lamath TV Meet Held Here Friday

ockholders of Klamath Falls evision, Inc., met at the Wine- Hotel Friday night to complete s for the Washington, D. C. ing expected to be scheduled in the next 60 days to deter- e use of Channel 2 in Klamath Falls between two competing applicants.

W. D. Miller of Klamath Falls is asking the Federal Communications Commission for operating control of TV facilities in addition to his ownership of KFJI. KF-TV Inc. is proposing local ownership shared equally among farm, business, industry and professional people, including KFLW and the Herald and News.

KF-TV Inc. dinner meeting was conducted by Bud Chandler, company president, and attended by 40 stockholders. Entertainment included a special showing of "Ozzie and Harriet" from ABC-TV and "Our Miss Brooks" from CBS-TV.

Chandler said this morning the company is unanimously committed to TV picture quality second to none in the nation, a good solid signal over the entire Klamath country and most of the best features from all the leading television networks.

"It's been possible to attract 21 out of 25 of America's most popular radio features via CBS and we are confident our company can do the same in TV," he said.

Directors elected to serve KF-TV Inc. in 1954 are A. M. Collier, chairman; R. H. Bigger, Scott Warren, James Pinniger, George Hagelstein, Laurence Shaw, George Myers and Dr. R. W. Stearns.

ote Slated January 25 o Name Tribal Delegates

espite heavy snows covering of the Klamath Indian rvation, a large number of bers turned out for the Tribal ncil meeting held Friday at math Agency.

e most important matters de- d at this session included a lution presented by Jessie Lee the council reconsider n taken on Dec. 18, 1952, at h time Boyd Jackson and Wade wford were selected as dele- s to represent the Klamath e at the 83rd Congress.

is resolution was passed and members were nominated for two delegate positions: Boyd kson, Wade Crawford, Jessie Kirk, Dibbon Cook, Ida Miller wford and Seldon E. Kirk.

essie Kirk, Dibbon Cook and ion Kirk declined the nomina- leaving only the names of e Crawford, Ida Miller Craw- and Boyd Jackson to be placed the ballot. The election will be on Jan. 25 at polling places eatty, Sprague River and Chil- n.

hairman Seldon Kirk read a let- of resignation from Dibbon Cook stating pressure of private business necessitated his resigning from the post of secretary of the Enrollment Committee.

Nominations for this position were: Johnny Copeland, LeRoy Barkley, Evelyn Lang Cheraldo (declined), Arlen Miller, Lawrence Witt, Mrs. Dorothy McAnulty, Jessie Robbins Weiser and W. Eggsman. Election for this position will also be held on Jan. 25.

Another Resolution presented by Jessie Lee Kirk, chairman of the Klamath Tribal Loan Board which reads in part: "Whereas, the withdrawal of Federal supervision from the propetry of the Klamath Indians will not be accomplished for at least three years from the time of an action by Congress and, Whereas: the credit of the persons that have found it necessary to procure credit from the Klamath Tribal Loan Board are unable to transfer their credit loans for the purchase of homes, land and farm equipment with repayment limited to Jan. 1, 1960. All other types of loans to be limited to a repayment schedule of one year." This resolution was passed with a vote of 89 for and four against.

A motion was made by Boyd Jackson that members of the Executive Committee be permitted to select six members of the tribe to work with the executive committee in an attempt to re-hash the bill now before Congress, designed to release the Klamath Tribe from government supervision. This motion was carried.

The meeting adjourned with a plea from the chairman that all members cast their vote at the election to be held Jan. 25.

Judge Raps DA's Actions

Another flareup occurred in Circuit Court Saturday morning when Judge David R. Vandenberg refused to accept two cases on informations filed by the district attorney's office.

The judge criticized the district attorney's office for not filing proper charges against accused criminals.

The cases which he refused to hear involved Claude Thomas, accused of burglary in a railroad car, and Glenn Haskins, 19, accused of a burglary at the Chief Theater in Chiloquin. He remanded the defendants to the custody of Sheriff Murray Britton.

Judge Vandenberg reprimanded the district attorney for charging an ex-convict arrested in Tiny Tavern with vagrancy instead of burglary.

"The owner of the tavern refused to sign a complaint," District Attorney Frank Alderson told the court.

"You're trying to make a 10-cent store out of this court," the judge commented.

Prior to refusing to hear the two burglary cases, Judge Vandenberg accepted a plea of guilty from Fred Walter Foucher, 27, alias Thomas Lacy, who admitted cashing a $6.80 check at Weisfield's Jewelry Store to obtain a pair of earrings for his "girl friend." Sentence was deferred.

Two Convicted On Grog Count

Two youthful ex-convicts who pleaded guilty to giving alcoholic liquor to minors, late Friday were sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail and fined $200 each by Ben Goddard, district judge pro tem.

The defendants, Kenneth (Dusty) Wells, 21, and Richard Logan, 23, admitted furnishing beer to three minor boys.

County Juvenile Officer Francis Mathews told the court that the defendants and the three minors drove about the city drinking beer. They also became involved in an altercation with some other youths one of whom was cut with a knife. His injury was not serious.

According to Mathews the defendants also were involved in a hit and run accident in which two automobiles were damaged.

MUNICIPAL COURT

Omer V. White, reckless driving, pleaded not guilty, hearing 4 p.m. Jan. 22. Bail $50.

Richard Wolter, ran red light, $5 bail forfeited.

Edward J. Gardner, drunk driving, $100 bail forfeited.

Edward J. Gardner, no operators license, $5 bail forfeited.

James Wright, drunk, $15 or 7½ days.

James Wright, vagrancy, $100 and 30 days, 6 months probation.

Ellis Elwood Stiles, passing on right, $10 fine, $5 suspended.

Rose Curran, drunk, $15 bail forfeited.

Coon Backs School Bill

A bill to appropriate $206,880 to assist the Klamath County School district in constructing a new elementary school at Chiloquin was introduced in Congress Jan. 14 by Congressman Sam Coon. A companion bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Guy Cordon.

The new building, estimated cost $344,800, has been declared necessary to meet state education and safety standards. Last spring the state building consultant visited the present school building and reported that it is old, antiquated, poorly lighted and beyond repair. The Klamath County School District requested the bill and the State Department of Education recommended that the bill be passed.

The appropriation represents 60 per cent of the cost of the new building, Congressman Coon said. About 65 per cent of the students at the school are Indians or non-Indian residents of federal nontaxable property and therefore would not contribute through local taxes to the cost of the school.

The remaining 40 per cent of the cost of the new school will be the responsibility of the Klamath County School District.

Fremont Hi News

By SANDRA ADAMS

This is the first column in the Herald and News this year for Klamath Falls Junior High School, (located at Fremont School).

The KFJHS regular team played Medford Junior High Jan. 8 at Pelican Court. Final score was 33 to 36 in Medford's favor.

Students are now taking final exams. They will take report cards around to get grades Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 18-19. They'll take them home Wednesday, Jan. 20.

The social committee has planned a competitive assembly for Feb. 12. Each homeroom is planning a skit.

School Repairs Reported Made

MACDOEL — Mrs. C. A. Abel, clerk of the Mt. Hebron school board, reports that the Mt. Hebron and Grass Lake schools have completed the repairs recommended by the state fire marshal.

Repairs consisted of changing the doors to swing outward, which made necessary the building of a storm porch at the Mt. Hebron school house to protect the door. Locks were also changed so turning the door knob from the inside would release the lock.

Asked For Psychiatrist Local Area

Members of the Klamath County Child Guidance Advisory Council, have authorized Dr. Seth Kerron, Klamath County health officer, to follow up the suggestion, made by the council, to bring a full-time psychiatric worker to Klamath Falls.

Probable salary was estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000 per year.

The imperative need for an expansion of the program that has been successfully operating on a part-time basis under the competent guidance of Dr. John H. Waterman, Director, Mental Health section, Oregon State Board of Health, was brought out at a luncheon meeting of the council Thursday, at the Winema Hotel.

Cases, here, all dealing to date with children who have been helped by study of individual difficulties, were briefly outlined by Dr. Waterman.

Minor changes in the by-laws were favorably voted upon and the membership approved $1 annual dues, needed for postage and other incidentals.

An extensive program to inform the public of the benefits of a social worker in the community is being worked out by the public relations committee of the council, chairmanned by Mrs. E. A. Geary.

Dr. and Mrs. Waterman will continue their regular visits to Klamath Falls. They spend Thursday and Friday, following the second Monday of each month here. Anyone wishing an interview may call Dr. Seth Kerron at the Health Department for an appointment. There is no charge.

Dimes Tags Ripped Off

Tags on parking meters are a great temptation to passers-by, and the result is decreased contributions to the March of Dimes.

Last week local Boy Scouts tied tags on parking meters in Klamath Falls indicating that dimes won't register the meter but they may help some child walk again.

The first collection from the parking meters netted the polio drive $35. The second collection, announced today by Police Chief Orville Hamilton, decreased to $19.50.

Chief Hamilton said that the tags have been torn off about 80 per cent of the meters, and motorists probably think the drive is over.

"The tags are off, but the drive isn't," Hamilton said.

But while the parking meter pitch isn't increasing, contributions to the Lions-sponsored March of Dimes benefit radio auction are.

Latest merchandise items donated for auction next Tuesday night from 9 to 10 p.m. over KFLW include eight yeards of cinder gravel, delivered anywhere in town or the south suburban area, from Jim Barnes 1111 Sheldon.

Cascade Industrial Supply has contributed a safety measure — a home fire extinguisher. Cascade Home Furnishings delivered a singing tea kettle, and from Freisen-Welman came an aerating mixing sink faucet.

Contributors may deliver their items to the city fire hall, Broad and Wall, or call them in to Dick Gallagher, 3184.

Bowling Penalty Pay Aids March

Beginning Sunday, Jan. 17, the penalty pay at Lucky Lanes Bowling alley will be diverted from the traditional treats to helping the March of Dimes campaign.

The new sign on the score board reads: "So you blew one, huh? A dime in this tube will help blow polio off the face of the earth."

With this slogan, dimes are expected to stack up to aid in the fight against polio— financing the new vaccine tests, caring for infantile paralysis patients, furthering research and professional education.

C. E. (Sarge) Moss, manager of Lucky Lanes, says he expects all of the members of the 103 league teams to cooperate.

Vagrancy Charge Leads To Jail

Max Collins, 41-year-old ex-convict with seven aliases, who was caught raiding the ice box in the Tiny Tavern at Lakeview-Merrill junction, was sentenced to 10 days in jail late Friday.

Ben Goddard, district judge pro tem, acting in the absence of Judge D. E. Van Vactor, sentenced Collins after he pleaded guilty to vagrancy.

Collins was released recently from Oregon State Prison where he served a term for burglarizing a tavern in Chemult. He was arrested here by state and city police who converged on the tavern after Collins was seen entering the place.

G. Pheneger Will Retire

DORRIS — Following 31 years as a director of the Butte Valley State Bank of Dorris, and vice president of the concern for the past 17 years, George R. Pheneger of Bray is retiring from active service, according to President W. G. Hagelstein, Pheneger's request for retirement was accepted at the annual stockholders meeting held in Dorris Wednesday.

Succeeding Pheneger as vice president will be Enock Israelson, Sacramento, a director of the firm since 1942. Floyd A. Boyd, Tulelake, was named to fill the vacancy as director.

Pheneger was presented with a wristwatch engraved with the number of years of service to the bank, one of the oldest independent banks in California.

A former owner of the Crater Lake Box Company of Bray, Pheneger was named director of the bank on July 11, 1922.

Israelson is president of the Dorris Lumber and Moulding Co., Dorris and Sacramento.

The Butte Valley State Bank was founded June 27, 1908 and on Dec. 31, 1953 showed total resources of $3,640,844.83 and desposits of $3,361,843.33.

Sheep Dog Steals Show

NELSON, New Zealand (AP) — An amiable white sheep dog stole the show at the royal tour reception Saturday for Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh.

While the Queen and Duke were greeting local dignitaries the dog leaped up on a balustrade behind them and surveyed the crowd.

The onlookers roared with laughter, The Duke, puzzled at the outburs', turned around and spotted the dog.

The Duke tapped the Queen on the shoulder. She turned and joined in the laughter. The Duke went on shaking hands, but kept his left hand behind him trying to attract the dog.

The dog leaped on the Duke's chair, and watched until a constable approached. Then the animal neatly evaded capture and sauntered away through the crowd.

Support Given In Form Of The Grape

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Hauled before the Common Pleas Court on a charge he failed to support his wife and three children, Edison Hughes of Middletown said he did help provide for them.

"What did you provide them with," demanded Judge Fred B. Cramer yesterday.

"Well, I took some wine home to settle the wife's nerves," he replied.

"You probably drank it yourself," the judge said. ". . . Six months in the workhouse for you."

Winter Driving Tips Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators offered motorists some midwinter advice Saturday.

1. Very cold ice offers better traction than "warm" ice—that is, ice near the melting point. But conditions on any given road can change fast.

2. Tires with snow treads or similar special winter surfaces give better traction under certain conditions than conventional tires, but no one type can be relied on under all conditions. Chains have wider application, but when they are used "utmost care and slow speed is necessary."

Steers Show Split Trend

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP) — Hogs wound up the week all the way from 25 cents to $1.50 higher, sows making the big gains, in a series of very erratic markets this week.

Barrows and gilts gained 25 to 50 cents. Sows soared $1.25 to $1.50.

A two way market developed in the cattle section. Choice and prime steers closed steady to 50 cents lower while low choice and below moved at strong to fully 50 cents higher quotations.

Slaughter lambs closed the week steady while ewes were strong to mostly 50 cents higher. Order buyers were quite active during the week. Dressed lambs in the wholesale market gained $2.00 to $3.00.

Chihuahua Riots Flare

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico (AP) —Martial law was imposed on one town in the rich mining and agricultural state of Chihuahua Saturday and authorities kept careful watch lest major political violence erupe in the wake of gun battles which have already claimed seven lives.

The trouble started Friday at Delicias, a cotton growing center of 6,000 population about 260 miles south of Dallas, Tex.

Authorities said 30 members of the opposition party of Gen. Miguel Henriquez Guzman attacked a federal troops barracks. The soldiers returned the fire and five of the attackers were slain. The others scattered in the hills.

Friday night two police officers were shot to death at Meoqui, a town 10 miles north of Delicias, when they sought to question a Henriquista — a member of the party which supported Henriquez in his unsuccessful attempt to defeat Adolfo Ruiz Cortines in the 1952 presidential elections.

Air Force planes were dispatched from Mexico City to aid in the hunt for the men who attacked the barracks. Delicias was placed under curfew also. Soldiers patrolled the streets.
