MEMBERS OF WEDDING PARTY ALL FRIENDS FROM CHILDHOOD

All principals in the wedding party at the recent marriage of Bessie Naramore, daughter of Mrs. Luteicia Naramore, 1518 Ivory, to Arthur W. Bramhall Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bramhall, 536 Pine, were friends in grade school and attended Klamath Union High School together.

The bridegroom was attended by his twin brother, Joseph N. Bramhall; and bridesmaid was Joan Fitzwater. Mrs. Joseph Bramhall, the former Becky Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lamb, was also a childhood friend. Her father was manager of the local theaters during their residence here.

Fall flowers were used for decorations in the First Methodist Church, Oct. 16, when the Rev. Lloyd Holloway read the 7:30 p.m. service. Mrs. Gordon Morris was organist; and candlelighters were Loren Herdson and Bill Canfield.

For her informal but impressive wedding, the bride wore a champagne knit suit with brown accessories, and her bridal corsage was of Edith Wilkie roses with white carnations. Bridesmaid was similarly dressed in a dusty-rose knit suit with navy accessories complemented with a corsage of Tulliaman roses.

Mrs. Naramore chose an electric blue costume worn with a corsage of yellow pompon chrysanthemums and roses in the same shade for her daughter's wedding; Mrs. Bramhall wore a black ensemble and her corsage was the same as Mrs. Naramore's.

The reception was in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. Mrs. J. V. Curlin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph N. Bramhall, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the cake; and Keith Wheeler and Mrs. L. K. Phelps assisted.

After a wedding trip to Reno and other Nevada and California points, the couple will live in Klamath Falls.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Bramhall and Chris, from San Francisco; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harper and family of Calahan, Calif.

C. A. Collins' Golden Wedding

An open house was held October 9 from 1 p.m. on through the evening in observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Collins, 325 S. 11th St. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Collins made all the arrangements and were host and hostess, assisted by their daughter, Patricia. Over 60 friends called to offer congratulations to the honored couple.

The special cake, made by Mrs. Lowell Collins was in the shape of an open book and inscribed in colored frosting on white frosting with the six most important dates in Mr. and Mrs. George Collins' married life. Their wedding date, their only son's birthdate, granddaughter Patricia's and grandson, Michael's date of arrival; and this year's Golden Wedding anniversary.

Flower arrangements were all in gold tones; and gifts of money

GOLDEN WEDDING . . . Mr. and Mrs. George A. Collins who were honored with an open house given by their son and daughter-in-law at the senior Collins home, 325 S. 11th St., Oct. 9. Some 60 friends called during the afternoon and evening. —Photo by Murray Britton wrapped in gold paper were arranged around a "pot of gold," which was placed on the cake table. The same shades prevailed in the corsage and boutonniere given to the honored couple. Mr. Collins wore a gold carnation, and Mrs.

Collins' corsage was of yellow rosebuds with gold leaves and ribbon. Both of them were reared in Goldendale, Wash., and on Oct. 9, 1903, Georgia Farris became the bride of George A. Collins in the Yakima home of the bride's uncle. They have lived here for 28 years; and are presently managing their apartment house here. The day after the open house the wedding celebrants left for a two week's "honeymoon" on the coast.

Murphy-Chaney Nuptial Rites In Sacred Heart

Shirley Faye Chaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Chaney, Mt. Laki District, became the bride of Robert C. Murphy, son of Mr. Harold Slaughter, also Mt. Laki District; and Dan Murphy, Ashland, when a nuptial mass was celebrated in Sacred Heart Catholic Church Oct. 24 at 9 a.m. The Rev. T. P. Casey officiated.

The bride wore a white length gown of white net over satin, styled with a very full skirt dotted with tiny metallic hearts. Her veil was of white net generously gathered to a crown of red rosebuds, which were also used for her bouquet.

She was given in marriage by her father; Faye O'Donahue served as maid of honor; Ben Murphy, brother of the bridegroom, was best man; and Tommy Amburg was ring bearer.

The maid of honor wore a lavender net waist length dress with a very full skirt—and her corsage was of yellow roses. The bride's mother wore a black and white taffeta dress and a shoulder corsage of yellow carlioca roses; Mrs. Slaughter's dress was of black crepe and her corsage was the same as Mrs. Chaney's.

The new Mrs. Murphy chose a vivid blue suit with red accessories for travel, and the rosebuds from her bridal bouquet were worn as a corsage. Upon their return from a trip to the coast, the couple will be at home at Henley.

GREAT-GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, Roosevelt Apartments, are great-grandparents. A son was born Oct. 2, in Coronado to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wray. The baby has been named Larry Jr. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wray, Oakland. Mrs. Wray is the former Zurline Stevenson.
