Weyerhaeuser Camp 6
 By ELEANOR THOMSON
 A freak auto accident Sunday night injured a small boy and shook up three other occupants of a 1950 Ford as it was leaving camp about 6:30 p.m.

Injured was two year old Jimmy Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Greene of Klamath Falls. Greene is a hooker for Weyerhaeuser at Camp 6. Other occupants of the car were Mrs. Greene, mother of the injured boy, an older son, and a friend, Mrs. Hoppe. Mrs. Greene, driver of the car, was leaving camp after bringing her husband and Mr. Hoppe back to their jobs at Camp 6. At the first turn of the road the car traveling about 20 mph, hit a stump and overturned.

Beverly Napier and Georgia Thomson saw the accident and reported it to their parents. The smallest boy had a deep cut near his left eye and was bleeding badly, so Mrs. Henry Napier took him home where she applied first aid.

Several of the camp men up-righted the car and pushed it off the road. It was damaged too badly to be driven so Micky McVeigh took the Greens, their children and Mrs. Hoppe in to Klamath Falls where the injured boy was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital.

Ten stitches were taken in the cut which went deep behind the eyeball, then the boy was released. Just two days before this similar accident occurred out camp, involving Harold Winfield of Bly, formerly of camp, who was driving home from his job at Camp Nine. He had been following another car too closely and, blinded by its dust, missed a curve and hit a tree stump. He was struck in the face by the knob on his steering wheel, cutting his lip badly.

Another car picked him up and took him into Klamath Falls where he had several stitches taken.

The Jules Napier and Julie Nell of Portland were weekend visitors in camp at the Henry Napier home.

Rapist Not Caught Yet
 DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Hysteria gripped much of Dallas today as the rapist-killer of Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, pretty dime store clerk eluded hundreds engaged in the manhunt.

There were numerous reports of the elusive Negro prowler, or prowler, seen in Dallas for months by terrified women, but police attributed at least part of them to increasing panic.

Mrs. Parker's rape-murder Wednesday night threw the city into a frenzy and sent citizens buying guns, dogs, ammunition and safety devices for their doors. There was talk of vigilante action and at least two neighborhood "vigilante patrols" were formed.

Women slept with guns by their beds and the lights on. Some husbands stayed home from work to protect their homes. Police squads were increased, vacations were cancelled and officers worked on School and Women's College. Civil defense radio units were pressed into service.

At least two residents of East Dallas shot at prowlers last night but police said both apparently missed their targets. One man shot himself in the hand with a pistol he had bought recently.

Reward funds for conviction of the rapist-killer and prowler passed the $7,000 mark and the Dallas Negro Chamber of Commerce, helped by Dallas baseball players Buzz Clarkson and Willie Brown, started a reward fund.

Police Chief Earl Hansson asked women not to go out alone after dark and urged them to keep their doors bolted. He also warned citizens to shoot only in self defense or defense of a neighbor.

Of scores of Negroes arrested by police, all but 23 had been released after questioning.

As she was dying, a stab wound in her jugular vein, Mrs. Parker gasped to police that "a Negro man pulled me under the bridge and stabbed me." Examination revealed she had been raped.

She was buried yesterday in private funeral services. A tubercular husband, hospitalized for three years, a four-year-old son and her mother survived.

Yesterday, her grandmother—Mrs. Bertie Leora Gilmore, 77—died after hearing of her granddaughter's death over the radio.

Weyerhaeuser Camp 6 Quota Club Reports Winner

Word has just been received by the Klamath County Quota Club that Quota Club International's annual $1,000 Fellowship Award has been given to a 22 year old woman student from Futami-gun, Hiroshima Province, Japan.

Sachiko Sugawa, the recipient, has arrived in this country, and has taken an orientation course at the University of Washington in Seattle, prior to entering the University of Kansas where she will study English and American literature.

Miss Sugawa, who has a B.A. degree from Doshisha University in Kyoto, plans to return to Japan at the end of the current school year, to teach in the Doshisha High School and Women's College.

Miss Sugawa is the tenth student of foreign birth to receive the Quota Fellowship which is awarded annually to a woman student from a non-communist dominated country. Applications are carefully screened by the Institute of International Education and Quota Club International makes its selection on the basis of the applicant's scholarship record and field of interest.

"Quota is particularly interested in helping students who are seeking higher education in a field that will be beneficial to the women in their native countries," Nadine Colvin, president of the local club, said today. "For example, our Fellowship student last year took graduate work in Public Health Nursing, in order to be able to help raise the health standards of women and children in India."

Poisoning Of Elk Lake Successful

In preparation for the Diamond Lake rehabilitation program in 1954, a new high speed method of applying rotenone was tried out for the first time by Oregon State Game Commission personnel on Elk Lake Sept. 24.

Elk Lake, high in the Breiten-bush area, was infested with stunted bullheads thoughtlessly planted by some angler in previous years, thus reducing once excellent trout fishing to practically nil. The plan was to use this small lake poisoning operation as a proving ground for the equipment to determine if the method could be used next year during the rehabilitation of Diamond Lake.

The new method not only proved highly successful from the standpoint of application, but also it proved a time and manpower saver. The job at Elk Lake was completed in about one-fourth the normal time and only about one-third the manpower was required that would have to be used with the old method of application.

Four 16-foot assault barges were coupled together in tandem, then brought side by side and decked to form a single large scow. An 18-foot pipe, 14 inches in diameter, the same pipe used in culverts, was slung on hangers parallel between the barges just under the water surface. This pipe was to act as a flume and mixing chamber. A hopper was installed at the fore end of the flume. Two wells were cut on the upper surface of the flume and outboard motors mounted so the propellers tire rig was powered at the stern went through the wells and operated inside of the flume. The entire rig was powered by a 25 h.p. outboard motor.

While the barge was underway, the dry rotenone was poured into the hopper and sifted into the flume. Water entering the front of the flume carried the rotenone rearward where it was churned and mixed by the propeller blades. The sten motor, as well as the wake of the barge, further contributed to breaking up surface tension, insuring a well-mixed application throughout the lake. Since the barge drew only a few inches, shallow as well as deep water was worked very effectively.

The method of application proved so successful that several of these rigs are being planned for the Diamond Lake project.

'Junie Made A Mistake': Mama

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — June Haver's mother says she believes "Junie realized almost from the start—months ago—that she had made a mistake" in deciding to become a nun.

The mother, Mrs. Andrew Otstad, expressed belief Thursday that the former film star's return home from a Kausus convent is permanent.

The mother said Miss Haver is "living on nerves—tired and nervous, although she doesn't complain. Frankly I'm worried about her."

The former $3,500-a-week star returned Tuesday night from the Sisters of Charity Convent, Xavier, Kan., which she entered 7½ months ago.

Sir Herbert Buys the Drinks

AIDBOROUGH HATCH, England (AP) — The drinks were on Sir Herbert Friday night at the Dick Turpin tavern.

It was the way he wanted it. The Rev. Sir Herbert Dunningo, who started out in coal pits and became a leading Baptist clergyman and deputy speaker of the House of Commons, made his verbal in the same pub three years ago.

Sir Herbert died Friday. He was 77.

So it was — as the bartender announced — "free drinks all around."

GERMAN URANIUM

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Dr. Werner Heisenberg, Nobel prize-winning physicist, forecasts that West Germany will soon be producing yearly nine tons of uranium, equaling the energy in 24 million tons of coal.

He forecast that atomic energy would eventually be in direct competition here with coal on nearly the same price level.
