CHICAGO GRAIN

ICAGO (AP) — A little increase fferings of cash grain back in country was enough to send s down on the board of trade day.

ybeans dropped several cents he time on reports of country ng. Corn also weakened, trad- noting cash corn purchases on -arrive basis expanded to 50,- bushels. There were reports of e wheat being offered in parts Kansas and Nebraska.

his increase in selling of cash n by the country was not en- y unexpected as it had been the new year, with its lower rates, would produce an ex- ded movement of grains held during the last part of 1953.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Hog prices tumbled sharply Monday in response to heavy receipts, both at Chicago and other terminals.

Butchers lost 75 cents to $1.25 while sows were off 75 cents to $1.00. The event of 1954, with its lower income tax rates, brought a big enough increase in hog runs to indicate some hogs had been held back toward the end of the past year.

Salable receipts at Chicago totaled 18,000 head compared with 13,319 a week ago. Receipts at leading terminals totaled 139,100 head compared with 102,590 a week ago and 110,167 a year ago.

Choice 180 to 230 pound hogs brought $23.25 to $24.00 with a few loads and lots going at $24.15 to $24.25, the top.

A good demand developed in the cattle market with practically all types of steers and heifers selling steady to 50 cents higher. Cows, bulls and vealers also advanced with the last named offerings ahead as much as $1.00. Top on steers was $30.00.

Slaughter lambs and sheep sold steady in a moderately active trade. Good and choice wooled slaughter lambs sold at $18.50 to $20.00 with choice and prime types bringing $20.25 to $21.25.

Other salable receipts were estimated at 17,000 cattle, 500 calves, and 4,500 sheep.

Long was born in Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 6, 1882, and was one of three children.

Locai Woman Takes Life

Mrs. William J. Frasier, 56, took her own life about 7 o'clock this morning at the home of a relative in Mills Addition, according to Dr. George H. Adler, Klamath county coroner.

According to City Police, Mrs. Frasier had spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Linville, 2225 Radcliffe, and apparently had found a .38 Colt automatic revolver which was wrapped in paper and lying on a shelf in the closet of the bedroom. She used this to take her life.

Mrs. Frasier had been despondent over poor health for several months, relatives stated. She had been employed at Bell's Hardware, 528 Main, as a bookkeeper.

The body was taken to O'Hair's Memorial Chapel from where funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Tribe Slates Discussion

CHILOQUIN— Thursday evening Jan. 7, members of the Klamath Indian tribes are urged to attend an educational session at the Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be for the purpose of letting tribal members hear the pros and cons of business opportunities for the future under an Indian managed reservation.

Mrs. Andrew Ortis will be chairman for the Chiloquin meeting. Noble Sanderville presided at the Dec. 30 meeting at Beatty. The chairman for the third and last session, which will be held at the Klamath Agency council house Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, at 7:30 p.m. has not been announced.

The first meeting dealt chiefly with differences between "The Bill," roughly drafted in Washington, D.C., with assistance of superintendent E. J. Diehl and the rough draft of the Klamath Agricultural Association Bill, written chiefly by Wade Crawford, tribal delegate. This next meeting will feature a panel by Indian businessmen who have investigated forestry, cattle raising, irrigation and farming opportunities. Following short talks by each expert, the meeting will be open for questions and answers.

Mrs. Ortis reports panel members will be announced Tuesday.

Inter Agency Elections Set

The Inter-Agency Council will elect officers for the coming year following the luncheon meeting, Wednesday, Jan. 6 at the YMCA. There will also be a report on the success of the Goodwill Christmas program and an interesting program on "Employment of Youth" presentation of material by Julius Giuntoni.

The report on the distribution of goodwill gifts will be made by Isabel Brixner, president of the Inter-Agency Council and Margaret Shieridan.

Any interested organization may send a representative to the luncheon.

Reservations should be made with Faye Blackmer, phone 7716.

Polk County Clerk Wins Tax Honor

PORTLAND (AP) — Oregon Business and Tax Research Sunday named Edward B. Hamilton, Polk County clerk, as "taxpayers' man of the year."

He was cited for "turning back to the county $4,479 or nearly 25 per cent of his 1952-53 budget while adding efficiency features to his office operation."

F. H. Young, manager of the privately sponsored tax investigating organization, said a similar award will be made each year in the future.

Youth Given 5 Year Term

Charles Jack Bender, 18-year-old confessed house prowler, was sentenced to not more than five years in Oregon State Prison Monday by Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg.

Bender, who came here from California in October, admitted 11 house prowlings in Klamath Falls. Juvenile officers say they have a report that he admitted 52 burglaries in California and several other states.

After his arrest here, Bender eluded three officers who took him to the Tower Theater to point out two other suspected burglars. He stole three automobiles in quick succession and was finally recaptured in Reno. On the way to Nevada, he took time out to prowl a house in Chester, Calif.

Judge Vandenberg denied a plea by Defense Attorney Ben Goddard for probation.

"This boy has had every chance he deserves," the court stated. "It's a wonder he didn't get shot before this. He is a dangerous person to have running loose."

District Attorney Frank Alderson said under the circumstances, he could not recommend leniency in the case.

Keith Cobo will preside at the meeting and an invitation is extended to persons interested in this effort. This group is under the sponsorship of the tourist convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Charlie Mack.

Eisenhower Report On First Year In Office To Be Broadcast Tonight

By DONALD SANDERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gives the nation tonight a report on his first year in office and, perhaps, some broad outline of the program he will lay before Congress when it meets later this week.

But before that, the Chief Executive begins a busy week by meeting at the White House with members of his Cabinet and Republican leaders of Congress. He may give them a look at the latest draft of the State of the Union message embracing in general outline his recommendations to the 1954 Congress.

Tomorrow morning selected Democratic congressional leaders, and again some of the GOP counterparts, will be given a preview of those sections of the message dealing with foreign affairs, national defense and possibly other matters.

Congress will reconvene at noon Wednesday and the next day Eisenhower will deliver his State of the Union message to a joint session. It will be carried by all the radio and television networks.

Tonight's 15-minute speech from the White House at 9:30 p.m., EST, will have similar radio - TV coverage, except that CBS radio will rebroadcast at 11 p.m.

White House sources were mum as to the nature of tonight's talks, but indications were that it would be devoted largely to a review of the national administration since Eisenhower took office 11½ months ago.

The President returned to Washington last evening from Augusta, Ga., where he and Mrs. Eisenhower had been since Christmas Day. While there, the President played a little golf but spent most of his time working on recommendations to Congress.

Besides the State of the Union message, these include the federal budget, to be submitted about midmonth, and a message on the national economy, now on the subject of partisan debate, which may go to Capitol Hill late in January.

Also, it was announced at Augusta Saturday, there will be five separate message spelling out in detail proposals for (1) tax law revision, (2) changes in the Taft-Hartley labor relations act, (3) a new farm program, (4) expansion of social security and public health benefits and (5) a revised housing program.

With 48 Democrats to 47 Republicans 1 independent in the Senate, Eisenhower will need some Democratic votes to put over any controversial features of his program. Heightening the tension is the fact that this is an election year.

Already the agenda is studded with issues of great potential controversy: Hawaii statehood, the St. Lawrence seaway, a proposal to limit treaty-making powers, taxes, international trade and tariffs, Taft-Hartley revision, foreign military and economic aid, postal rates, proposals to make some wiretapping legal, the level of government spending, especially for defense.

In connection with appropriations, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said in an interview yesterday the administration aims to balance the budget by mid-1955, in part by making substantial cuts for defense spending. He gave no figures.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the President's immediate aim is to hold the Treasury deficit in the year which starts next July 1 to three billion dollars. The estimated red ink entry for the current year is $3,800,000,000.

The state of the nation's economy, which Eisenhower will treat in the last of his three major messages to Congress, showed signs of becoming the center of considerable discussion when Congress returns.

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) said on a Du Mont TV discussion that the new session faces bitter debate and the problems of a "dawning depression." Kerr said, "I think the recession is on," and he added that by the middle of January he anticipates that "even the administration will admit there are two million unemployed." The latest official estimate was 1,40,000.

On the other hand, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said in an interview that the nation will move closer to a peacetime economy in 1954 with only a slight drop in production. Knowland, the Senate GOP leader, said he looks for less than a 5 per cent decline in total production from 1953, and he continued:

"I don't think you can find any economic depression in that sort of a situation."
