"IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME" . . . AN OUTDOOR BARBECUE . . .

A TYPICAL SUMMER EVENING IN KLAMATH FALLS . . . but very seldom is a photographer around with the proper equipment . . . In town . . . and out of town . . . at lake homes, river homes, trailer houses and "just camping" . . . cooking over glowing coals has reached an all-high in amateur and professional cooking.

The above group were invited last Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Keith O'Heir to join them in their yard at 1823 Logan for "steaks 'n stuff," and are relaxing while the host (watching his fire) waits for the flames to die and the coals to "get to glowing."

From the left, seated on the chaise lounge, Mrs. George Dimbat and Louis Serruys. Back of Mrs. Dimbat, Mrs. O'Hair and to her left, Mrs. Roy Rekestraw chats with Mrs. Bill Carter. In rear, John Carter and Mrs. Louis Serruys.

In front of the outdoor fireplace, Avis O'Donnell with the O'Hair's English Bull, Beulah; and back of her and Mrs. Bob Chilcote, is Mrs. Fletcher F. Conn. Next to Mrs. Chilcote is Mrs. George Goehring; George Dimbat and Bill Carter, in chairs; and standing, Dr. Fletcher Conn, Martin Brown and Mrs. Mario Pastega. Mrs. Rose Dunbar and Bob Chilcote, far right.
