Autumn Colors Background For Large Wedding

TULELAKE—In a lovely setting of autumn colors in the Tulake Community Presbyterian Church, Polly Haynes, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haynes, became the bride, Saturday, Oct. 31, of Durrell Walden. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walden and both young people are from prominent Tulake families.

The double-ring ceremony was read at 4 p.m. by the Rev. Marvin Keyser in the presence of more than 200 relatives and friends of the young couple.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Edgar Osborne, Tulake, sang, "Perfect Love" and "The Wedding March" with Geraldine Johnson at the organ for the wedding march.

The altar was massed with arrangements of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, ferns and tapers lighted by John Staunton and Harvey Greenbank. Pews were tied with clusters of the same flowers with matching satin ribbons.

The lovely bride was escorted up the white carpeted aisle by her father.

Her frock of exquisite French lace over white nylon net and satin was made with a cascade of pleated ruffles from waist to the end of the court train. The long-sleeved, light bodice was enhanced with a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Her fingerin illusion veil fell from a tiara of pearls and she carried a cluster of tiny orchids and stephanotis on a white Rainbow Bible. For something old she wore her great-grandmother Mason's pantaloons.

Mrs. Erwin R. Howe, Tulake, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a bronze tulle frock with bouffant skirt, matching satin slippers, a frill of matching net in her hair and carried an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, Ellen Norris, Toppenish, Wash., cousin of the bride, and Joyce Larson, Tulake, wore identical frocks of chartreuse tulle, with matching slippers, halos of net and each carried bronze chrysanthemums.

The little flower girl, Kathy Howe and the ring bearer, Barbara Howe, nieces of the bride, wore copper tulle frocks. Kathy carried posies in a ribbon decked basket and Barbara the two rings on a red velvet cushion encircled with chrysanthemums in the autumn shades.

Wesley Craig, Tionesta, was best man, ushers were Larry Haynes and Floyd Walden.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Haynes chose rose lace over tulle, black accessories and pink rose buds at the shoulder.

Mrs. Walden wore orchid lace, grape accessories and a cluster of yellow baby chrysanthemums as a corsage.

The young couple received immediately following the ceremony in the church annex where they cut the first piece of their pretty, three-tiered white cake encircled with yellow roses. The lovely lace covered table was arranged by Mrs. Marvin Thomas, close friend of the family.

The confection was served by Mrs. Delpha Haynes, Tulake, aunt of the bride, assisted by Mrs. Ronald Ward.

Pouring at the coffee urn were Mrs. W. F. Jinette, Merrill, Mrs. Helen Patton, Bonanza, Mrs. G. W. Osborne, Tulake, and Mrs. Ralph Mason, Toppenish.

At the punch bowl were Mrs.

George Morris and Mrs. Gene Morris, Toppenish, aunts of the bride.

The gift table was arranged by Mrs. H. T. Street and assisting with the gifts were Lucille Ward and Mrs. Bill Stonecypher. Mrs. Bill Haynes and Mrs. Gilbert Osborne were at the guest book.

For traveling, Mrs. Walden wore a brown dressmaker suit with matching accessories and the orchids from her Bible at the shoulder.

Following a wedding trip south the young couple will be at home at Newell.

Mrs. Walden attended Oregon State College where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega.

The bridegroom served during the war in Korea.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. a son, Toppenish, maternal grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morris, Ellen and Carl, Granger, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Payne, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Little, California.

ANW CLUB

The Art and Needle Work Club met Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the home of Elizabeth Ramsey, 521 N. 5th. The following members were present: Golden Brown, Nellie Wat- burg, Rozelle Kuykendall, Jessie Powell, Cora Wirtz, Jennie Hurn, Mae Anderson, Bess Hunt, Nish Underwood, Ella McMillan, Lynna Martin and the hostess.

As usual, needlework and much conversation was the afternoon's diversion. Conversation comes easily to this group of women with a huge stockpile of memories accumulated in the 47 years intervening since the club's first meeting date.

Refreshments were served late in the afternoon to the members and special guests, Nina Bubb, Maud Hosley and Kathryn Hogue. The club was invited to meet with Nellie Wattenburg, 219 Pine Street, Nov. 18.

SOROPTIMIST

Soroptimist Club members meeting Thursday for luncheon in the Winema Hotel saw colored motion pictures, shown by Walter McIntyre, manager of the World-Wide Travel Bureau taken on a trip to Hawaii and return on the Lurline.

It was announced that a board meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 9 at the home of Alice Lamm.

Mrs. Emma Monroe, Los Angeles, mother of Mrs. Seth Kerron, guest here for an indefinite time at the home of her daughter, was introduced.

Ellen Clark was program chair- man.

DELPHIANS

DINNER PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

A forecast of things to come, as far as menus are concerned, was a prenuptial party honoring Helen Lacey, bride-elect of John Bryngel- son. Mrs. George Elliott was hos- tess to a group of five at Little Sweden Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, where Helen was "introduced" to smorgasbord—complete with pic- niced herring and svenska limp.

Following dinner, the party gathered at the Elliott home in the Henley district where Miss Lacey showed movie films, some taken on her recent trip to Mexico, others taken through the years of the five year old Elliott twins, John and Charles, with impromptu nar- ration by the boys.

Guests included Lois Lea Kan- dra, Luella Murphy, Eileen Noon- an, Pat O'Connor and the honoree.

Helen will be married this Sun- day at St. Augustine's church, Mer- rill. Following the ceremony the couple will leave on their honey- moon to Minnesota, where they will visit at the home of his parents. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lacey, Mer- rill.

Hawaiian Island Theme At CDA Card Party

"The white sands of Waikiki Beach . . . Diamond Head in the distance . . . the blue Pacific stretching for miles . . . An Aloha tower greets you as you sail into the port of Honolulu . . . strains of 'Aloha Oe' and guitars . . . let makers on the docks . . . realized by some, dreamed of by many."

For those who find that reality is not for them; there's a reason- able facsimile Thursday, Nov. 12, at 8 p.m., in the Sacred Heart parish hall.

The occasion: Annual Catholic

Daughters' card party, co-chair- manned this year by Mildred Smith, Zita Kennedy and Martha Lavenik.

The Hawaiian theme will be carried out in the decorations, tal- lies, napkins and refreshments. Pat Coulson, chairman of decorations, will add much to the event from her recent summer spent in Hawaii where she attended the uni- versity. Several articles brought back from her trip will be on dis- play.

The calling committee includes Marcia Boetcher, Cecilia Hedlund, Bertha Moss, Kathryn Lorenz, Sara Eriel, Bertha Bishop, Julia Barry, James Moty, Marie O'Con- nor, Marcela Murray, Rose Isl, Ethel Brunner, Nova Sullivan, Ma- bel Brochtrup, and Barbara Con- lin.

The type may be small, but the values you'll find in Miller's Fashion Salon are tremendous. Coats of all descriptions, outstanding values in suits, lovely style formal, and exquisite collection of dresses is the reason why so many smart women shop Miller's Fashion Salon. Won't you?
