

DAUGHTERS OF THE NILE CLUB ZULEIMA TEMPLE 13

Klamath Falls Nile Club Hostess to Zuleima Temple

The Klamath Falls Nile Club was hostess Nov. 7, to Zuleima Temple No. 13, Daughters of the Nile, for the fall ceremonial, conducted by Queen Wilda Tardy of Grants Pass. Since the Temple territory covers Southern Oregon, north to Eugene, candidates were from the southern, central, and eastern parts of the state.

Madeline McLaren, chairman of the Temple hostesses, assisted by Ruth O'Hara and Kathleen Ward of the local club, was in charge of the 60 initiates, of whom about 30 were from the Klamath area. Other Temple hostesses present were: Edith Nyland, Grants Pass; Nora Moorhouse, Eugene; Goldie Gunn, Cottage Grove; and Layne Buzion, Lakeview.

One outstanding feature of the entertainment was the chorus, directed by Juanita Butler and composed of Grants Pass women. They sang during the ceremonial and the social hour. The dancers were a group from Eugene directed by Evelyn Lichty. They gave the same dance and skit presented at the Supreme Session of the Nile in San Francisco last June. The

AT THE FALL CEREMONIAL . . . Nov. 7, when the Klamath Falls Nile Club was hostess to Zuleima Temple No. 13, Daughters of the Nile. The ceremonial was conducted by Queen Wilda Tardy of Grants Pass. Highlights of the entertainment included the chorus composed of Grants Pass women, and directed by Juanita Butler; and a group of dancers from Eugene, under the direction of Evelyn Lichty.

Club, Klamath Falls, is pouring; next to her, Queen Wilda Tardy; and at the right, Junior Past Queen Marchial Stansbury, from Ashland.

The temple was lavishly decorated for the occasion; oriental hangings, rugs and baskets of yellow chrysanthemums were used; and the Queen brought beautiful flowers from her own garden to augment the other floral arrangements. A latticework background covered with green leaves and pyracantha enhanced the setting for the coffee table.

Sojourners

The regular meeting of Sojourners Club was Wednesday Nov. 11. A very enjoyable afternoon of cards was enjoyed by members and guests.

A number of members and guests met for a no-hostess luncheon at the Willard hotel, after which a short business meeting was conducted by president, Mrs. H. L. Robertson. The meeting was then turned over to the hostesses, Mrs. P. O. O'Connell and Mrs. Del Jones.

Cards played were bridge, pinocle and canasta. Prizes for high scores were awarded Mrs. Ormarr Gildow for bridge, Mrs. Ben Gibson for pinocle and Mrs. H. M. Creasey for canasta.

Guests included, Georgia M. Jeffries, Sylvia Woods and Lula Goodrich. The next function is the Fall Dinner Dance tonight in the Pine Grove Room of the Willard Hotel.

Next regular meeting will be Nov. 25 at the Willard Hotel with no-hostess luncheon.

All members and newcomers are urged to attend.
