Crater Cafe Changes Hands

FORT KLAMATH — With the arrival of the official tavern license transfer from the Oregon Liquor Control Commission, Don Wimer assumed sole management of the Crater Lake Cafe and Tavern. Formerly he leased the business, with option to buy, from Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olson.
 The Olsons, with their young daughters Christine and Yvonne, moved last week to Medford. Change of management was necessary due to Olson's ill health.
 The property, which Olson bought last summer from Charles J. Brisco, includes a large modern restaurant, bar and living quarters. The Fort Klamath post office is located in a separate wing of the building.
 This is Wimer's first venture into private enterprise. He has lived in Fort Klamath all his life, is a graduate of Chiloquien High School and Oregon Technical Institute. Until recently he was engaged in logging operations.
 Young Wimer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Wimer, owners of the Fort Klamath Garage. He, his wife, and son Jimmy live in Fort Klamath.
 Wimer plans to operate only the tavern end of the business and will sub-lease the restaurant. Considerable remodeling and redecoration of the interior will be completed this week.

Bonneville Contract Let

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Department officials said Tuesday the Bonneville Power Administration has been authorized to award a $403,650 contract for a three-unit transformer to Maloney Electric Co., St. Louis.
 "The American firm got the contract under the bid specifications, the officials told a reporter, although two foreign firms bid lower. It was the second time in a month that an American firm got a Bonneville contract although underbid by foreign firms.
 Officials said that among the specifications was a requirement that the company receiving the contract must have had experience in design, construction, testing, and actual operation of such transformers, which are actually auto-transformers and described as being "very complicated."

Youth Freed In Court Case

A young divorcee's story of how she fired two shots at her ex-husband failed to convince District Judge D. E. Van Vactor Tuesday that the man invaded her home with intent to commit assault and battery.
 The court dismissed a charge of burglary in a dwelling house against Clarence L. Hamilton, 23, at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing. His wife, Aileen Bell Hamilton had him arrested January 15 after she wounded him in the hip with a pistol.
 The 29-year-old divorcee took the witness stand and, under questioning by deputy District Attorney Robert Kerr, calmly described how she shot Hamilton.
 "I fired the first shot after he ripped the screen off the window," she told the court. "He had all but one leg through the window when I fired the second shot. At first I thought the first bullet had struck him in the stomach. After I fired the second shot, he grabbed his leg. Then I knew I hit him there."
 Under cross-examination by Defense Attorney George Proctor, Mrs. Hamilton denied that she and the defendant lived together after a divorce was granted on January 5. The couple was married on the Fourth of July in 1953 and Mrs. Hamilton indicated there had been "plenty of fireworks" during their brief marital life.

Salem Editor Celebrates Anniversary

SALEM (AP) — Charles A. Sprague celebrated his 25th anniversary Tuesday as publisher of the Oregon Statesman.
 Looking back on his quarter century as owner and editor of Salem's morning newspaper, Sprague wrote it has been "interesting, strenuous and fruitful."
 He came here from Corvallis, becoming governor eight years later. His newspaper, which observed its centennial in 1951, tripled its circulation under Sprague's leadership. It was merged with the Capital Journal last month, but the news and editorial departments of the two newspapers remain separate.
 "I cannot promise to carry on for another 25 years," Sprague wrote in his morning column, "but I am confident that the Statesman will continue indefinitely as a newspaper dedicated to public service, and I hope to serve as its editor and publisher to the end of my active career."

Lumber Bureau Reports on '52

PORTLAND (AP) — The Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau reported Monday that the West Coast shipped 11.7 per cent more lumber by sea last year than in 1951.
 Figures covered shipments from Northern California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. The 1952 total was slightly more than 3 1/2 billion board feet compared with a little less than 3 billion in 1951.
 The largest gain, 105 per cent, was reported by Northern California with a total of 94 million board feet.
 British Columbia showed a gain of 21.2 per cent, mostly due to shipments to eastern U. S. ports. The British Columbia total was 1,391,664,206 feet.
 Western Washington shipments were up 14.1 per cent, much of it due to shipments for the armed forces from Willapa and Grays Harbors. Washington's total was 703,869,563 feet.
 Oregon, with shipments of 1,238,454,782, was down 2 per cent.

Albany Man On Grog Board

SALEM (AP) — Lowell Seaton, Albany building-supply company owner, was appointed by Gov. Paterson Tuesday to the Oregon Liquor Control Commission.
 He succeeded W. A. Spangler, Klamath Falls, who resigned after five years of service on the commission.
 At the same time, the governor announced that Lester Ireland, Hillsboro, will become chairman of the commission, succeeding Spangler. Ireland was appointed to the commission several months ago.
 Seaton has operated his building supply firm for seven years. Before that, he was manager of a lumber yard in Albany for 20 years.
 Seaton is a native of Yamhill, and he and his former wife have lived in Albany since 1925. He is a former member of the Albany City Council, and now is on the city zoning commission.
 The governor said he accepted Spangler's resignation "with a great deal of regret." He added that Spangler resigned for business reasons, and that the governor "did not feel justified in asking him to serve longer."

Unemployed Worker Killed Three; Takes Own Life

RICHLAND, Wash. (AP) — Three members of a Richland family were cut down in a burst of gunfire from a rifle wielded by an unemployed Hanford atomic plant worker Monday, who then turned the weapon on himself.
 Benton County coroner J. J. Albertowicz said it was a case of "triple murder and suicide."
 The victims were identified as Joseph V. Naranjo, 41, the gun wielder; his wife, Betsy, also 41; their adopted daughter, Dorothy, 3; and Mrs. Naranjo's father, Marion Bowers, 75.
 Naranjo, a 25-20 caliber rifle at his side, was found in the family's small home near the Richland "Y," a road junction between Richland and Kennewick.
 Also found in the home were the bodies of Bowers and the little girl. They were both in bed. The man had been shot twice, the girl once.
 Mrs. Naranjo's body was found on a dirt road outside the family home. There was a small still clutch in her hand.
 Cochran, Benton County coroner, said he believed the worker grabbed the knife in a moment of rage and shot her.
 She had been shot twice, the coroner said, once in the back and once in the chest.
 Apparently was running to her house for help when she was shot.
 The only known survivor of the family, a 13-year-old son, Robert, was sitting at the time of the shooting.
 The sheriff's office said it had been employed at the plant until about a month ago, that the family had been unemployed compensation then.
 They said Naranjo had been money from neighbors for a car license.
 Albertowicz said there was unemployment compensation then.
 Her chances of getting the appear problematical.
 Naranjo in her divorce charged her husband with maltreatment. The settlement of the divorce was agreed upon by the parties, but she may have escaped the divorce, the coroner said.
 It was the second such case in the area in 1952.
 The teen-age daughter of an Iranian diplomat and the Queen Farida. He divorced her in 1948.

Narriman Wins Quick On Divorce; Alimony Eye

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Beautiful, 20-year-old former Queen Narriman won a quick divorce in a Moslem religious court here today from hubby ex-King Farouk after a month of behind-the-scenes negotiations.
 The girl Farouk first saw in 1949 as she shopped for her engagement ring with another man renounced custody of her 2-year-old son, Ahmed Fuad, and also dropped her demand that the ex-King personally pay her monthly alimony of 5,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,400) and a dowry allowance of 10,000 pounds ($28,800).
 Instead, her lawyer said, she will ask President Mohamed Naguib's approval for a $100,000 alimony a year.
 Her lawyers said she was charged her husband with maltreatment. The settlement of the divorce was agreed upon by the parties, but she may have escaped the divorce, the coroner said.
 It was the second such case in the area in 1952.

Peewee Logs Pay Off For Farmer

SALEM (AP) — Farmers who grow peewee logs are cashing in because bad weather has curtailed regular logging operations. Gene Hanemann, state farm forester, said Tuesday.
 He said the peewee logs eight feet long and more than six inches in diameter are netting the farmers $16 a cord.
 Hanemann said farmers should salvage their beetle-infested timber now to prevent other trees from getting infested. There is a good market now for it.

Ship Survives Rock Smash

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — The Canadian passenger liner Prince George hit a rock in treacherous Seymour Narrows shortly before dawn Tuesday but escaped with only light apparent damage.
 A radio report from the 330-foot ship said it proceeded on through the narrows after the accident and hoisted to. It called only for a tug.
 The Canadian National ship was northbound on its regular run from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, B.C., and Southeast Alaska. It struck at about 6:30 a. m. PST.
 Foggy conditions have been prevailing along the coast.
 Seymour Narrows is about 200 miles north of Seattle and 100 north of Vancouver. It is a winding channel of fast-flowing tidal waters. Vessels normally travel it only during slack water periods.
 Two salvage vessels set out for the scene to give whatever aid is needed. A Canadian National spokesman here said the ship would return to Vancouver for dry-docking and probably will be able to resume its run next Monday.
