Livestock Price Slips

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK CHICAGO (AP)—Barrows and gilts ended a week of erratic price fluctuations mostly steady while steers lost 50 to 75 cents on the livestock market this week.

An acute scarcity of choice light weight offerings featured the week's hot trading. Shippers competed strongly for 230 and 240 pound butchers. Pork loins lost $2.00 to $5.00 in the wholesale pork market, exerting a bearish influence on live hog prices. Top at the close was $26.25, down 25 cents for the week.

Receipts in the cattle section slumped 10 per cent from the previous week but were 20 per cent larger than in the same week a year ago. The week's supply included 165 loads of western cattle, largest of the season.

Average prime and high grade steers were steady to 50 cents lower for the week. So were utility to low good grades. But average good to low prime steers lost 50 cents to $2.00. Top for prime steers was $31.25. Cows and bulls closed steady to 50 cents higher and vealers steady to $1.00 higher.

Lambs gained 25 to 50 cents while sheep were up 50 cents to $1.00 for the week. The advance came in face of a declining wholesale market on dressed lambs. Top was $22.25 for small odd lots of lambs.

More Dimes Action Slated

"Stop at the lighted porches" will be the cue for hundreds of volunteers next Thursday, January 28, when the March of Dimes committee sponsors a "Mother's March."

Originally scheduled for Friday, January 29, the march has been changed to Thursday night to correspond with Mothers' Marches all over Washington, Idaho and the rest of Oregon.

In order to avoid house to house solicitation, workers will canvass their neighborhoods for just one hour Friday, from 7 to 8 p.m., collecting donations from houses where the porch lights are on.

The local march has been organized under two community workers at large, Mrs. Hagen Moore and Mrs. Earl Sheridan, who will coordinate activity all over the city.

Community chairmen have been assigned to the various school areas as follows: Altamont, Mrs. Rollin Thompson; Fairview, Mrs. A. W. Dannelly; Fremont, Mrs. Steve Walker; Henley, Mrs. J. R. Glodski; Conger, Mrs. Don Curtis; Mills, Mrs. Clifford Kenyon; Pelican, Mrs. E. W. Zigler.

Reverse side, Mrs. Gordon Vaughan; Roosevelt, Mrs. R. T. Lindley; Shasta, Mrs. Harold Gredel and Mrs. John Insley; Summers, Mrs. Fred Wilfrum; Peterson, Van Mollison; Faithaven, Paul Sharp.

Anyone else who wishes to help in the march may contact his community chairman. Thieves Friday night broke into the Ice Box, located across the alley from the Oregon state liquor store, according to city police.
