Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN—Prices ruled firm on the board of trade Monday even though best levels weren't maintained through to the close.

Soybeans scored the largest gains, advancing more than 3 cents at one time to their top price since May. Small receipts of cash grain spurred the upturn.

Small receipts also were a factor behind corn's strength. Oats and rye were bought on reports Agriculture Secretary Benson had decided to continue price supports on these crops.

Wheat had more rugged going than the rest of the market, although the May contract at one time sold up to $2.01 1/2. That was the best price for any wheat delivery since Sept. 9 and the best for the May contract since Aug. 17.

Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1/2 higher, Dec. 1.94 1/2, corn 1 1/2-1 3/4 higher, Dec. 1.46 1/2, oats 3/4-1/2 higher, Dec. 77-77 1/2, rye 3/4-1 1/4 higher, Dec. 1.19-1.19 1/2, soybeans 2 to 2 1/2 higher, Nov. 2.71 1/2-2.72, and hard 5 to 5 1/2 cents a hundred pounds higher, Oct. 17-17.

Talent Contest Interest Arises

Entries in the Klamath Basin talent contest sponsored by the Klamath Falls 20-30 Club to be held at the Armory Oct. 30 has aroused wide interest among the many talented youngsters in the community.

Entries received to date include contestants from Tulakele, Chiloquin, Henley, Merrill and Klamath Falls, according to Wallace Nordwald, club president.

Contestants are divided into two groups: juniors up to 12 years of age and seniors up to 18. Judging of the contestants is on a point system, 75 points awarded for talent, 15 for audience reaction and 10 points for stage deportment and costuming. The contestant with the highest number of points will be declared the winner.

One of the major studios has promised to send a talent scout who will view the contest to see if any of the contestants may be worth consideration for a movie tryout.

Many Klamath Falls merchants have joined with the 20-30 Club sponsoring underprivileged children who will be their guests at the evening program.

Applications for entry in the talent contest may be obtained by writing: Klamath Falls 20-30 Club, P. O. Box 778, Klamath Falls.

Judge Tosses Out Crap Shoot Case

A suspected robber, who described himself as a "lucky crap shooter," and a complaining witness, who said he was held up, were both branded as liars Monday by District Judge D. E. Van Vactor.

With crap shooting as a major issue in the preliminary hearing which was continued from last Friday, Judge Van Vactor made the last "throw." He threw the case out of court.

Charlie Jackson, 26-year-old railroad worker, was arrested on a charge of robbery by putting in fear and force. He was accused by William P. Jones, 31-year-old cook, of putting a knife or his finger against the victim's stomach and relieving him of $15 in cash.

Jackson claimed he had a streak of luck and won the disputed money shooting crap with another man. He said Jones was merely a sidelines "kibitzer" at the game.

At the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Van Vactor said he believed both the defendant and the complaining witness had lied.

"There is no question in my mind that gambling was going on," the judge declared. "I'm not going to be a party to helping anyone get back money lost gambling. The defendant is released."

Attorney J. C. O'Neill represented Jackson.

Higher Cattle Prices Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. C. Case (R-SD) said Monday he expects prices on cattle, hogs and commercial grade cows to improve "moderately" within the next two months.

Based on information given him by Agriculture Department officials, Case said he saw the possibility of nine and 10 cents a pound for hogs and 10 cents a pound for cattle as compared with the 7 and 8 1/2 cents which prevailed last week.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson was reported in congressional circles today to have decided to continue price supports on oats, barley and rye—a move which would counter one phase of reputed farm dissatisfaction.

Such a decision by Benson, expected to be announced soon, would be aimed at reassuring farmers as the winter grain planting season starts against the possibility of disastrous price drops.

It might also have the effect of lessening criticism of the secretary, who has been reluctant to approve the present high level price support program. That criticism built up new steam over the week-end.

Announcement of continued supports for prices of minor grains might be interpreted as indicating that Benson is in line with President Eisenhower's statement that the principle of price props must be retained in the new farm program to be sent to Congress early next year.

The congressional informants who told of Benson's decision asked not to be named.

The minor grains now are being supported at 85 per cent of parity under an order of the previous Democratic administration. Some members of Congress said it was possible that Benson might even raise this to 90 per cent, the level at which wheat and corn and some other farm products are supported.

Parity is a calculated price level said by law to give producers a fair return on their products in relation to prices they pay for things they buy. Farmers may get government loans at the fixed percentage of parity if market prices drop below those levels.

The Agriculture Department, meanwhile, foresees an end to another farm problem; a decline in cattle prices which has persisted for more than a year.

The department said in a summary of the situation that prices in 1954 are not expected to average lower than this year, but are not likely to regain their levels of a year or two ago.

Benson's political troubles were emphasized over the weekend when two Republican members of Congress—Sen. Young (ND) and Rep. A. L. Miller (Neb.)—said time for Benson to be replaced by the Eisenhower Cabinet.

Young said in an interview Benson ought to quit the Cabinet "because he has lost the confidence of the farmers." Miller, appearing on a television program, said the secretary has become a symbol of lost confidence.

Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) agreed with Miller. Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) peering with them and Rep. E. W. Mansfield (D-Tex.) on the program, said the secretary has become a symbol of lost confidence.

Miller said Benson may be a victim of "propaganda that has been doing something to the farmers and he declared:

"Benson's staying on depends on a great deal on the President's success in reassuring the farmers their interests and welfare will be protected, not only now but in the future."

Strong sentiment for continuation of the present price support program was found among members of the House Agriculture Committee, now sampling farm views in the Midwest.

NOW TWO GREAT RINSOS

guaranteed to give you perfect washing results!

"Use Rinso Soap for finest results with blankets, diapers, sweaters, wool socks," says Eleanor B. Cook, former Associate Editor of McCall's—Special Home Laundry Adviser to Rinso.

FOLLOW THIS SUGGESTION of home laundry expert Eleanor B. Cook, and you'll wash these items beautifully every time. Why? "Because Rinso Soap leaves diapers and woolen articles softer and fluffier than any detergent," says Eleanor Cook, "and, incidentally, you pay about 5¢ less a box for Rinso Soap than for most detergents."

"Many women also prefer Rinso Soap for doing all their family wash, because it really goes to work on dirt. And the SOLIUM leaves sheets and pillowcases so wonderfully white."

"But this is a matter for you to decide, because new Rinso Detergent also contains SOLIUM, and like Rinso Soap it also does a fine job on sheets, curtains, overalls and other things you wash."
