Meat Inspection Action Urged
 CORVALLIS (AP) - A livestock and meat marketing conference at Oregon State College Thursday urged compulsory meat inspection in Oregon.
 Inspection should be made both before and after slaughtering, the group said.
 The two-day conference was attended by more than 300 persons, including consumers, labor, wholesalers, marketing agencies and producers.

THE RAKISH sports car styling of Buick's two-door Super Riviera sedan makes it a sure-fire beauty winner for 1954. Modelled after Buick's famed Skylark sports car, it features the new panoramic windshield, a cut-down door belt line, full rear wheel cut-out and a refined sweep-spear molding. The Super Riviera is mounted on a 127-inch wheelbase and is powered by a 182-horsepower V-8 engine when equipped with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow. Wire wheels are optional. The new Buicks are now on display at H. E. Hauger's, local Buick dealer, 1330 Main.

Experts Seek Slide Answer

ASTORIA (AP) - Why should a hillside begin slipping after decades in which houses stood on the slopes without damage?
 That is what happened in Astoria, the latest slide causing 23 families to abandon their homes, some of which stood there more than 40 years.
 No one has a certain answer, but all agree that water, in the form of heavy rains, triggers the slides.
 Experts say Astoria's hills have a top layer of dirt running from 10 to 30 feet deep. Under this is shale, slippery as grease when enough water gets down to it.
 In Astoria's slides the whole top layer moves downhill, carrying and twisting houses, trees, pavement and water pipes.
 Some blame logging on higher hills. They argue that this increased the water run-off onto the residential hills, penetrating in recent years to the slippery shale.
 Others note that the first serious slide, nearly two miles from the present one, came in the winter of 1949-50, following the Northwest's big earthquake of 1949. They feel the quake disturbed the soil enough to cause slides when rains are heavy.

Debt Limit Boost Faces Tough Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) - A check of the Senate Finance Committee Friday made clear President Eisenhower and his lieutenants have a big selling job to do on one of their legislative proposals - a raise in the national debt limit.
 The President and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey must win over four votes, on the basis of the committee's lineup last summer, to get the bill out on the Senate floor.
 At the moment, the four votes are not in sight, although there are some good prospects among the 11 members who voted to shelve the measure at the end of the 1953 session. Four favored it then.
 Eisenhower told Congress Thursday that progress is being made in balancing the budget but that a deficit still is in prospect for the next year. He renewed his plea for an increase in the present $75 billion dollar debt ceiling.
 He did not give a figure, but apparently meant the $15 billion dollar boost which was rammed through the House last summer but then stalled in the Senate Finance Committee.
 The lawmakers did not applaud this request.
 The national debt now stands about half a billion dollars below the ceiling.
 Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the finance committee said he would call the group together, possibly next week, to consider the debt limit question.
 Millikin said in an interview he had not polled his committee and would make no prediction.
 However, a survey of the 11 who voted in August to table the bill indicated that only two were willing to go along with an increase now.

Milk Law Action Filed

SALEM (AP) - An initiative petition to repeal Oregon's 20-year-old milk control law was filed here Thursday by Elmer Deetz, Canby dairy farmer.
 Deetz is the man who recently was convicted of selling milk without a license as required by the fluid milk act. That act is not involved in the initiative.
 Deetz, who also has filed a court suit attacking the milk control law, needs 37,404 signatures of registered voters by July 1 to put the initiative on the ballot next November.
 The milk control law permits establishment of quotas for dairy producers and the fixing of minimum prices.
 It is the center of hot controversies at every Legislature.

Mud Derails Fast Train

WHITE ROCK, B.C. (AP) - A speeding Great Northern Railway passenger train was bowled off the tracks by a giant mud slide near here Thursday but the more than 90 passengers aboard escaped with a shaking.
 The diesel streamliner was northbound from Seattle to Vancouver when it was hit broadsides by the roaring slide, which carried uprooted trees before it as it cut a swath down a steep embankment.
 A baggage car came to rest on its side on a beach at the edge of Georgia Strait.
 The mishap occurred two miles north of this border resort town, 30 miles south of Vancouver.
 The engineer, Leo Clark of Seattle, said there was no advance warning of the slide.
 "About two miles out of the station there was a thud. I looked in my mirror and saw a baggage car bounding in the air."
 "We were bounced around and then pushed right off the track. The passenger car was hanging over the edge of the bank and people were screaming. But it wasn't too bad."
 Minutes later another slide thundered across the tracks about a mile further along the tracks.
 The passengers were rerouted to Vancouver by bus.
 Company officials said they hoped to have both slides cleared away and the line open for traffic Friday. A heavy-duty crane would be used to hoist the cars back on to the tracks, they said.

Rocky Reach Dam Urged By Horan

WASHINGTON (AP) - Authorization for construction of Rocky Reach Dam on the Columbia River by the Chelan County (Wash.) Public Utility District was urged Friday by Rep. Horan (R-Wash.).
 He said the proposal also has been submitted to the Bureau of Reclamation with the new federal-local partnership policy in developing the nation's natural resources as stressed in the President's State of the Union message Thursday.
 Secretary of the Interior McKay, Horan said, "already has indicated a very real interest and has placed

CIO Claims Figures Lie

WASHINGTON (AP) - The CIO said Friday the unemployment picture is far worse than the 1,850,000 jobs figure reported officially by the Commerce Department.
 A statement by CIO Vice President Emil Rieve, chairman of the labor union organization's economic policy committee, said the official data fails to disclose an additional 1,400,000 out of work.
 Under Rieve's method of calculation the total of those willing to work but without jobs would be closer to 3,250,000.
 The CIO leader said the Commerce labor force and unemployment figures for December, announced a few days ago, showed joblessness rose nearly 700,000 in two months, including 422,000 in December.
 "This is bad enough, but the report doesn't begin to tell the full story," he said. "The Commerce measure of unemployment just isn't adequate to catch what really has been happening in the job market in the past six months."
 In addition to the 1,850,000 officially reported as unemployed, Rieve said there are actually 700,000 fewer persons employed than a year ago whereas "under healthy economic conditions" the total of employed should have grown by 700,000 rather than declined that much.

at the disposal of the Chelan Public Utility District the full assistance and experience of the Bonneville Power Administration in working out the marketing problems involved.
 He said the proposal also has been submitted to the Bureau of Reclamation with the new federal-local partnership policy in developing the nation's natural resources as stressed in the President's State of the Union message Thursday.
 Secretary of the Interior McKay, Horan said, "already has indicated a very real interest and has placed some years ago.

 The district applied to the Federal Power Commission several weeks ago for a preliminary permit to assure priority on the site while studies go ahead.
 Horan introduced a bill Thursday to authorize Army Engineers to proceed with final studies, plans and design for the dam. The corps would be reimbursed by the district for this expense.
 The local utility district would finance the construction through the sale of revenue bonds but plans to have the actual construction carried out by the Army Engineers.

Meteor Spotted Over Oregon Coast

NEWPORT, Ore. (AP) - A bright flash on the western horizon was reported Thursday night by coastal residents from Newport to Empire, 100 miles south of here.
 Coastguardsmen collected the reports and relayed them to Coast Guard headquarters at Seattle, where officials said the flash apparently was a meteor, traveling from east to west. All planes in the area were accounted for, and no ships were reported in trouble.
 The flash was seen about 5:30 p. m.
