

Barbara Rodgers Bride of Lester Foster In First Presbyterian Nuptial Rites

BEFORE A BACKGROUND OF YELLOW AND WHITE CHRYSANTHEMUMS . . . Barbara Rodgers (above) became the bride of Lester Foster in the First Presbyterian Church, January seventeenth. The Rev. David F. Barnett Jr., officiated. Barbara is the daughter of Mrs. Marius Petersen, 3000 Patterson; and Melvin Rodgers, Merrill. Her father gave her in marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Farris E. Foster, 2926 Altamont Drive.

In the picture, top center, the bride is being "escorted" by some of the wedding party and guests as part of a "wedding-joke" plot to prevent Barbara and Lester's scheduled departure for their honeymoon trip. In the picture below — male guests and members of the wedding party "kidnap" the bridegroom . . . they later took him to Dorris . . . where the two were released into each other's custody to continue the trip into California.

With the bride, from the left, Mrs. Dale Carr, Darrell Price, back to camera, Hazel Schieferstein; the bride, and holding Barbara's arm (hidden behind Hazel), Dorelyn Parton; Mrs. Ray Beauchamp, holding other arm; Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Mrs. Dale Lowther, Bill Joplin (also hidden), and Mrs. Joplin.

With the bridegroom (l to r), Dale Lowther, bridegroom (in light suit); Cliff Joplin (white jacket); and back of them, Virgil Nelson's shoulder; Bill Joplin and Bill Hilton.

1700 Fairmont "Officially" An Address After Housewarming

ALTHOUGH THE BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME . . . of the Robert P. Ellingson Jr.'s, at the above address . . . was the scene of a huge holiday open house, official recognition by friends was given last Saturday night, when a group of intrepid "well-wishers" staged a very hastily planned and impromptu housewarming.

They braved snow and slush and arrived bearing food, tables to serve it on; silver to eat it with; dishes to set it from; napkins, table linen etc., and gifts for the new Ellingson domicile . . . one of the most impressive ever built in Klamath Falls. Also . . . successfully surprised the inhabitants thereof!

Pictured at the door are Mr. and Mrs. Ellingson; and in the foreground with their offerings are some of the "assembled-with-no-notice" friends who were in on the happy "surprise". From the left, Stanley Miller, Mrs. Alvin Macartney, Alvin Macartney, Denis Babson (holding casserole); Mrs. Babson and Mrs. Miller. Same group at the right, perhaps singing in the face of Winter's threats — "It's Always Fair Weather — When Good Fellows Get Together." (Our photographer Don Kuttler . . . on the spot).
