"SEPTEMBER SONG"

WITH FALL IN THE AIR . . . the Klamath Falls social scene shifts from trips to the lakes and seashores . . . the rivers and mountains . . . to more urban activities; sandwiching in hurried and hurried shopping tours between informal town social events. Weddings and engagements are still in the focal point and it so happens that on this page the picture of the bride is linked with one of the engagement pictures. Mary Lou Case and her fiance Scott Reed were attendants at the Yates-Chase wedding. Mary Lou was maid of honor for Lou Ann, and Scott served as an usher. The Rotary Junior Livestock Show brought Klamathites flocking back to town; and the show is considered to be a huge social and civic success. Football is replacing summer sports as a topic of conversation; with a little "gun" talk thrown in by the local nimrods.
