

SOCIETY

By Milly Ramsby

MR. AND MRS. EMIL ALBRECHT . . . pictured upper left, in San Francisco, as they were about to board the Lurline a week after leaving a group of convivial Klamath "natives" . . . to sail for an extended stay in the "Polynesian Paradise". As yet, no publicity release from the steamship companies or the Hawaiian Islands proper, have ever submitted any pictures with more "flavor" than these taken at the party given for the Albrechts by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. (All Backes at their home, 428 Pacific Terrace.

"Hawaii Calls" . . . From Klamath Falls

Second row, same order, Mrs. Jack Bothwell, Mrs. J. E. (Kelly) Crabtree, Mrs. Rod McPhail, J. Frank Adams (behind Mrs. Albrecht); and Martha McCollum.

Third row, Kelly Crabtree, Mrs. G. C. Lorenz, Erle Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. Phil Brixner and Bernice Britt. Last row, Rod McPhail (back of Erle Hamilton), Mrs. Henri Conradi (right of mirror), her husband, in the straw hat; Mrs. Stanley Miller and Jack Bothwell.

Not in the picture—Ralph Houck, who had to leave before it was taken—and Stan Miller—who took all of the pictures (except the one of the Albrechts in San Francisco.)

The party was on the 9th and the vacationers sailed on the 16th from San Francisco after a week in the Bay Area.

Table decorations were in keeping with the "island" inspired theme—and the table was especially outstanding with an exotic arrangement centered with a fresh pineapple surrounded with gardenias sprayed in gorgeous tropical colors—all assembled on a base of ti leaves. The festive assortment of appealing dishes on the buffet offered a wide choice of food—even to "special" French pastries.

Klamath Falls Saddle Club

BIG WINTER EVENT . . . for the Klamath Saddle Club—was the party at Reames late in December. During the warm weather—informal social functions fill the club calendar—breakfast rides, picnics, contests at the fair-grounds etc., with jeans and western garb in evidence.

But party dresses prevailed for the women and no western attire was noted on any man at the "Christmas Party." And it was a fitting wind-up for the club year.
