. A. Hannagan and Mrs. Don Peters.

The following "Sons of Norway" team members made the trip: Jerry Chaney, Charles Swafford, Dick Durrell, Dick Dougherty, Donald Ambers, John Webber, Gene Ross, Kenny Dixon, Johnny Green, Bob Pailles, Douglas Thompson and Paul Munson.
