Jim Creek Radio Station Puts Navy In Touch With Forces All Over World

JIM CREEK VALLEY, Wash. (AP) — The Navy can now pass the word all the world.

Into the new naval wireless transmitter, most powerful in existence, poured a growing file of messages today to prove the globe-trotting claims made for station K "Radio Jim Creek."

North Route Service Set

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Scandinavian Airlines System is preparing to start regular passenger service from Europe to North America via the North Pole next summer, the newspaper Aftenposten said Thursday.

The paper said SAS representatives have been conferring with American authorities to clear up formalities, including a decision to extend the projected route south to Los Angeles. It was doubtful the airline would be permitted to land at Los Angeles "even though the city is working actively to get the service."

Los Angeles traffic rights are obtained, it was said, the U.S. must would be Seattle.

The paper added that the Thule base on Greenland will probably be dropped as a stopover for trans-polar flights in favor of the West 8 on the west coast of the Danish-owned island.

Denmark has leased Thule to the United States for a military air base, and regular passenger service would interfere with U.S. Air Force interests, the paper said.

AS, a postwar merger of the Danish Airlines of Denmark, Norway and Sweden, already has carried out two successful trial runs of the planned polar route.

Fraud Backer To Land Own Loss

PORTLAND (AP) — Henry B. For, The Dalles, who financed fraudulent Indian land transactions, cannot expect the government to help him get his money back, a federal court decision said today.

Henry Hess, federal district attorney, said this decision from the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco reversed District Judge Solomon's ruling that the Indian land should be resold and the $500 purchase price restored to For.

The government has no interest in what happened to the money For used to finance the deal, appeals court decision said. For used an intermediary in deal to acquire valuable timberland near Gold Beach for a portion of its actual worth. Taylor and associates were convicted of fraud.
