Boy Admits Post-Game Stabbing

DETROIT (AP) — A 16-year-old boy has admitted the ice pick stabbing and serious wounding of a high school basketball player which has led to a ban on all major night-time athletics in Detroit's public prep schools.

The ban, without precedent here, was ordered by School Supt. Arthur Dondineau Monday after a huddle with school principals.

In the background was a long period of youngster hoodlumism at prep after - dark games. Public concern has long been evident.

BAN

The ban includes both football and basketball. All games now must be played in the day time.

The stabbing victim, Ross Deboskey, 17, MacKenzie High School star, remained in serious condition at receiving hospital. One lung was punctured. He was stabbed in the back.

Police said the boy who admitted the stabbing told of it this way: "Somebody else had his (DeBoskey's) head and everybody else was beating him, so I stuck him."

ARRESTS

Police have arrested 14 youths, six of them juveniles.

According to police, the boy who admitted the stabbing said "word" had been going around Central High School the day before the game that there would be a fight.

Central played MacKenzie

More than 200 boys went to the game from Central expressly to get into a fight, the boy was quoted as saying.

Pity The Ball Clubs With 'Holdout' Woes

By JACK HAND (For Gayle Talbot)

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks like a long, tough winter for the ball clubs with holdouts sprouting in the collar. Loud wails are drifting back from the outlands as 'feller" contracts find their way into mail boxes along the R.F.D. routes.

Some of the owners may have a tough time explaining to the hired hands how much money they lost and how far attendance drooped. The athletes are quite hep to the fact that television contracts often run into six figures in the balance book. It's no secret that a few clubs figure on the TV dough to meet the player payroll.

So far the players are asking only for the World Series and All-Star TV cash. Some of these days the boys may start gunning for a cut of the daily TV take, just as the boxers demanded—and got—$4,000 each Friday night from the IBC.

PAINFUL

The painful aspects of pennant-winning always come to light about this time of year. When a club wins, the players naturally want more money. When they lose they don't want to take a cut. Many a beautiful friendship between player and club has cracked up on these rocky shoals.

How would you like to have George Weiss' job of signing the Yankees? Five straight pennants, five straight World Series—the greatest. Add to that the complication of the stadium sale last month. The ballplayers read all about it in the papers, how Del Webb and Dan Topping sold for 6½ million dollars something they bought for $2,800,000 a few years back and still own the ball club.

SPRING

Last year most of the Yankee regulars didn't sign until spring training time. Whitey Ford, Eddie Lopat, Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds, Billy Martin, Joe Collins, Johnny Mize, Phil Rizzuto, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle and Gene Woodling waited until they got to St. Petersburg. Only Gil McDougald, Yogi Berra and Johnny Sain, of the "big names," signed early.

Ford already has said he wants more. Yogi is angling for $40,000 salary and McDougald wants a raise. Don't think Lopat, Rizzuto and some of the others are going to be easy to rope.

USED TO THAT

But the Yankees are used to this sort of thing. How about the others?

When the Phillies can ask Robin Roberts—the best pitcher in baseball—to take a cut, where does that leave men like Sal Maglie, Larry Jansen and Ferris Fain?

Some of the more stubborn cases may last until the next six-inch snowfall but we'd like to put brother Gayle Talbot way out on the limb with one prediction—they'll all be signed by opening day.

Cougars, Idaho Mix

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — The Idaho Vandals and Washington State Cougars meet here Tuesday night in a basbetball game expected to make a three-way race of the scramble for Northern Division honors.

A win by the Vandals would boost them within half a game of Oregon's Ducks and the Oregon State Beavers, currently tied on top of the standings, and set the stage for a weekend battle of title contenders—a meeting here with the tall Beavers.

The Vandals, whose 2-2 conference records includes a win and a loss in earlier series with the two leaders, are expected to have little difficulty with the Cougars. The Staters, under Coach Jack Friel, have won one of four conference starts and have a 7-8 overall record.

Coach Chuck Finley will send a team of veterans led by Dwight Morrison against the undermanned Cougars, whose mainstay is high scoring forward Ron Bennink.

Tuesday night's game is the only one on tap in the league until the weekend when the Beavers play Idaho here and Washington meets Oregon at Eugene.

'Wrong Way' Keglers Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — A pair of wrong way bowlers, Tess Johns of Cleveland and Lou Campi of Dumont, N. J., paced the 224 bowlers in the National All-Star Bowling Tournament Tuesday as the keglers made ready for their last day of qualifying trials.

Campi, who once shared the national doubles crown, moved into the men's lead with a 3,696 total for 18 games, four more than Earl Johnson of Tacoma, Wash., and 12 ahead of veteran Pete Carter of Detroit who is third.

Campi, a 48-year-old contractor, violates one of the cardinal principles of bowling as on the approach, he finishes on his right foot rather than the left foot as do the rest of the conventional men stylists.

Mrs. Johns, a 34-year-old housewife, only throws the experts for a loss as she throws the bowling ball with her left hand rather than her right. If she manages to win the qualifying trials, she will be the first left-hander in history to do so.

The leading hitter in the Texas League for 1953 was Joe Frazier who batted .332 with Oklahoma City. He will get a trial in spring training with the St. Louis Cardinals.

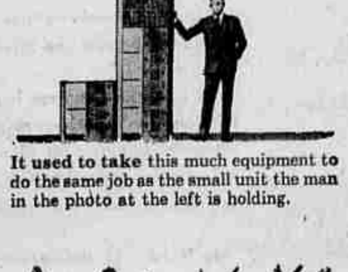
Making things smaller helps keep telephone rates down. As your voice travels over telephone circuits, it gradually gets weaker and must be amplified—or "boosted"—at intervals. It used to take some rather bulky electronic equipment to do this. But, today, a man can easily hold in his two hands more of these voice-boosters than were once contained in each of the tall panels pictured above. The smaller units are now in use in many places in the West as part of a plan we call "miniaturization." This is a program in which telephone people work to develop equipment that takes less space, does a better job and costs less to install. Such research has meant a lot in helping us fight today's high prices—and keep your telephone rates low.



It used to take this much equipment to do the same job as the small unit the man in the photo at the left is holding.

New, smaller voice boosters take about a twentieth as much space, mean real savings in these days of high building costs.

Such savings are helping us furnish good service, more service, low-cost service to you...and to all the West.

Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day
