Montana Fire Out Of Control

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The worst forest fire of the year in Lewis and Clark National Forest Thursday raged out of control 80 airline miles northwest of Montana's capital city. Up to 500 men were called into the primitive area from all parts of the state.

Spruce described as dog hair thick and jagged rocks kept the smoke-jumpers out of the 350-acre blaze. Firefighters were forced to hike 16 miles to the continental divide after leaving a 15-mile dirt road.

No habitation is involved. Fire was set by lightning as the two million acre forest's fire danger rating rose through the explosive stage.

Hopes Rise On Suez Issue

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Hopes for a solution of the Anglo-Egyptian dispute over the Suez arose today after Vice Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser said Egypt is willing to make the giant base available to the West in an emergency.

Nasser said in an interview last night the West could use the base providing Egyptian sovereignty was honored. He insisted that Egypt should have the final say-so on when non-Egyptian troops should be admitted.

This point has been a major factor blocking agreement over evacuation of the 80,000 British troops now defending the 104-mile waterway.

Nasser denied earlier reports yesterday that Egypt had decided to break off current informal talks with Britain over the canal zone's future.

His statement last night was the first public expression by a responsible official that Egypt might allow the West back in the Suez under certain conditions. It was received with enthusiasm by British circles in Cairo, which had been worried by the earlier reports of a breakdown in the Anglo-Egyptian contacts.

However, it was not considered a commitment that Egypt would join the Middle East Defense Organization (MEDO) proposed by the West. The Egyptians have insisted that this will not be brought up in the discussions with Britain.

The Egyptian viewpoint is that unless they have final say in determining future use of the Suez, the British would return and "begin another occupation."

DP Jews End Hunger Strike

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Two hundred Jewish displaced persons last night ended a two-day hunger strike protesting expulsions to Israel.

The demonstrators, camped since Wednesday in the headquarters building of the American Joint Distribution Committee, were back to their camp after German authorities promised to halt deportation of Jews to Israel until the Bonn government has made a decision in the case.

The protest started after three DP's were expelled and 80 others faced expulsion. They had gone to Israel after the war but returned without legal entry permits when they failed to find jobs.

Some 600 others in the Foehrenwald DP Camp are in the same fix.

Labor Secretary Urges Teenagers Back to School

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Durkin urged teenagers today to resist the lure of "plentiful jobs at good pay" and to return to school this fall.

Durkin recalled that last year 1-3 of the nation's 16-year-olds and 17-year-olds dropped out of school after taking summer jobs.

He cautioned in his prepared statement that failure to finish an education could jeopardize a youngster's future earning power.

PO Department Drops Odd Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowly penny, which doesn't rate much anywhere any more, took still another shellacking Friday—this time from the Post Office Department.

Postmaster General Summerfield announced the department is dropping the odd cent from its elaborate internal bookkeeping machinery, and that he hopes thereby to save a half million dollars a year.

The newly - adopted system is known as "whole-dollar" bookkeeping, and involves rounding out money figures to the nearest even dollar.

Summerfield said its use by industrial firms had proven that "pennies tend to lose their significance in large operations involving millions of dollars annually."

Differences in actual and round totals, his announcement said, will be insignificant because of "the tendency of rounded items to offset one another."

Man Relates He Embezzled for Mama

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI says a man seized on an embezzlement charge has related he gave most of the money to his mother — so she could pay off gambling debts.

Milton Decker, 23, was seized yesterday and charge with embezzling $1,000 from the Home Federal Savings & Loan Assn., where he formerly was a teller. Decker, the FBI said, told of giving $600 to his mother, Marie, and of spending much of the rest on food.

His bond was set at $1,000 pending arraignment.

McKay Project To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary McKay announced Thursday continuation of a program to aid in the salvage of timber from O & C lands in Western Oregon.

He said the Bureau of Land Management's regional administrator at Portland has been given additional authority to issue temporary permits for rights-of-way for logging roads.

Such permits would be for two-year periods, subject to one-year extensions. They may be issued to lumber operators who have entered into agreements on a substantial road system or to applicants negotiating for long-term agreements.

McKay said the administrator also now has authority to issue short-term permits to cross government land for salvage of damaged or dead trees along with cutting of any adjacent green timber needed to make an economic logging job.

Edward Woozley, bureau administrator, said damaged timber should be removed because it deteriorates in value and also is a fire and insect hazard to green timber.

The program is an extension of emergency regulations which went into effect for one year starting June 20, 1952.

Ex-GI Charged Ordered Back

WASHINGTON (AP) —U.S. District Judge Walter M. Bastian Thursday ordered the Air Force to return former Sgt. Robert W. Toth of Pittsburgh from Korea to Washington on Sept. 1. Toth is charged with murder in the slaying of a South Korean civilian.

Judge Bastian set the return date requested by Toth's Attorney, William A. Kehoe Jr. He overruled a request by E. Riley Casey, assistant U.S. Attorney, to fix the return date for Aug. 24.

Casey said the Air Force is interested in expediting Toth's return under court order so that the case can be concluded as soon as possible

U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled last June 25 that Toth, an honorably discharged veteran and 22 year old steel worker, had been arrested illegally.

Road Funds Apportioned

SALEM (AP) — The secretary of state's office Thursday announced the apportionment of $2,136,134.79 in state highway funds to the cities of the state.

The amount represents 10 per cent of the net revenues of the highway fund for the first six months of the year from motor vehicle license fees, gasoline taxes, motor carrier fees and motor vehicle law violation fines.

The allocation included the follow cities:

Albany, $29,211.96; Ashland, $22,350.11; Astoria, $35,611.73; Baker, $27,352.10; Coos Bay, $17,971.93; Corvallis, $46,805.56; Eugene, $103,617.97; Klamath Falls, $45,846.74; La Grande, $24,937.74; McMinnville, $19,161.77; Medford, $49,970.56; Portland, $719,353.47; Roseburg $24,230.18; Salem, $124,587.62; The Dalles, $22,910.38; Pendleton, $35,496.21.

E. Zoner With Food Said Jailed

BERLIN (AP) — East German food-seekers brought word Thursday of a three-month jail sentence given a Soviet zoner for bringing an American food parcel back from West Berlin. It was the first report here of such a penalty.

Arrivals from the Communist-held territory said a Brandenburg railway official, caught by the Communist police as he carried his package through the Potsdam rail station, was summarily tried and sentenced to three months in prison.

Border crossers told also of two new measures which have stirred up considerable resentment:

1. People's Police handling the control point on East Berlin's Warsaw Bridge seized dozens of packages and threw them into the Spree River.

2. Police checking all passes on trains are tearing up those which do not belong to the holder.

Richard Widmark Anxious To Get Out Of 20th-Century

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At a time when most actors are fighting to get into studios, Richard Widmark is anxious to get out.

The blond actor from Sunrise, Minn., admits that he is going against the trend. But he says he can afford to.

"I don't own a Cadillac," he remarked in his dressing room on the "Hell and High Water" set. "I drive a '51 Oldsmobile that I bought used. I also live very sensibly. So I can afford to take chances on my career while some actors who live higher can't."

His contract with 20th Century-Fox is up next May. After "seven long years," he is not anxious to sign again. But it's not for the usual complaint—not liking the pictures he has been assigned.

"Some have been good, some not so good; I guess the average has been okay," he explained. "But I just don't want to be tied down any longer. There are too many exciting things going on outside. Not television; I'm not interested in that. But I do want to combine some stage work with pictures.

"I'm 37 now, and I figure I've got 10 more years as an actor before I fold up and they carry me away. I want to make the most of those years."

Widmark admitted that he was a little tired of hustling through service pictures. "It all started with 'Halls of Montezuma,'" he said. "That was a success, so they started doing others."

Since then, he has been everything from a frogman to an infantry sergeant. He didn't mind too much at first, because he had the choice of fighting the war or playing a killer. At present he's a discharged lieutenant commander in "Hell and High Water," which concerns a group of civilians who visit the Russian atom plants in a submarine.

"At least I'm discharged," he said, but he figures he has the points to stay out of uniform in the future.

Hollywood has never quite been able to figure Widmark. Despite his dynamic film portrayals, he's a quiet, soft-spoken and modest fellow. Although he recently hired his first press agent (a sure sign he is going to free-lance soon), he has never appeared to care much about publicity. He is friendly with the press corps, but seldom very productive for copy.

He and his wife and daughter live quietly in a comfortable home that is modest by film star standards. The Widmarks are seldom seen in the night clubs or fancy parties and appear to have few friends in the movie crowd. One of Dick's few extravagances is owning a horse. He likes the outdoor life and is an ardent golfer, swimmer and tennis addict.

Although he has specialized in playing dim-witted gunmen and stouthearted servicemen, his work hasn't been overlooked by his fellow actors. When others players name the top actors of the screen, they almost always include Widmark. The kid has got to be good to get that.

Capsule Review: "Forever Female" is a somewhat talky, but generally diverting tale of life in the theater. The story of how an older actress makes way for the younger generation is told with likable humor and sentiment. There are few real surprises, but the proceedings move along with the polished air of slick magazine fiction. Pat Crowley is the big news in the film. As the struggling young hopeful she gives a laudable performance for a newcomer. William Holden, whose work is always believable, gives another accomplished job. Ginger Rogers is affected as the stage star, and Paul Douglas plays his familiar, blustery self. Good dialogue lifts the film out of the ordinary.
