Fort Klamath Methodists Attend Crater Lake Services

FORT KLAMATH — On Sunday, Aug. 16, nine member of the Fort Klamath Intermediate Methodist Youth Fellowship group of the local Community Methodist Church were treated to a delightful outing, when the Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Stanton took the young people on a trip to Crater Lake National Park in late afternoon.

Purpose of the journey was to attend services conducted by the Crater Lake Student Ministry, who is conducting Protestant Church services there this summer. The 7 p.m. services are sponsored by the National Council of Churches of Christ in cooperation with the Oregon State Council of Churches.

The program has the approval of both the Park Service and the Crater Lake Company, but is financially supported by neither, personal gifts being accepted to defray the expenses of a Christian ministry in Crater Lake National Park as well as twelve other National Park areas.

Director of Christian Ministry in the National Parks is the Rev. Warren Ost, and the 1953 Crater Lake Student Ministry personnel is composed of Harvey Cox and Lawrence Siddal, park service employes.

Sunday school classes for all ages are held each Sunday morning from 9:30 till 10:30 in the Community Building in the park; and for all who like to sing, there is the Crater Lake Chorus, an event of each Friday at 9 p.m. in the Community Building.

In addition to this, a detailed order of services conducted last Sunday is printed in the four page bulletin which is used in all areas cooperating with the Christian Ministry in the National Park program. Also, it is stated that next year four more parks, including Crater Lake, will be featured in all the areas.

The cover page of the bulletin issued for the week of Sunday, Aug. 16, featured a colored view of mountains, trees, grassy glades, rocks and still water, printed from a picture taken in Yosemite National Park.

Prior to attending the Crater Lake Student Ministry services in a body, the Rev. and Mrs. Stanton and their young charges enjoyed a picnic supper in the park. Young people making the trip with the pastor and his wife included Enid Williams, Anita Vaden, Janet Wilson, Sharon Hescock, Gladys Kendall, Vodine Olson, Betty Kendall, Wynn Hescock and Lawrence Kendall.

Klamath Tribe Groups to Meet

The executive committee of the Klamath tribe is to meet in special session Wednesday, Aug. 26, and the general council will convene on Aug. 27, according to an announcement from president of the council S. E. Kirk.

Among other matters to be considered by the two groups will be the report of the tribal delegates to Washington, reports by the claims attorney and law and order (tribal court). Enrollment matters and welfare will also be taken up.

Pontiac Bends Fender On Explosives Truck

An accident at the corner of Main and Spring, Thursday about 2 p.m., resulted in a crushed right fender to the Pontiac sedan driven by Pearlie Dell Wolter, 2263 Garden.

The sedan, in making a right turn onto Main from Spring, hit the rear left wheel of a Freightways truck and trailer loaded with explosives, crossing Main Street in the same direction.

Gordon Brater, Redding, was driver of the freight truck.

Army Expands Air Training

A career in army aviation is now open and awaits the regular army enlistee qualified in any one of the airplane, helicopter, or airframe mechanics specialties, it was announced Friday by Sgt. Warren M. Long, local US Army and Air Force recruiter.

The current drive for enlistment of qualified men in the newly opened field of the regular army is designed to meet the expansion demands of the army aviation maintenance program.

An applicant for the regular army enlistment and a position in army aviation in one of three mechanic categories must meet one of the following qualifications:

Possess a diploma or certificate indicating successful completion of a course of study or training which qualifies him for one of the mechanics ratings from a school approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Have a CAA license to perform in one or more of the specialties. Have served at least one year in the service, performing the duty of airplane, helicopter or airframe mechanic.

The importance of army aviation in the field is marked by current successes in the Korean action, where air evacuation of sick and wounded to rear areas and transport of supplies to front line troops has been so notable, and is marked by an outstanding record of performance during the second world war. The success of aviation in the army has been so great as to gain a position of major importance within the ground forces.

To assure continued outstanding performance and expansion of army aviation, the service has opened the specialized field of aviation maintenance to trained men desiring to help develop the nations aviation future.

Information about this desirable opportunity is available at the local US Army and US Air Force Recruiting Station, located in the post office building Klamath Falls. The recruiting office is open only on Tuesday and Thursday of each week from 9 to 5.

Women, Children Quit Fire Area

FORESTVILLE, Que. (AP)—More than 150 women and children evacuated last Sunday from the forest-fire-threatened village of Ste. Therese headed home today.

The main blaze, which started Aug. 7 and charred 165 square miles of timberland, has made little progress the past day or two, woodsmen said. They would not give assurance that it was completely under control but said villages in the area did not appear to be in immediate danger.

Two Ste. Therese men, Kelly Bouchard, 22, and Wellie Tremblay, 26, were sentenced last night to a month in jail each for unauthorized travel in the forest while a ban was in effect. Police who took them into custody Wednesday night said they were "important witnesses" in a case of suspected arson.
