Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat had a firm undertone for the first time this week on the board of trade Thursday. It was ahead more than 2 cents at times, but backed down toward the finish.

An advance in cash wheat prices at Minneapolis, small export business and technical considerations aided wheat.

Feed grains, particularly oats, eased. Oats were sold on fears of imports from Canada and because it was claimed shipment of government owned oats into the southwest drought area was cutting demand for feed mixtures.

Soybeans had a steady tone while lard continued to spurt, practically all contracts again going to seasonal peaks.

Wheat closed 1 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher, Sept. 1.82 1/2-1.84, Corn 3/4 to 1 cent lower Sept. 1.48 1/2-1.47, Oats 1 1/4 to 2 cents lower, Sept. 73-73 1/4, Rye 2 1/4 to 3 cents lower, Sept. 1.06-1.06 1/2, Soybeans 1 cent lower to 1/4 higher, Sept. 2.43 3/4 - 2.44, and lard 10 cents lower to 35 cents a hundred pounds higher, 14.75-14.82.

Spud Festival Plans Talked

MERRILL — Plans for the 17th annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival October 23 and 24 were discussed at Monday evening's meeting of the Merrill Lions Club.

Dr. F. E. Trotman, club president, reported on a meeting of the festival central committee, at which time the following committee chairmen were appointed: Festival chairman, F. E. Trotman; promotional director, The Rev. George Milne, secretary, Roberta Dewey; publicity, Ruth King, Roberta Dewey, and G. A. Milne; dances, Paul Knox; parade, F. E. Trotman; barbecue, R. L. Drago; banquet, G. A. Milne, street and store decorations, Harvey Denham; sports, Harold Hendrickson; concessions, George Williams; outside exhibits, Paul Lewis; inside commercial exhibits, Bob Trotman; potato exhibits, Robert Petrik and John Giacomini; properties, Howard Dewey. This last named committee is a new one, and the chairman will see that all materials and properties used in connection with the festival are returned and stored in the building, which is also used as serving stand for the barbecue.

Director Milne requested that all committee chairmen clear their work through him to facilitate operations and eliminate duplication of work.

At the directors' meeting following the business session, C. M. Van was appointed a committee of one to contact the bus company regarding the establishing of a regular bus stop at the City Cleaners building across from the Community hall on Front Street.

A membership drive is now underway and all Lions are expected to assist. Lynn Roycroft was welcomed as a new member.

Places were set for 15 at the dinner table.

Dr. Fredricks At Eye Meet

Dr. Harry Fredricks represented Klamath Falls at the optometrists' visual training seminar in Medford Tuesday.

Featured speaker of the day-long meet was Dr. A. M. Skeffington, educational director of the Optometric Extension Program, from St. Louis, Mo. Dr. Skeffington discussed visual training procedures for the retarded reader.

He contends that the retarded reader is becoming a major problem in American schools, and that because the retarded reader usually has a visual problem, it is the responsibility of the specialist in vision to use all available means to eliminate that problem. Specialists, he stated, should do everything possible to increase visual efficiency, that is, speed and span of recognition. Experts in the field maintain that I. Q. ratings increase as visual capacities increase.

Some 25 optometrists from Southern Oregon and Northern California were in attendance. Only two basin optometrists were present: Dr. Fredricks and Dr. Don Schuman, Lakeview.

Dove, Pigeon Seasons Set

The Dove and Banded pigeon hunting season in Oregon opens Sept. 1, with the dove season closing Sept. 15 and the pigeon season extending on through Sept. 30, according to local officials of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Shooting time will be from one half hour before sunrise to sunset, with the limit on doves set at ten a day and 10 in possession. Limits on pigeons will be six a day with six in possession.

The California season on doves opens at 12 noon DST Sept. 1 and continues on through Sept. 30, with limits the same as in Oregon.

No migratory waterfowl stamp is necessary for hunting these two birds.

All repeating shot guns must be plugged so as to hold not more than three shells.

The number of doves in this area appears to be about normal, stated Federal game enforcement officials, while the Banded pigeon are found entirely west of the Cascades in the coastal mountain areas.

Hollywood Wants Dawn Star, Oklahoma night club dancer, held in Klamath Falls on a bogus check charge. She is alleged to have circulated worthless paper in swank night clubs and beauty parlors in the movie capital. Miss Starr is shown conferring with her attorney, Ben Goddard, before appearing for a preliminary hearing which was postponed.

Los Angeles Police Department has its famous "Dragnet" out for Dawn Starr, night club dancer, held in the County Jail after giving a Klamath Falls barber a bogus check for shaving her legs.

This was revealed Thursday by Sheriff Murray Britton who said he had been notified by Los Angeles police that they have a warrant for Miss Starr's arrest. She is accused of passing spurious checks in Hollywood's swank night clubs and beauty parlors.

In Hollywood, the raven-haired dancer was known as Lorene McEntire-Rene. She is reported to have posed as a movie actress to facilitate the cashing of checks.

A warrant for her arrest is reported en route to the sheriff's office from Los Angeles.

Deputy District Attorney Joe Thalhofer declared the dancer will not be turned over to California authorities, at least until she is prosecuted here.

Complications arose Thursday morning when she appeared before District Judge D. E. Van Vactor for preliminary hearing on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Thalhofer offered a motion for postponement of the hearing until next Tuesday. He told the court that the complaining witness, E. G. (Pat) Patrick in whose barber shop she is alleged to have had her legs shaved and cashed a worthless $10 check, was out of the city.

Judge Van Vactor told the district attorney that unless Miss Starr waived her rights, the state would have to file an affidavit to support justification of postponement every 24 hours until the hearing is finally held.

Los Angeles Seeks Dawn As 'Lorene McEntire-Rene'

Boy Saved After Clinging to Pipe

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—An 11-year-old Negro boy clung grimly to a small pipe near the top of a flooded six-foot culvert for an hour here yesterday. Police and firemen fought through the swirling water and pulled him out with a rope.

The boy, James Carter, was playing with a friend in a creek that runs through a warehouse district. The creek rose swiftly after a two-hour rain and Carter was swept into the culvert.

Grem's Permalume Foil Begins To Roof The World

The Grem Mfg. Co., 5655 S. being built at Missoula, Mont., Permalume Liquid Foil will be used as a finish covering for the structure.

This formula—when used on metal, concrete, fibreboard, canvas and many other surfaces to sloe rust, to waterproof, and to give weather protection, also has been found to give excellent results.

Permalume is used as a coating for asphalt or composition roofs and is basically a mineral rubber and hydro-carbon, permanently thermoplastic and elastic. It is remarkably tough, durable and easier to apply than paint, according to C. R. Grem, owner and operator of the plant.

This roof covering is now used extensively by the government on many of the buildings at Washington, D. C., and airbase hangars all over the country.

Some of the local structures using Permalume include the Balzinger Motor Co., and numerous buildings on the OTI campus.

A new type fibre-glass roof is included in the building specifications for the Roosevelt School, now under construction.
