Auto Production Gaining, Steel Output Still Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Auto production began to snap back this week from its recent changeover and inventory doldrums. With less than a month to go till New Year's, the big three of the industry flexed their muscles for the competitive free-for-all they expect in 1954.

In business circles generally, the dominant attitude on '54 prospects was one of cautious optimism.

While forecasters generally were hesitant about prognasticating beyond the middle of the year, most agreed that business activity in the first half would be close to record levels.

For the week just concluded, the most important indicators showed divergent trends.

Steel production was scheduled at 86.8 per cent of capacity. That's the same as the actual operating rate the week before when output fell to its lowest level since August, 1952.

There were gains, however, in heavy construction contract awards, check clearings and retail trade. With shoppers cashing Christmas club checks and drawing on savings accounts, volume of money in circulation soared to an all-time high.

For merchants, the period immediately ahead is the big payoff. One fourth of their annual business is done in the Christmas shopping season.

The week saw a sharp rebound in auto production as Chevrolet and Pontiac started pushing out 1954 models.

It was clear that the stage was being set for a ding-dong battle between Chevrolet and Ford in the 1954 production race. Ford, which has budgeted 600 million dollars for plant improvement and expansion, served notice it hopes to dislodge Chrevrolet from the number one spot next year. Said Ford vice president Ernest R. Breech:

"We believe there is no such thing as overproduction."

School Sheet Editors Quit

ATHENS, Ga., (AP)—Two more editors of the Red and Black, University of Georgia student newspaper which has been torn by a segregation row, have resigned.

Priscilla Arnold of Marietta, acting editor, and Gene Britton of Moultrie, acting managing editor, in Thursday's edition blasted the university for setting up an editorial control board. Then both resigned yesterday.

The controversy started over an editorial against segregation in education. Roy Harris of the Board of Regents discussed the editorial with the publication's editors, and the students claimed he had threatened action to cut off the paper's appropriation. Harris denied this, but later called the editors "squirts."

Editor Walter Lundy Jr., and managing editor Bill Shipp resigned Wednesday protesting what they called "a board of control that would throttle our editorial rights." Miss Arnold and Britton were appointed to replace them.

The university announced that a board had been set up to supervise editorial opinion expressed in the publication.

With the latest resignations, only three persons remained on the weekly paper's official staff today.

Motorist Saves Boy From Death

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A passing motorist last night rescued a 10-year-old boy he saw hanging by his neck from a second story window.

The unidentified motorist cut the rope with which young Merlin Lee Haines accidentally hanged himself, police said. The lad apparently was playing with the rope and fell out the window.

Doctors said he suffered only slight neck injuries.

Cops Do Nicely Out Of Action

DALLAS (AP) — When the police car of patrolmen Eugene Lipe and F. M. Rose had a flat last night headquarters marked them "out-of-service."

Before the flat was fixed the officers saw a thief run from a grocery, borrowed the grocer's car, caught the loot-laden thief two blocks away and put him in jail.

Methodist Church To Receive Flags

Christian and American flags will be presented to the First Methodist Church during the Sunday morning service of worship Dec. 6. Harry S. Wood, oldest living member of the church, will present the flags in memory of his wife, Mrs. Mina Wood.

The Rev. Lloyd Holloway will preach on "Highways to Christmas." The theme for discussion at the fellowship hour at 7:30 p.m. will be "Great Doctrines of the Church."

SURE SHOT

DALLAS (AP) — Deputies reported a skunk in her yard and it so unnerved a woman yesterday she fired at it 20 times with a revolver. Six bullets hit the skunk, wounding it. A deputy killed it with one shot.

Izaac Walton League Meets

EUGENE (AP) — The 31st annual convention of the Oregon Izaac Walton League opened here Friday with a panel discussion on water management in the state.

Taking part were Charles Stanton, editor of the Roseburg News-Review; Kenneth G. Denman, chairman of the State Game Commission; George Spaur, state forester; E. T. Pierce, secretary of the State Land Board; and George H. Schroeder, assistant chief forester of the Crown Zellerbach Corp.

Stanton told the 85 delegates from 25 Oregon clubs that state forestry laws should be changed to permit better water management.

Many people have wished they had insurance after the fire. Don't be one. Hans Norland Insurance, 627 Pine St. Phone 2-2515.

Memorial Shaft, Vet's Park Discussions Aimed At Future Plans For City

Two vital topics under discussion in many local circles now are the new Veterans Memorial Shaft proposed for the courthouse lawn and development of Veterans Memorial Park, located on the shore of Lake Ewauna.

Two projects, both to be dedicated to the same thing — the memory of Klamath's war dead, but dedicated on separate sites. Not a Veterans Memorial Shaft in a Veterans Memorial Park; instead a Veterans Memorial Shaft on the courthouse lawn with Veterans Memorial Park farther down the street.

It is interesting to note, while delving into the history of Klamath County, that there is a concrete bond between the courthouse site and the park site.

In 1873 George Nurse obtained from the State of Oregon a townsite, located on the banks of Lake Ewauna, and started the town of Linkville. The same man donated to Klamath County the site for the courthouse, between 3rd and 4th on Main.

In 1953, the once existing bond—if it may be called that — between courthouse and townsite is forgotten. The trend is toward efficiency and unity, and one of the problems to be overcome in Klamath Falls is that of moving traffic; hence the proposed West Side bypass.

It is argued by those who favor erecting the shaft in the park that efficiency in moving traffic will be difficult while conducting memorial services at the courthouse for Klamath's war dead; crowds will gather on the sidewalk, and finally move out into the street. Temporary platforms for services will have to be erected someplace between the maze of trees and newsstand that already partially obliterate the view of the present temporary shaft on the courthouse lawn.

About three blocks down the street from the proposed shaft site are some four and a half acres destined to be one of the outstanding improvement centers in Klamath Falls—Veterans Memorial Park. Klamath citizens voted a 2-mill levy for five years in the November, 1944, election. Purchase price of the property was $72,675.63.

When the park is completed, it should prove a beautiful invitation to northbound travelers to visit the city a little longer, and a pleasing mental picture for those leaving Klamath Falls for southern points of a city they would like to visit again.

Veterans Memorial shaft, to be constructed of stone from a quarry at Montague with a base of Arizona sandstone, would be a natural accompaniment to the park. When the time for dedication comes, it seems only consistent that the park and the shaft will be on a common site.

Grand Champ To Go On Display

CHICAGO (AP) — Lone Star, the grand champion 1,005-pound steer of the International Livestock Exposition, will go on display in a special suite (stall) at the Congress Hotel tomorrow.

Lone Star, sold to the hotel for a record price of $20 per pound, will get a red-carpet welcome after a parade from the stock yards. The prize Hereford, which was raised by Sue White, 18, of Big Spring, Tex., will be at the hotel for four days. His special suite off the hotel lobby includes a stall-bedroom and living room combination.

ON MARKET

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The Chilean Senate voted Thursday night to place the nation's mounting copper stocks on the world market—but with Iron Curtain buyers barred.

Atrocities Probe Action Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said today he will seek early Senate action on a request or a full-dress United Nations investigation of Communist atrocities in Korea.

Potter concluded a three-day Senate probe of Red atrocities last night with an announcement that he could not "conceal my great disappointment in the resolution of censure and the expression of 'grave concern' passed by the United Nations by a vote of 42 to 5."

He referred to the U. N. General Assembly resolution adopted Thursday. U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. pushed through the resolution over opposition of the Soviet bloc.

Potter said he will offer in the Senate, when it meets next month, a resolution to ask the U. N. to "appoint an impartial investigating commission in its next session to bring the Communists found responsible for these inhuman crimes to the bar of justice."

Potter, a member of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, began the hearings here after Lodge asked U. N. action on the atrocity resolution. Potter said his new proposal is intended to bolster Lodge's position.

More than a score of survivors of Communist atrocities in Korea testified under oath during the public hearings.

This was done, Potter said so the "American people and all the peoples of the free world may fully understand the true character of this Communist enemy."

After World War II, Potter said, "Nazi and Japanese war criminals were tried and convicted for atrocities far less bestial than those committed by the Communists in Korea."

Potter said the sworn testimony shows Korean atrocities as "a distinct and calculated pattern of physical and mental tortures perpetrated to indoctrinate, to humiliate, and to exterminate American and Allied war prisoners."

One of the final witnesses, Col. James M. Hanley, said Gen. Douglas MacArthur ordered documentary evidence gathered on war crimes in Korea shortly after the Communist invasion began in mid-1950.

As a result, Hanley said, we have evidence, affidavits, eyewitness accounts and photographs of the bodies."

Hanley was chief of the Korean War Crimes Section from October 1950 until May, 1952.

Ethel Merman High In Her Praise of Mile High City

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's a long way from the bright lights of Broadway and Hollywood to the crisp air of mile-higher Denver. But Ethel Merman has made the transition and she's never been happier.

The veteran musical star is a proud resident of the Colorado capital since her marriage to Bob Six, airlines boss, whose headquarters are there. No chamber of commerce ever had a louder voice to sing praises.

"I love Denver," she said emphatically. "I don't think I've ever been happier in my life. The air is simply wonderful; it's the mile-high city, you know. I was in New York last week, and oh, it was terrible. The smaze or smog or whatever you call it. You can hardly breathe.

"Yes, I miss the theater a little, but happiness is more important. My kids, Ethel, who is 11 and Bobby, who is 8, love Denver. They're going to public schools now, instead of the private schools they went to in New York. Ethel likes that much better, because she's in school with boys now."

Like Bette Davis and Gary Merrill, who have moved to Portland, Maine, Miss Merman said she will commute to the entertainment capitals.

"I'll do some TV in New York or Hollywood and come here for a picture now and then," she explained, "I'll spend the rest of the time with my family in Denver."

What about doing a Broadway show?

"Never again," she replied. "It may be a blow to Broadway, but she starred in an amazing succession of hits. But she added, my body is indispensable."

Some of her old stage pals find it hard to believe this. Some years ago, producer Leland Hayward asked her to read a book about "the last resorts" as a possible stage possibility. Irving Berlin wanted to do the score and Lindsay Crouse the book, the same team who turned out "Call Me Madam." Berlin even pitched a couple of the songs at her when she visited New York.

But Miss Merman turned the deal down with a smile. "My family is more important," she explained.

The lusty songstress is to renew an old acquaintance with Jimmy Durante. She'll appear on his TV show tomorrow night, and he'll return the favor on one of the two hour-long shows she will do here after the first of the year.

WRECKED

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — A highly qualified French military source says recent French-Vietnamese successes have wrecked the Communist-led Vietminh timetable for winter offensives in Indochina. And that, he added, is why Red chief Ho Chi Minh says he is ready to talk peace.
