The Jan. 25 get together will mark the fourth meeting of the group, which is in its infancy, having been organized just last December.

what has television done for newspaper reading?

Survey shows that TV INCREASES it!

For the fourth year in a row the Cunningham & Walsh independent "Videotown" survey shows that television set owners are spending more time with their newspapers than ever before!

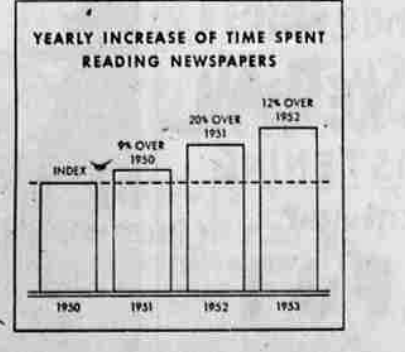

It is clear that every medium—including TV, the newcomer—simply whets people's appetites for the full story.

In their newspaper they'll find the whole story about the fight they saw on TV last night... about the entertainers they watched... the debate they saw... or the educational program that was so interesting.

No matter what the source of news may be—an angry dictator across the sea, an earthquake in Mexico, a tennis match in Australia, a fire downtown, or a TV program in the living room—it's the newspaper that tells it all.

No wonder people are reading their newspapers more! No wonder advertisers are finding newspapers more productive than ever before!

Chart is based on information drawn from "Videotown 6" survey by Cunningham & Walsh, New York, N. Y., nationally known advertising agency conducting this survey solely for the benefit of its clients.

are quite well known in the valley already.

These two ambitious young men of character and quality, have deliberated over the venture for some time but now, since they have made up their minds, they will attack their new enterprise with vigor and determination. They plan to make chicken feed and flour and all the feed products formerly produced by the late Richard M. Keller, using the same formula, plus a branching out into the more extensive production and marketing of poultry.

Bill Barrington who in the past operated the mill for many years for Keller, will be retained by the partnership as their miller. He will not only teach the new proprietors the business but will have a job as long as he likes.

The mill in the past has been a big asset to the community and the new management plans to make it even a greater asset by developing it into a larger, more diversified operation.

Things are looking up, too, for the Eastside Grange. This was indicated by the lively grange meeting held here last Saturday evening. In a recent report, Mrs. Louise Miller said she had sent in to the national grange dues on 158 members who are in good standing. This shows the potential of the local organization and all that is needed to make this large group—a whopper-dinger, with fun for all—is new life! What a wonderful time that group of people could have if they all took an active interest in this worthy community function. Right here we want to say that I believe our new master, Winford Dungan, has the right approach and is going to inspire that necessary enthusiasm.

I remember over in Eugene one time, when the surrounding granges were having a contest to see which grange could produce the best play. Why—most any weekend you could motor out and see a bang-up vaudeville show some grange was putting on. They were public and there was usually a packed house. But was it ever fun! And those participating in the act had just as much fun as anyone else—in spite of the hard work involved. In a friendly way each grange tried to outdo the other fellow but each kept a close tab on the other. This idea also served as a general mixer between the granges. It made them all feel they were mutually bound, as brothers and sisters, in the worthy cause of making rural living happier and more closely knit in a spirit of helpfulness. Each other's problems came to light and those problems were made easier by exposure to friendly discussion, helpful hints and suggestions.

Grange initiatory meetings were announced by the master. The first and second degrees will be given at the Eastside hall on March 6 by the Westside and Eastside granges. The third and fourth degrees will be put on jointly at Valley Falls by the Thomas Creek and Valley Falls granges on March 13. Bly is invited to bring over what candidates they may have for the various degrees.

Fifty-four grange members of the valley pulled a surprise swarming party on Thomas Creek while they were in session last Saturday night. They all had a big time, the master reported, and this unusual meeting lasted until 2 o'clock.

Under new business three officers were installed: Mrs. Lillian Noble as chaplain; John Richardson as gatekeeper and Mrs. Gladys Cooper as Flora. The latter is also president of the Home Ec club. She gave a report on the meeting of that group held on the previous Thursday afternoon when they took down the Christmas tree decorations and elected a new vice president, Mrs. Susan Vincent, Mrs. Jack Moffitt was hostess and served apple cobbler and coffee.

Mrs. Amy Cloud asked for and received permission to have the hall on February 13. At that time the youth club will hold a St. Valentine's dance.

The grange members voted to sponsor a dance for the benefit of the fairground dormitory fund which will be held February 27 at the NPC Grange hall. Since there are 17 4-H club members in this community who will appreciate this sponsorship, that dance too should turn out to be pretty big thing.

Lee Hanson, county 4-H leader, gave a short talk explaining the dormitory development plan which is to house 4-H club members who bring in exhibits to the fair from out-lying parts of the county. The plan, he said, is spearheaded by the 4-H leader's association. The dorm will operate under adequate supervision at all times and parents can rest assured that their children will be well taken care of, he emphasized. And added, "The county fair board is prepared to help substantially with the project by building the foundation, laying sewer lines and furnishing the building when completed with stoves, sinks, toilets, beds and a water-heater."

Money raised by the various grange sponsored dances over the county will be used in erecting the building proper, he explained. It will then become the property of the county fair board who will have full jurisdiction over it with the responsibility of maintaining same.

The speaker also announced that there would be a livestock and wool grower's meeting at the Lakeview High School at 8 o'clock on the evening of January 23. At this time he said, Mr. Alexander of the Oregon Worsted Woolen Mills, will talk on the Oregon wool pool. Mr. Hansen also revealed that the Lake county wool clip rated highest in purity in the state and brought the highest prices on the market.

Mrs. Erma Sanders was appointed musician by the master. Incidentally she is helping some of the young musicians with their playing who are interested in taking part in the new grange orchestra which is being formed. Bouquet this week go to Mrs. Sanders for her kindness in this matter.

Grange master Dungan is casting about to find a volunteer to take over the job as juvenile matron, a position recently vacated by Mrs. Mildred McLaughlin who went in her resignation. This work is considered an important phase of a healthy grange organization and it is feared that unless this vacancy is filled soon, the juvenile grange charter will be lost.

The youth club held its regular meeting last Wednesday evening. Seventeen members were present. Since there was no old business the new business of election of officers was taken up. Homer McLain was elected president and immediately took over the gavel. Earl Porter was elected vice president; Leeta Perry, secretary; Sylvia McManus, treasurer; Forest Woods, gate keeper; Bill Milliss and Pat Webb, sergeants at arms and Mona McLain, news reporter. The meeting was then adjourned and a social hour of dancing followed.

Those present for the social hour were Earl Porter, Mary Ellen Tollett, Pat Webb, Sharon Webb, Carol McLain, Sharon Tuxhorn, Barbara Fisher, Billy Milliss, Tommy Smith, Billy Churchfield, Mike Cook, Roger St. Clair, Mickey McLain, Len McLain, Forest Woods, Jerry Carpenter, Sylvia McManus, Leeta Perry, Mona McLain and the leaders, Velma and Claude Newcombe.

Guests were Billy Van Cleavn, Polly and Betty Cain, Richard Wheelock, Larry Fossum and Ronnie Lang.

A meeting of the local firemen was held a week ago last Monday evening. Don Butler was elected president, Robert Faris, vice president, and Bart Scriver, secretary-treasurer. The next project of the firemen will be the purchase of a town siren — loud enough to wake everybody up from the deepest slumber.

The NPC firemen are invited by the Willow Ranch firemen to see the film, "Crimes of Carelessness" which will be held at the Willow Ranch firehall on February 3, at 7:30 p.m. The forest service may be on hand with another film to supplement this one for a nice evening of educational entertainment, Mrs. Grace Bernard said.

Mrs. Lydia Smith celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary at her home here recently. Those present to help her enjoy her birthday cake were her younger generation and the companionship of close relatives: Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Partin and son, Melvin; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Anderson and daughters, Sheryl and Barbara and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Partin. Mrs. Smith was born in Corvallis but has lived in New Pine Creek since 1911.

New library books were brought down to our branch county library here today by Librarian Dean Lingle, accompanied by Mrs. Anne Sprague, acting as assistant. Mrs. Sprague is a very good friend. There are some mighty fine new books among them which patrons will be anxious to read during these long winter evenings.

It happened that way, Mr. and Mrs. Aury Smith have two sons but now they have a brand new baby girl, Marticia, born last Sunday morning at 8:15 at the Lakeview hospital. She weighed 5 pounds and 8 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bradley returned today, Tuesday, after spending a month and a half vacationing in southern California and in Mexico. Their trip was quite eventful to say the least and Brad's advice is "Don't ever have an accident in Mexico unless you are insured by a Mexican insurance company. Then you're right if you're wrong. If you carry U.S. insurance you're wrong if you're right."

Kelton Butler went to Klamath Falls last Sunday after his wife, Opal who was returning from a San Francisco clinic where she underwent an operation. They returned Monday evening and Opal looks fine. Incidentally Kelton is now working at the Lakeview lockers. They plan to live in their house here in NPC which has, up until now, been rented by Mr. and Mrs. Verie Cook. Verie has been out rustling up another place to live. Houses seem more scarce than common around here for some reason.
