

Two Death Certificates Has POW; 2 Husbands Has Wife

GALENA PARK, Tex. (AP)—Pfc. Walter B. Dixon, whose sister has two death certificates for him—one signed by former President Truman—faced a dilemma today. Back from the dead in the continuing prisoner-of-war exchanges the Galena Park soldier was reported killed in action May 18, 1951.

Today his 33-year-old wife, Mrs.

Agnes Dixon of Lagrange, N. C., has a 1-year-old son by her second husband, Pfc. William S. Basser of Lagrange. The boy was born seven months after her second marriage was annulled.

The sister, Mrs. Loreen Storey of Galena Park, said last night, "I feel sure Walter knows that Agnes married again, but I don't know if he is aware that she had a child."

"I've told him everything in many letters, but I don't know if he got all the letters. He has never mentioned the child to me in any of his letters. He did say he would do whatever Agnes wanted to do."

Mrs. Dixon, in Lagrange, refused to talk last night to newspapermen who reached her by telephone. Mrs. Storey said her sister-in-law revealed no plans to her in a letter she had from North Carolina last week.

"But she did say she was very anxious to see Walter," the sister said.

Mrs. Storey said Agnes legally cannot divorce Pfc. Dixon until he returns to the United States. The couple were together only five days after their April 5, 1950, marriage, Mrs. Storey said. He was ordered to the West Coast and about a month later shipped to Korea.

It was not until late in 1951 that the Communists released his name as a war prisoner.

Malin C of C Talks Docto.

MALIN—The Chamber of Commerce met for regular monthly session at the City Hall Aug. 24 with four officers and four directors present.

During the business session, conducted by Chamber president Lou Drager, a discussion was held on the matter of obtaining a doctor for Malin. Several doctors have shown interest and, according to reports, the chances look hopeful for obtaining one.

It was reported that the amount of $24.10 for postage was paid by the Chamber of Commerce on some 1200 picture post cards sent home by the visiting Boy Scouts at the time they passed through Malin. The cards, which were obtained by the C of C have pictures of the Malin Park and the city of Malin both aerial views. Some were left over and may be obtained from Emma's Store, the Malin Drug and the Malin Variety Store.

Several letters of appreciation were read by Secretary Jack Story from Boy Scouts, their parents and Scout officials expressing their thanks for the hospitality shown them while in Malin.

Plans were made for an exhibit for the Merrill Potato Festival. Wayne Flisk, Tom Laird and Phil Blohm were appointed to be in charge.

Directors present for the meeting were Tom Laird, William Rajnis, J. R. Ottomian, Dick Halouska and officers Lou Drager, Ivan Petrasek, Phil Blohm and Jack Story.

400 Labor Day Deaths Foreseen

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimates that 400 persons will be killed in traffic accidents in the United States over the Labor Day weekend.

The council expects a record 40 million vehicles on the highways during the period from 6 p. m. next Friday until midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

Plumbers Neglect to Turn Water Off

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—"Send some officers to my home, quick!" a woman telephoned police.

Officers rushed to the spot, found two men knee-deep in water in the cellar, and asked the woman: "Who are they?"

"Plumbers," she replied. Then one of the policemen found a check valve and turned off the water.

License Applicant Smacks Examiner

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Virginia Division of Motor Vehicles speedily rejected the application of Miss Dolly Farrington, 17, for a driving license.

While Miss Farrington was taking her driving test yesterday, her car ran into and knocked down one of the state's license examiners, Edward Bartholomew. He had been standing beside another automobile, questioning a license applicant. He suffered minor injuries.

Demos Argue Over Loyalty Pledge, Quiet On Candidate

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) said today it's too early for

Rapist Fails, Ignites Victim

OPP, Ala. (AP)—A vicious attacker who set a young schoolteacher's clothes afire with his cigarette lighter after he failed to rape her, eluded bloodhounds, police and hundreds of townspeople early today.

The 25-year-old victim, identified as Mrs. Munroe Nix, fled screaming through her yard with her clothes blazing after the unidentified man attacked her in her home in this south Alabama town.

A neighbor's son ripped off the burning clothing.

Mrs. Nix received only minor burns, but her neck was badly seared by the rope which the attacker twisted on her when she entered her darkened home.

Hundreds of angry citizens from Opp and nearby communities swarmed into the search with lawmen and state patrolmen following the attack last night.

Bloodhounds picked up a trail and bayed after it through dense underbrush two miles west of Opp but lost the scent soon after midnight.

Mrs. Nix told police the attacker throttled her from behind with the rope. She said she never saw the man in the struggle but the sound of his voice led her to believe he was white.

She said she was finally thrown to the kitchen floor but continued to resist.

"All right, then, damn you," she quoted the man, "I'm going to burn you then."

She said he kept her pinned down on the floor while he put the cigarette lighter to her clothing. She either freed herself or was turned loose and ran from the house.

Her husband was due home from work shortly before the attack occurred.

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism

How To Avoid Crippling Deformities. An amazing newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it.

It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 33 years.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 2608, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A typhoon with winds of 120 miles an hour roared into the Formosa Channel today and headed toward Red China. A sudden change in course spared Formosa from a direct hit.

the Democrats even to talk about a 1956 presidential nominee but that party members who participate in selection of a national ticket should pledge their loyalty to it.

Without naming them, the Alabama senator criticized Southern colleagues who have said they will not be bound in advance to support the nominee of the party's next convention.

Hill said if this question is going to be brought before the Democratic rally in Chicago Sept. 14-15, as suggested by Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi, he intends to be on hand to speak his mind on the issue.

"I think those who take part in the party's councils and who receive all of the benefits and honors of the party should be loyal to it and to its nominees," he declared in an interview.

On the other hand, Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia, said he will pass up the 1956 convention unless he has "reasonable assurances" that the party's pledge of loyalty to the national ticket will be dropped.

"I would think the party leaders realize now they made a terrible mistake in setting up the pledge," Battle said yesterday. He played a major role in the successful fight last year to seat convention delegations from Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana despite their refusal to be bound by the pledge.

Battle plans to attend the Chicago get-together this month. Several key Southerners have said they will not go. Among them is Sen. Holland (D-Fla.), whose decision was termed regrettable by Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.).

"The Democratic party, with good leadership and political acumen, can easily capture the House and the Senate in 1954," Celler said in a statement. "There should be no southern defectives on the eve of victory."

Holland had said he has seen no evidence that the Democratic party leadership has changed the views which cost it four Southern states last year.

As for the loyalty pledge, Gov. White has suggested that the Chicago meeting could go on record as favoring its abandonment. But national headquarters spokesmen said they believe that if the issue is raised at Chicago, it will be shelved.

A subcommittee is scheduled to report on the adoption of formal rules for the national committee, but this group has no control over the national nominating convention beyond setting up the original role of delegates. The national conventions adopt their own rules.

The Chicago meeting will be former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee. Some party members have regarded this as an effort to keep Stevenson in the forefront for the 1956 nomination.

However, Hill, who campaigned actively for Stevenson last year, said he thinks it is too early to begin talking about any presidential candidates.
