

Forest Fires Hit Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Forest fires crackled and roared through thousands of acres of arid woodlands in five southeastern states early Friday, and claimed one life in Kentucky.

Fire fighters, exhausted from several days of battling flames in drought-stricken areas, were gaining reinforcements from volunteers and state personnel in Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Three-year-old Prentiss Little of Pike County, Ky., was killed when a burning tree stump broke loose from a hillside, rolled down and struck him as he played in his yard.

More than 7,000 acres of forest land were aflame in 39 counties in Kentucky. About 30 of the fires were several days old and covered 6,000 acres. Twenty-three new fires are through another 1,000 acres.

Hunting seasons were closed in 26 north Alabama counties in an effort to reduce the hazard. But 32 fires still blazed early Friday after 17 were put out Thursday in Jefferson County alone.

THE UF-RC ROCKET SHIP is nearing its goal of $109,563. Friday noon's report meeting brought it to the $103,912 mark, leaving $5,651 to be collected with several rural areas still to be heard from.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held to a steady course Friday with many major divisions higher.

Movies and steels made the best showing, and there were many individual spots of strength. No unusual weakness developed.

Prices usually showed changes going to between 1 and 2 points higher to fractions lower. The bulk of the changes were small.

Heavy trading in a few areas put the total up to an estimated 1,500,000 shares. That compares with 1,390,000 shares traded Thursday.

Nevada Senator Hits Reciprocity

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Sen. George Malone (R-Nev.), here for an inquiry on the state of America's domestic uranium production, told reporters Thursday that "this free trade idea—which is called reciprocal trade—is killing off our lead-zinc mining."

"It doesn't make sense to shut down our own mines through so-called reciprocal trade when self-sufficiency is our goal," he added.

Malone stressed that he did not favor shutting off all purchases of foreign strategic metals. "But if war should come," said the Nevada, "and foreign sources are denied us through submarine warfare, we just have to be in a position to fulfill our needs in the Western Hemisphere."

Malone has a U.S. senate subcommittee which opened a two-day hearing into the status of the nation's uranium production.

The senator said that uranium ore reserves in the United States and Canada "quite likely" are extensive enough to "make us self-sufficient in production of uranium ore in event of another war."

Turnip Green Survey Finds Most Like 'Em

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The Army has conducted a long survey to find out what the Korean people like to eat. The result: Turnip greens.

One man reported "Suh, ah love them."

The noble survey was made by Maj. R. C. Benson of Little Falls, Minn., to find out what the Army could do to relieve the monotony of meals.

Benson, staff food adviser for the Korean Base Section, served turnip greens to the officers and men of one headquarters group this selected group were Southerners, with whom that fare is traditional.

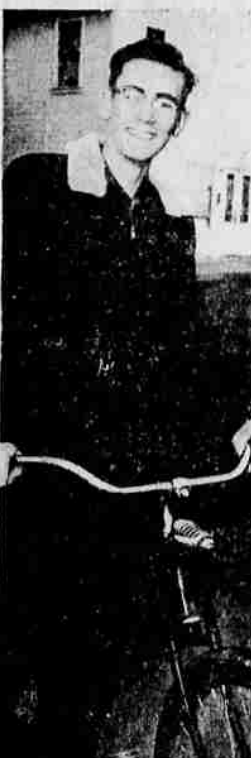

Each man was handed a note: "From an objective point of view it is requested that you indicate your relative preference for the turnip greens served you during this meal."

Seventy per cent said they liked them. Twenty per cent didn't care either way. The rest didn't like the idea.

Sample comments: "Did they come from Springdale, Ark? ... Would have been nice to have corn bread with them."

"Loved them, suh!"

Benson's conclusion: "It isn't true that only Southerners eat turnip greens. ... I like them too."

Greased Pig Set Loose in Girls' Dormitory

CHICAGO (AP) — A squealing pig, with greased hooves, got into a girl's dormitory—a long way from the stock yards—Thursday night and was greeted by screaming college girls.

Policeman Alvin Peterson and Edward Adams were sent to capture the 50-pound porker after a call from the North Park College girls' dormitory on the north side.

The co-ed screamed encouragement to the policemen as they chased the elusive pig around the dormitory. They finally captured it at the end of a corridor.

They carried it to a squad car between rows of grinning residents of the boys' dormitory. The boys said they didn't know how the pig got into the girls' dormitory.

Neither did Dean John Erickson. But he added, "After all, there are 140 young men in the boys' dormitory."

Tulelake Parents Receive Brochure

TULELAKE—A beautifully illustrated brochure, apparently of the same type sent to the Greensboro, N.C., parents of a returned service man from the Korean War, has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martin, Tulelake.

The booklet mailed from London to the parents of Johnny Martin, long-time prisoner of the Communists was turned over to federal authorities.

Pictures in the booklet were of smiling Americans, eating good food in comfortable surroundings with accompanying captions, telling of the excellent treatment U.N. prisoners received during confinement.

In one picture, the printers had forgotten to rub out lighted candles in the background of an illustration showing a well-lighted room.

Truman Shakes Hands With Chimpanzee

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Truman jaywalked at one point during his early morning stroll Friday.

"I know this is against the law," he commented as he crossed the street in the middle of the block to join in a sidewalk crowd watching Dave Garroway's NBC-TV show.

As Truman watched the show through the windows, the chimpanzee, J. Fred Muggs, was brought to the window and the former President smiled.

"I'd better get along. I don't want to spoil the show," Truman said and started away.

The chimpanzee was brought outdoors and Truman paused to grasp its paw. As the walkers moved away a reporter asked the former President whether he thought "the Republicans are making monkeys out of the people of the United States."

"I'll let you draw your own conclusions," Truman said with a smile. "I hope you are a Democrat."

Seattle Has Gagged Blond

SEATTLE (AP) — The body of an attractive blonde waitress, nude and with a nylon stocking knotted tightly at the throat, was found early Friday in her home in Seattle's Capitol Hill District.

The King County coroner's office said the victim, identified as Opal Montgomery, 31, had been dead 8 or 10 hours when found by a neighbor.

There were signs of a struggle, a deputy said, and a paring knife "evidently placed there after death" was found in her right hand.

Police began a search for an "unknown man" they said was with her when she was last seen.

The body was found by a neighbor, Thomas Pappas, who called at the home about 1:15 a.m. Pappas said he was worried because he had not seen his neighbor for a "day or two."

Police said Miss Montgomery was last seen Wednesday night when she left the home of friends with an "unknown man."

Miss Montgomery had been employed here as a waitress in a cocktail lounge.

Juniper Group To Talk Insects

The Juniper group of the Evergreen Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Joe Schuh, 4039 Shasta Way, at 1 p.m. Monday, Nov. 16. Meetings of this garden group are usually held at Joan's Kitchen but it is not available Monday.

Garden insects will be the topic of discussion, led by Joe Schuh, local entomologist.

This group was formed in September as a branch of the Evergreen Garden Club to provide afternoon meetings for those interested in gardening who did not find it convenient to meet evenings. Membership has reached a total of nearly 20 persons.
