148 Doukhobors Arrested For Parading In The Nude

NEILSON, B.C. (AP)—Seventy-one women and 77 men in the Doukhobor tent village of Polatka were arrested last night for parading in the nude in protest to orders that their children attend public schools.

The arrests were made by Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the village situated on the outskirts of nearby Perry Siding, 250 miles east of Vancouver, B.C. The members of a radical wing of the Doukhobor colony were rounded up and put on Canadian Pacific Railway cars for shipment to Vancouver. They offered no resistance but remained unclothed during the roundup.

All of the 148 persons arrested have been charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Only a few of the Doukhobor children showed up at school opening time.

RCMP officials said the tent village would be dismantled. Polatka is the Russian word for tent village.

The radical group has for years opposed regularly constituted authority. They have been a headache to provincial authorities ever since coming from Russia early this century.

The arrests followed the issuance yesterday of top-secret battle plans to Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers stationed in British Columbia's tense Doukhobor district.

Atty. Gen. Robert Bonner said in a press conference here a message of "some consequence" had gone to the 40 officers patrolling the area.

"I don't want to make any provocative or threatening statement," he said, and declined to comment.

Information Comes Cheap To Floating D.C. Tipster

WASHINGTON (AP) — For two cups of coffee, Stanley L. Bishop told the congressmen, "you can get enough information to last you for a couple of weeks" if you're a Washington tipster on government orders.

"I get a lot of tips in a lot of places," Bishop told a House armed services subcommittee. "I will tell you how it works."

Just "float" into a coffee bar at the Pentagon or some other government office, he said, "and have a cup of coffee with one or two people" you know.

"If you stand there long enough and if you stand there for two cups of coffee, you will get enough information to last you for a couple of weeks," he said.

Bishop said he makes part of his living by collecting government contract information, mailing it out unsolicited to manufacturers and asking those who consider it valuable to send back a check. He said he also represents a Philadelphia company on a retainer.

Bishop was called behind closed doors June 27 to testify in an investigation of the activities of Warren L. Stephenson, a manufacturer's representative who served as executive secretary of President Eisenhower's inaugural committee.

Stephenson, in other sessions, acknowledged trying to get a California firm to hire him as a representative at $2,000 monthly or 4 per cent of any increased contracts he obtained for it. He also said that, as part of what he termed "puffing" to get the job, he had recited information on a contract for rocket launchers which the Navy said at the time was classified as secret.

Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), chairman of the subcommittee, said Tuesday that laws guarding national security information were broken in the case. He also said he thought perjury had been committed in some of the testimony before his subcommittee.
