Loan Action Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee has marked "closed" the case of Edward G. Robinson's $300 loan to one of its investigators.

The stage and screen tough guy told his story of the loan in a one-hour voluntary conference with the group Monday. Afterwards, Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) said in a statement.

"After a careful investigation into the circumstances surrounding the loan, the committee is of the unanimous opinion that it was made for humanitarian reasons."

He added the committee is convinced "it was in no way intended to influence any staff member for any improper favors or actions."

"The committee is therefore closing this phase of the matter," said Velde. All of the nine members of the committee attended the closed-door conference.

Velde said Robinson told the committee that Louis J. Russell, whom Velde fired about 10 days ago, sought a $300 loan last July 11. The actor produced a copy of the letter, Velde said, along with a copy of his reply in which he attached a check for $300. Velde asked Robinson as saying Russell asked for the money for hospital expenses.

US Relations In Asia Held Better

TOKYO (AP)—Author James Michener said today American relations in Asia have improved since the Republican administration took office a year ago.

The author of "South Pacific" and "Voice of Asia" said he felt relations had improved because of the visits of such statesmen as Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles, as well as leading senators and representatives.

"During the Democratic administration I don't recall one leader of the party who came to Korea and the Far East," Michener told the Japan-America Society and the American Chamber of Commerce in Japan.

Hanford Atomic Workers Living In Area Plagued By Labor Strife, Strikes

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP)—Three things seem certain for workers in the Hanford Atomic Works expansion—death, taxes and almost six strikes a year.

This six strikes a year average has been going on since the first 350 million dollars in contracts was let in 1947 and the work stoppages since then have involved anywhere from 10 to 7,000 employees.

The first work stoppage began Dec. 1, 1948 when linemen of Newberry Electric, a subcontractor, walked off in protest of the use of non-union cable splicers by General Electric, the prime contractor, outside the construction area, a policy that still prevails.

The most recent strike, which has not been settled although the men have returned to their jobs, is a wage dispute involving some 200 AFL carpenters and millwrights.

They and 7,000 workers in other crafts returned to their jobs last week at the request of the Atomic Energy Labor Panel.

Hearings on the dispute are expected to be set soon. If and when it is settled it will mark the end of the 41st strike in Hanford expansion history.

The present carpenters' dispute is over demands for more pay and contract benefits. Sixteen of the past work stoppages have been jurisdictional; 12 have been over management policy. But all have involved wages.

Included in the work stoppages was the recent strike of a one-eyed carpenter. That dispute led 150 carpenters to walk off when the handicapped member who worked on a gantry crane was assigned to the ground for safety reasons.

And one of the big strikes called in May 1953 came when all crafts walked out in a dispute whether daylight savings time or pacific standard time would be used in construction work.

Although only a few men may be involved in a dispute strikes at the plant hit the Tri-City area hard. No official figure of wages lost has been given although it is estimated nearly a million dollars were lost in 1953 because of stoppages.

The small firms in the area which depend largely upon Hanford payrolls find times tough when a large or prolonged strike hits.

However the AEC points out there has never been a strike involving the over 8,000 workers in the production phase of the Hanford works.

Lattimore Case Draws Court Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals took under consideration Monday the question of whether four perjury charges against Owen Lattimore were thrown out improperly.

All nine judges of the appeals court listened to three hours of arguments on a government move to reinstate the four counts in a seven-count indictment against the controversial Far Eastern specialist. They had been dismissed by a federal district judge, Luther W. Youngdahl.

Normally only three judges listen to arguments on appeals. U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover said he asked for a full court hearing because of what he called the crippling effect of Judge Youngdahl's ruling, if allowed to stand, on the right of Congress to conduct investigations.

The indictment of Lattimore grew out of 12 days of stormy testimony before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in 1951 in an investigation of the Institute of Pacific Affairs. Lattimore was active in the private research organization and formerly edited its magazine, "Pacific Affairs."

The arguments before the appeals court centered principally around the first count of the indictment, one of the four dismissed by Judge Youngdahl last May 2. This alleged that Lattimore swore falsely when he testified he had never been a sympathizer or promoter of Communism or Communist causes.

Lattimore's trial on the perjury indictment is being delayed pending outcome of the government's efforts to have the four counts reinstated. The appeals court gave no indication when it might rule.

Guy Cordon To Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Gordon (R-Ore) announced Tuesday he is a candidate for re-election.

His announcement wiped out all doubts that had existed since he said last fall his personal preference would be to retire to private life.

The Northwest senator in third-ranking Republican member on the Senate Interior and Appropriations Committee and is a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of the House and Senate.

Gordon issued this statement: "After thorough consideration of all the factors involved, I have concluded to be a candidate for re-election. I place my candidacy squarely upon the record I have made in office since coming to the Senate in March of 1944.

"I feel deeply that the voters of Oregon should have an opportunity to express themselves on questions of fundamental political philosophy which necessarily will be a major issue of the coming campaign. I shall be happy to abide by their decision."

NYC System Profits Told

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the New York Central system estimates the line's gross revenues for 1953 were about $26 million dollars—about 2.4 percent more than in 1952.

William White, president of the Central, puts net income for last year in excess of $4 million.

The railroad's president made these estimates Monday after disclosing that financier Robert R. Young has formally asked memberships on the board of directors of the New York Central for himself and his associate, Allan P. Kirby.

Young was advised that the matter will be considered at the next meeting of the Central's board Feb. 10, White told a news conference.

A week ago Young and Kirby resigned from the board of directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. The move then was seen as a step by Young toward his long-held ambition of controlling the New York Central.

Construction On Road Slows Cars

SALEM (AP)—Travel on the Columbia River Highway between The Dalles and Celilo is still subject to minor delays because of construction, the Oregon Highway Commission said Monday in its weekly maintenance report.

Construction also is causing delays on the Oregon Coast Highway three miles north of Gardiner, and two miles south of Port Orford.

The McKenzie Mt. Hood Loop and West Diamond Lake routes are closed by snow for the winter.

On the Willamette Highway, there are five short sections of gravel surface between Lowell and Odell Lake.

Bank Deposits Show Increase

PORTLAND (AP)—Deposits of state-chartered banks increased $3,173,895 in the past year to reach a total of $251,147,808. A. A. Rogers, state superintendent of banks, reported Tuesday.

Deposits in national banks in Oregon gained $7,683,743 to reach a total of $1,470,177,957, he said.

Loans and discounts in state banks increased $7,426,852 to total $104,448,890. In national banks the loans and discounts increased $5,171,247 to total $615,972,713.

Rogers said all Oregon banks "appear in healthy condition."

Eight families were moved from their homes after water backed up by the jam lashed over steps and floors in the homes. Six families were evacuated from their homes there last week by another ice jam.

In Canada, the storm dumped snow throughout British Columbia, forming snow drifts up to six feet in depth in some areas.

To the east, the prairie provinces were caught in the grip of a cold wave that sent the temperatures sliding to 28 degrees below at Lethbridge. Temperatures elsewhere on the prairies ranged from 10 to 20 below.

Most schools in Spokane County were closed in the wake of another two inches of snow and winds with gusts of 85 miles an hour that drifted side roads shut.

Between Republic and Kettle Falls in eastern Washington, 16 inches of new snow was reported with a total of 60 inches on the ground in that area.

At Burke in northern Idaho, snow fall for the month was reported at 137.2 inches, an all-time record. The previous record in that high elevation region was 119.9 in 1950.

While the morning wind hit an average of almost 20 miles an hour in parts of the Inland Empire Tuesday, the Weather Bureau said there didn't appear to be much chance of a general Chinook to whittle down snow piles.

Weather

Western Oregon — Showers of snow or mixed rain and snow diminishing Tuesday night. Wednesday cloudy and a little warmer with occasional rain. Highs 40-45 Wednesday. Lows Tuesday night 32-40. Winds off coast southwesterly, 15-50 miles an hour, shifting to southerly Wednesday.

Eastern Oregon — Partial clearing with occasional showers Tuesday night and Wednesday. Highs Wednesday 30-35. Lows Tuesday night 20-30.

Grants Pass and vicinity — Occasional showers of mixed rain and snow. Rain late Tuesday night and Wednesday. High 47 Wednesday. Low Tuesday night 36.

Northern California — Occasional rain through Wednesday. Snow down to the 1,000 foot level. Windy and slightly warmer in interior Tuesday night. Southerly winds, 15-30 miles an hour near coast.

Baker and vicinity — Occasional snow flurries through Wednesday. High 28. Low Tuesday night 20.

Five-day outlook for Western Oregon — Recurring rains through Sunday with warming trend next couple of days. Temperatures averaging normal in Western Oregon with highs 46-54 and night-time lows 36-44. Total precipitation heavy, averaging 1 1/2 to 4 inches.

Five-day outlook for Eastern Oregon — Occasional rain or snow temperatures above normal; afternoon temperatures averaging 35-45; night-time lows 20-30; precipitation total a quarter-inch to one inch.

Carpenters Still Strike

SPOKANE (AP)—No progress was reported Tuesday in efforts to settle a strike of 7,000 AFL carpenters, millwrights and pile drivers but a federal mediator said he'll keep trying.

Mediator Louis Ziman of Spokane said "neither side has given in discernibly." The union has asked a 15-cent increase to bring the hourly rate to $3.75. Building contractors have offered 7 cents now and another 3 cents next January.

Meanwhile, pickets appeared at a half a dozen large construction jobs in the Inland Empire. Charles W. Lewis, chairman of the union's negotiating committee, said "spot" picketing was being carried out elsewhere.

Holdup Artist To Get Hearing

A preliminary hearing will be demanded for Raymond J. Bodinet, 31, Portland gunman, held in the County Jail on an armed robbery charge, following a holdup and shooting at a Klamath Falls rooming house.

The accused robber's attorney, A. C. Yaden, said Tuesday his client waived preliminary hearing in District Court without advice of counsel.

In the holdup, January 8 in a rooming house at Spring and Elm Streets, Edwin Coyle, 28, of Portland, was fatally wounded by City Policeman James O'Neal. Coyle threatened the policeman with a pistol.

When Coyle dropped with a bullet wound in his chest, Bodinet is reported to have thrown a gun to the floor and surrendered.

Police were called to the rooming house after two white women

Extradition Fight Set By Coates

Thomas R. Coates, 33-year-old clerk, freed by a jury January 13 on a forgery charge, is now prepared to fight extradition to California.

Attorney A. C. Yaden, counsel for Coates, announced Tuesday that he will petition Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg for a writ of habeas corpus as soon as California authorities appear with extradition papers. Coates is held in the County Jail pending action by California.

Yaden declined to state on what grounds he will base his habeas corpus petition but indicated there are "irregularities" in the case.

When Coates was brought to trial on a charge of cashing a forged check at a Merrill billiard parlor, District Attorney Frank Alderson asked Judge Vandenberg to dismiss the case. Witnesses said they could not identify Coates or the check he was accused of passing.

Attorney Yaden pointed out that Coates has been in jail two weeks and his acquittal and California hasn't yet moved to extradite him. He is being held on a fugitive warrant.

In the past, Judge Vandenberg has been very critical of California extradition methods. He freed Dawn Starr, Oklahoma night club dancer, wanted for bad checks in Los Angeles, when California failed to extradite her in what the court termed a "reasonable time."

Pension Plan Here Fulfilled

A life benefit insurance plan, initiated by the former Palmerton Lumber company and involving $70,000 has been carried to completion by the Klamath Lake Moulding company, according to W. H. Cramer, manager.

The pension plan that involved 120 employees was inaugurated some time ago. On a recent change in operating plans the Klamath Lake Moulding assumed responsibility to complete the transaction. The majority of those involved are now employed elsewhere.

Benefits are payable upon the policy holder reaching retirement age.

Plans for the employee coverage were worked out in the office of John H. Houston.

Oregon Spud Stocks Gain

PORTLAND (AP)—Oregon potato and onion growers and dealers entered this year with larger stocks on hand than the year previous, the federal Department of Agriculture Crop Reporting Service said Tuesday.

Onion stocks on Jan. 1 were estimated at 1,313,000 sacks of 60 pounds each. That was 27 percent larger than the year previous and 72 percent above average, the USDA reported.

Malheur County accounted for 920,000 of the sacks, the report said.

Potato stocks in Oregon were estimated at 4,100,000 bushels, about 5 percent above the amount held the year previous and 8 percent larger than average. Holdings were up 19 percent in California, 8 percent in Washington and 5 percent in Idaho.

Youths Draw Police Check

Three youths and three young girls from Susanville, California, enroute to Bend for a funeral, ran afoul of the law in Klamath Falls after police reported they revived their drooping spirits with a case of beer and a pint of whisky.

The sextet was arrested, after stopping at an all night cafe. Earlier they were described as "suspicious" by the Klamath Falls service station operator who sold them gasoline.

The youths, Kenneth Stout, 21, Robert David, 18, and Vernon Johnson, 24, were charged with vagrancy and released on their own recognizance. They are slated to appear Monday before Police Judge Frank Blackmer.

Two of the girls are 16 and the other is 15 years old.

County Juvenile Officer Francis Mathews checked with one of the girl's mother by telephone in Susanville and verified they were on their way to a funeral in Bend.

After conferring with Police Chief Orville Hamilton, Mathews said it was decided to permit all six to return to Susanville. Mathews said part of a case of beer and a pint of whisky were found in the car.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—A flurry of buying late in the day sent 1954 wheat futures to new seasonal highs for the sixth straight session on the board of trade Tuesday.

Demand followed issuance of the Weather Bureau's weekly crop summary which said, "the lack of substantial moisture for the last six weeks is causing a rather critical dry situation" in much of the main winter wheat belt. Later, wheat retreated from its highs.

Other grains did not show much price change, easing early and then recovering, with the exception of November soybeans. That contract gained more than 3 cents at one time after having dropped more than 8 cents Monday.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March 2.13 3/4-2 1/4; corn 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, March 1.53 1/2; oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, March 79 3/4-79 1/2; rye unchanged to 1/4 lower, March 1.24 1/4; soybeans 1 3/4 lower to 2 3/4 higher, March 3.13 1/2-3.14; and land 7 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower, March 16.57-16.55.
