MARKETS AND FINANCE

Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO (S) — Wheat fell as much as 10 cents, the daily limit, under a heavy rain of selling on the board of trade Monday. Prices were at new lows since 1949.
Wheat at times gave an appearance of being demoralized by the selling, which brokers said was induced by fears producers would vote against marketing quotas in next Friday's referendum.

throughout the world, that's about the job that is cut out for us.
Refugees from East Germany within the past few days report that the Russians have pulled another boner. They are SELLING, at profiteering prices, the American food they confiscated from hungry East Germans.
Their propaganda line is that the confiscated food parcels are being given to hungry WEST Germans in Berlin, but what they are really doing, these recent refugees from behind the Iron Curtain say, is to re-label the packages and PUT THEM UP FOR SALE in the communist state stores where non-rationed foods are sold at black market prices to squeeze more money out of the people for the communist treasury.

Up Before Day

By Geo. N. Taylor
Rising a great while before day, Christ went out into the desert place and there prayed—Mk 1:35.
And to this day God's messengers look to God himself to open the eyes of unbelievers. Said one worker — "I would not go back to Africa except for the prayers of the home folks. We know when you pray, Your prayers hold us up." Said another — Prayer and nothing else ever shakes the throne of God. Also hear Christ's promise — "Whatever you ask God in my name, he will give it to you." See John 15:23.

Where You Stand—You stand utterly lost and hell-bound unless you believe in Christ as your own Lord and Saviour. And you sell your soul down the river if you put off and put off.—"Now is the day of salvation." 2nd Cor. 6:2. This space sponsored by a Portland Lumberman and Wife.

'Progressives' To Teach Communism Included Among Returning Prisoners

By JIM BECKER
FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP)—Americans freed from Red prison stockades said today Red indoctrinated U. S. prisoners are among those returning — including 30 "progressives" en route home to preach communism in the United States.
Cpl. Leslie E. Scates, 32 of Folsomville, Ind., said the 30 were members of his 306-man company at Camp 5 in Pyoktong on the Yalu River.
Most of the men in the company were anti-Red, he said in an interview at Inchon, but he knew the 30 personally.
Other repatriated prisoners have told of Americans who collaborated with the Reds, but only Scates told of repatriates returning to work for communism in America.
Scates said he had heard the 30 talked about joining organizations called the "Ex-POWs for Peace," but he did not know if they had been formed.
Scates said he did not know if the "progressives" planned to join the Communist party in America, but said he heard them talk of a reunion at the home of a friend in San Francisco to discuss their next moves.
Cpl. Harold Wilson, 32, of Mobile, Ala., said one prisoner—considered the "No. 1 progressive" in Camp 5—had said he would "kill his own mother and father if he interfered with him being a Communist and would never even spit on an American dollar again."

JAPS LOOK WEST

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told the Diet Monday Japan might favorably consider a peace treaty with Russia, if the treaty is similar to one now binding Japan and free nations.

He said bitterly that if he ever meets any of the seven "I'd beat the hell out of him if he wasn't a better man than me and if he wasn't I'd use a chair."
Raup said one of the seven told him that he wanted to go home, but about a week ago the prisoner was taken off in another direction. The corporal said two more men were taken with the first man on a one-way trip to China.

Cpl. Billy J. Campbell of Lorraine, Tex., said that at Pyoktong there was "no organized resistance against the 'progressives' no matter how much we hated their guts. . . . We were spied on constantly and we would have been in real trouble if we had tried to discipline these men."

Sgt. John P. Pingree of High Grove, Calif., said "the spy system the Chinese had working among the progressives was damn good that the Chinese knew how many hours you slept a night and if you had to get up during the middle of the night."

Many released prisoners told of being lectured on allegations of American general warfare by Alan Winnington, Communist correspondent for The London Daily Worker, who has been in North Korea for more than two years.
Raup said many men, including himself, were forced to sign petitions for the Communists.

"They worked on me all the night," Raup said. "From 7 o'clock in the evening until the next day, trying to make me sign one of their petitions for peace. At 3 a.m., they told me they were going to put me in solitary confinement if I didn't sign and I still refused."

"At 6 a.m., one of the guards pulled out a revolver and waved it in my face and said, 'you had better sign.' I signed."

Pfc. Norman S. Hale, 23, of Oulman, Ala., told of early day hardships when there was "nothing to eat but millet and cracked corn and men were dying at your feet every day."

Cpl. Wallace L. Dunham of Covington, Ky., related: "We got a little dab of soggy rice and half a bowl of soup that had a couple of cabbage leaves and a slice of turnip in it. Those cabbage leaves and turnip slices were so small they could make 30 men's soup out of one cabbage and one turnip."

Sgt. Benjamin Conley of Columbus, Ohio, showed Allied newsmen a photograph of the infamous Camp 5 at Pyoktong—a scenic general view taken from a hill top. "That looks mighty peaceful," he said, "but within this, 2,400 men, United Nations prisoners, lie buried."

"No one could tell for sure which were real progressives and really believed communism and which were just taking advantage of the situation," he said.

Cpl. Carl J. Raup of Franklin, Pa., said that between Feb. 1 and Aug. 1, 1951, 4,400 prisoners died at the Pyoktong camp.

"Later," Raup said, "the Communists tried to tell us that they lived as hard as we did. I was
