

Flying Santa to Make Both Coasts With Xmas Cheer

BOSTON (AP) — The "Flying Santa Claus" is at it again, a little early this year because he's going to drop Christmas gift packages at lighthouses on both U. S. coasts.

Edward R. Snow of Marshfield took off Friday morning for his 17th annual trip along the Atlantic Coast with Christmas gift packages for lighthouse keepers.

He expects to complete his East Coast tour next Thursday with a "drop" at Sandy Hook Light in New York. Then he flies direct to the Pacific Coast by airliner to board another chartered plane for visits to lighthouses along the West Coast.

The Pacific Coast trip is some-

Winning This Suit Was Expensive

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A 23-year-old blonde won a damage suit against a neighbor yesterday but the verdict cost her more than it did the defendant.

Miss Jimmie Yopp filed a $15,000 assault and slander suit against Fred A. Burnmeister, 65, after a back yard squabble.

The jury returned its verdict: $150 damages.

Court costs were $25. The law provides that where judgments are less than $5 the defendant need only pay the amount of the judgment toward court costs. The plaintiff—Miss Yopp in this case—must pay the rest—$23.50.

thing new, but Snow said it wouldn't be repeated. In fact, he's planning to give up the "Flying Santa" role in another year or two.

He says he's finding charter fees and the cost of the gift packages more and more expensive every year "and we think it's time we began to save a little money."

The "we" is Snow along with his wife and their two year old daughter, Dorothy, who is making the trip with them. All three wear "Santa" suits in the traditional red with white trim.

The gift packages come in three sizes, a 7 pound "stage" package containing cigars, cigarettes, razor blades, and pen and pencil sets; a larger family package for lighthouse keepers whose families are with them; and a "super" family package for those with large families.

The family packages contain dolls and toys for the children along with the other gifts.

And in every package goes a copy of Snow's latest book, this one a collection of stories about pirates and the gold they buried.

CHARGES

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's vice premier charged British forces Friday with firing incendiary rockets on a Suez Canal Zone village, setting several houses afire. He reported no casualties.

In a statement Lt. Col. Gamal Adel Nasser said British armored cars fired 15 rockets on the village of Khawaira last Tuesday. The British version of the incident was not available.

13 Die In Plane Crash

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Thirteen persons, including one American and India's leading anti-Communist labor leader, died today in the flaming crash of an Indian airliner near Nagpur.

A spokesman for the government owned Indian Airlines identified the American victim as E. L. M. G. Deiry. No home address was given.

The labor leader was Harihar Nath Shastri, vice president of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions and general secretary of the Indian National Trade Union Congress.

The airline spokesman said the plane, flying a night run from New Delhi to Madras, caught fire shortly after taking off.

O & C Land Cost Figure Shows Gain

WASHINGTON (AP) — It cost nearly eight million dollars to run O & C forest lands in Western Oregon the past 15 years, but they returned nearly seven times as much money, Secretary of Interior McKay said Thursday.

He said timber sales brought in 53 1/2 million dollars, of which $28,600,000 went to the 18 Oregon counties where the timber is located.

The lands are under jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management. There are 2 1/2 million acres, once given to the Oregon and California Railroad, but later retained by the government because the railroad violated its agreement with the government.

McKay said in a prepared statement that the government has spent only 14 1/2 per cent of O & C revenues on administration, although the law permits 25 per cent to be used for management purposes.

Edward Woolley, BLM director, said he expected sales to increase from the record $11 million board feet sold in the year that ended June 30. Those sales brought in $12,229,388, of which $1,819,342 went to the U. S. Treasury.

Oregon counties have been entitled to 75 per cent of the sale proceeds, but legislation in the past two years has required the counties to pay the cost of access-road construction.

Judges To Study Court Photographs

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Circuit Judges Assn. of Oregon have approved a proposal for a study, with newspaper publishers, of the possibility of drafting rules to cover the taking of photographs in court and press comment on trials in progress.

Both now are sharply limited. Most judges do not permit courtroom photographs and trial comment subjects newspapers to possible contempt action.

Chiloquin School Carnival Held "One of Best to Date"

CHILOQUIN — The recent Chiloquin school carnival was the most successful in history, according to Charles Hale, instructor, who was general chairman of the event. A profit of over $1,000 was banked for the benefit of the grade and high schools.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the queen, Joan Ling, senior, gowned in white, by the senior escort, James Weddle. A very close second in the contest was eighth grade princess, Gail Manning, attired in yellow, and escorted by Kenneth McCallister.

Other princesses and their escorts were Joy Gard in blue and Ted Eggman, juniors; Janice Leake in white and Jim Hoback, sophomores; Anna Barney, in white and Arlen David, freshmen; Louise Niehaus in a salmon colored formal and Earl Harris, seventh graders.

A new feature of the carnival was naming a lower grade princess, who acted as crown bearer for the queen. Chosen was Mary Margaret, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenster of Klamath Agency. The little first grader wore a floor length frock of pink with tiny lavender flowers. The contest in the lower grades was run on the basis of which room brought the most contributions for the country store or the fish pond, Mrs. Montgomery's room won.

Other princess contestants were Anita Johnson, first; Karen and Sharon Chase, second; Betty Hoag, third; Sally Ravitz, fourth; Elaine DiUlio, fifth; and Sandra. The entire faculty, student body, PTA home room mothers and many other parents cooperated to make the carnival a success.
