Sacred Heart Notebook

By MAUREEN RAJCHEL

Victory is our cry after the Trojans brought home a win over the Antlers Oct. 24. At the half of the game, which was played at Merrill, the score stood 6-15 Bonanza's favor. But the Academy came back with a winning spirit to bring the final score to 7-15. A rally was held in auditorium Friday afternoon in preparation for the game Saturday night. The last football encounter of the year will be played this Friday afternoon at Tulelake. Look at Tulelake. The Academy is out for another win.

Press conference delegates Jeanette Brandejski, annual editor; Marjorie Dwyer, "Chimes" editor; June Nobel and Beatrice Walsh, staff members; Sister Ethelwina, advisor, returned Sunday from the fifth annual Northwest Catholic Press Conference at Gonzaga University where two days were filled with conferences, round-tables and discussions on various aspects of journalism. Students were guests at the Gonzaga Wa-Hi football game and a buffet dinner at Holy Name College, a dinner and mixer at Gonzaga University and a dance at Holy Name Academy.

Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains mostly sold a little lower on the board of trade Tuesday. Corn was an exception, advancing about a cent at times.

Mild hedging pressure sank wheat. Buying in corn was based on continued light receipts of cash grain at this time of year. Soybeans ran into profit taking following Monday's sharp jump.

Loose lard and lard futures broke sharply as the livestock market received the heaviest run of hogs in nine months.

Wheat closed ⅝-⅞ lower, Dec 1.95⅝-¾, corn ⅜ to 1 cent higher, Dec 1.50⅛-¼, oats ½ lower to ¼ higher, Dec 77½-⅝, rye ¾ to 1 cent lower, Dec 1.23⅛-½, soybeans unchanged to 1 cent lower, Nov 2.76, and lard 20 to 85 cents a hundred pounds lower, Nov 14.75-14.70.

Police Close Case Of Girl's Annoying Suiter

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—When Teresa Moreno complained to police last night about an annoying suitor, she found them understanding, to say the least.

Patrolmen M. R. Claywell and Tony Cordasco provided her escort service to the police station.

On the way they picked up Henry Garcia, the male antagonist. Justice of the Peace Jack Hunsaker was called to hear the dispute. He took the quarrelsome couple aside.

Meanwhile, police roused Mrs. Roy Franklin, deputy recorder. She issued a marriage license. Officer Cordasco stood up as best man and Hunsaker read the ceremony.

Sheriff's Posse Elects Officers

Joe Riker was elected president of the Klamath County Sheriff's Posse at the meeting held Oct. 26. Riker succeeds Keith Moon who was given a rousing hand in appreciation for the excellent administration during his term of office. The dinner meeting was at Jen-Eds.

Plans were made for a dinner in the near future for retiring officers of the Posse and their wives.

KATHLEEN WILSON

Kathleen Wilson To Go To 4-H Meet In Chicago

Kathleen M. Wilson, 18, Malin, will join 14 other Oregon 4-H Club members on the trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago, November 29 to Dec. 3. Her trip is being provided by Standard Oil Company of California in recognition of her achievement, leadership and community service.

A freshman at Oregon State College, she was graduated from Malin High School this year with the highest honors in her class.

Kathleen is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Earl Wilson of Malin, who live on a forty acre Klamath county farm.

Beef was one of her major interests in nine years of 4-H club work. The club to which she belonged was led by her father. Three other years she has carried a cookery project.

For two years Kathleen has led a cookery club of younger 4-H club members. As a junior leader she has assisted with leading beef clubs.

Her demonstrations have been centered on the beef project, "curing and grooming a calf" brought her the honor of state champion. Livestock judging and bread baking have given her out of county trips. In 1950 she was selected as winner of the Safeway Breeding Award with the best county livestock breeding project with her angus cattle.

In 1948 she was winner of the State News Writing Contest. For three years she was class reporter in high school, and last year was a reporter for the school paper.

At the Grand National Junior Livestock show this year, she has a pen of five prime steers. In the county she won the Henry Semon Award, a $50 bond.

Kathleen is fond of sports especially swimming. During winters she has set up bird feeding projects.

Two 270 Remington rifles and an undetermined number of knives were taken, apparently during the time the tavern was open. The loss was discovered this morning when Joe Acuff opened for business.

Several people were present when the merchandise disappeared.

Two Schools See Dog Show

Grade school children were in for a real treat as well as a valuable lesson in safety when officer Ernest Pressley's troup of trained dogs visited Altamont and Mills auditoriums Tuesday.

The Traffic Safety Circus, in which eight talented pets are used to teach children good safety habits, is sponsored nationally by the American Trucking Assn's., Inc.

Directed by E. E. Pressley, a Charlotte, N. C. traffic policeman who organized the "junior safety crusade," the Safety Circus has been endorsed by the National Safety Council, the International Chiefs of Police Assn., J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, educators and civic officials throughout the country.

Leading lady of the show is Lassie, a collie well versed in traffic safety habits. Other members of the cast include Susie, Elmer, Mig, Lady, Dot, Jingles and Annie. The clown is Elmer, who always does the wrong thing at the right time.

Pressley first got the idea for his unique show when children flocked to see his pet setter and Mrs. Pressley's collie do tricks. Noting the rapt attention of the children, he conceived the idea of using the dogs to get safety messages across. It worked! And from then on school children have been having safety lessons brought home in a dramatic and enjoyable fashion.

The show, sponsored in Klamath Falls by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, fits well into the Jaycee plan because of their constant interest and activities in highway and pedestrian safety.

Chamber President To Be Forum Speaker

George P. Davis, president of the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker at the monthly chamber forum meeting Wednesday noon at the main banquet room of the Winema Hotel.

The president has just completed a business trip of two weeks time up and down the coast.

Some chamber committee directors also will report on activities in specialized fields.

It will be an open meeting Wednesday noon and non-members as well as members are invited to attend, it was emphasized by Frank Tucker, Chamber of Commerce manager.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was dinner host Monday night to 21 men whose backgrounds include religion, publishing, banking business, government and sport.

Among the guests invited were Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, Roy Howard, chairman of the executive committee of Scripps - Howard newspapers; Carles V. McAdam, president, McNaught Syndicate, and Bobby Jones, former golfing champion.

Also invited to the sixth of the President's private stag dinners were 12 other business and banking executives and five members of his official family.

Questionnaire Mailed To Nurses

Mrs. George Chin, nurse enrollment chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, announces that the annual questionnaire to all nurses in the area is now in the mail.

Purpose of the annual enrollment is to inventory the nurses in the district and determine their willingness to participate as volunteers for community service through the Red Cross.

The nurse enrollment program is part of the chapter disaster preparedness plan: in the event of local disaster it enables the Red Cross to make speedy contact to nurses who would be willing to serve. An example was an event in Elizabeth, N. J. Forty-nine of the 143 nurses recruited by the Red Cross were on duty at hospitals within two hours after the crash of an airliner.

Another purpose of the questionnaire is to seek out nurses who may be interested in volunteering service to the blood program, home work.

Every effort has been made to have the survey complete, if any nurse fails to receive the questionnaire and is interested in entering her name, Mrs. Chin asks that she contact the Red Cross office.

Removing 2 Screws Makes Abandoned Icebox Harmless

CHICAGO (AP) — Each of 28 children who were smothered in abandoned refrigerators this year died because two small screws held firmly in place, a service expert said Tuesday.

"You can render virtually any refrigerator harmless by removing the lock stop from the doorsill. In most models this metal part is held by only two screws," said Harry D. Busby, statistician for the Refrigeration Service Engineers Society.

Busby said that 8,000 members of this group—the men who maintain and repair refrigerators—have pledged their help to communities in making old boxes harmless in their communities.

"But anyone can do it," he said. "It takes about two minutes, it doesn't damage the refrigerators or keep it from being put into service."

The service engineers' group records of 83 child deaths in refrigerator accidents occurring since 1945.

These records are sketchy for some years because some accidents involving only one child were not reported widely. Real attention was focused on the abandoned refrigerator menace last year when 11 children were smothered within a 36-hour period after they became locked in the boxes. Seven children died in one such trap at Proctor, Ark.

This year's toll is already higher that of 1952 when nine boys and five girls lost their lives in refrigerators. The society's figures on these tolls: 1946—2, 1947—3, 1948—8, 1949—9, 1950—7, 1951—12, 1952—14.

One reason for the recent increase in such deaths, Busby said, is that a tremendous sale of new refrigerators has caused a glut of old refrigerators. A dealer will give a trade-in allowance of $25 on a 1936 mode, but he won't take it off your hands. Junkyards will accept them—if you deliver them.

The result has been that the old boxes are moved out into the backyard or into a nearby vacant lot and left there.

The society has taken the initiative in neighborhood surveys in several score cities, spotting the abandoned traps and pulling the single metal teeth. These latch stops and the screws are then placed in an envelope and tied to a shelf rack inside together with a note explaining why the lock was dismantled.

In one neighborhood campaign members of the society found that nearly all occupants of a Lanham ville housing project had replaced ice boxes of their units with refrigerators. Most of the old boxes were abandoned intact—potential death traps. "There were 14 children in that area," Busby said.

The society has drawn a model law and ordinance requiring that owners of refrigerators render them harmless by removal of the lock stop before abandoning the box.

Busby said this proposal or legislation for the same purpose is expected to be introduced in approximately half of the states in their next legislative sessions.

He said that such laws have been adopted by California, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Legislators are pushing bills in Michigan and Wisconsin.
