WASHINGTON (AP) — Revenue Commission T. Coleman Andrews thinks the government can relieve about 35 million taxpayers from filing any individual income tax return at all next year—though they would still pay the tax.

And he plans to double the number of revenue agents, now about 8,000, by adding 1,000 new agents a year to pick up 1½ to 2 billion dollars in taxes he says the government is now missing, and check what he called a growing tide of evasion.

Andrews outlined these and other far-reaching plans during closed hearings two weeks ago before a House Appropriations subcommittee on his agency's budget.

Red Cross To Hold Practice

Richard F. Gordon, director of field services from the San Francisco headquarters of the American Red Cross, will be the principal speaker at a disaster institute to be presented by the local chapter, Tuesday, February 16 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the veterans memorial hall, Joe V. LaClair, local civil defense administrator, will present civil defense plans for meeting disaster within this community.

Gordon has directed the relief operations of the Red Cross in many major disasters, including the Vauport flood. He will present a situation that could occur within this community. Civil defense and Red Cross volunteers will then work out under his guidance their respective responsibilities and functions in meeting the emergency.

Red Cross canteen workers will serve lunch to the group. Mrs. Elizabeth Petersteiner, chairman of the American Legion auxiliary unit of the canteen, is in charge.

Klamath Falls has been designated as one of 45 Pacific Coast cities requested by the National Red Cross to have in readiness, disaster preparedness plans. Otto L. Smith, local Red Cross disaster chairman, urges all key disaster volunteers to attend the institute.

Legion To Hear Park Director

Bob Bonney, city park and recreation director, will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary to be held Tuesday evening, February 16, at 8 p.m. at the Memorial Hall, Fourth and Klamath.

His subject will be: "Recreation in the Community."

Mrs. Leah Glubrecht is community service chairman of the auxiliary and in charge of the program.

Nixon Urges Backing Of Ike Program

SEATTLE (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon told a Seattle audience Saturday night it is up to the Republican administration "to prove that it is possible in today's world for America to have peace and prosperity at the same time."

Speaking at a Lincoln Day banquet sponsored by the King County Young Men's Republican Club, Nixon called for a united effort aimed at Republicans, independent voters and Democrats to elect a "clear, working Republican majority in the House and Senate" in November.

The vice president said election of a Democratic Congress would be interpreted as a blow to President Eisenhower and his program.

"If this administration's middle-of-the-road program is repudiated by the Congress, and the Republicans are defeated at the polls, the alternative inevitably will be a swing to the far left with all the disastrous consequences that would mean to traditional American principles," he declared.

Calling upon Republicans to patch up intraparty differences, Nixon also urged that they refrain from excessive abuse of Democrats.

During the past week, he said, "velled threats have been made by several Democratic leaders that they would refuse to cooperate with the President's program if Republicans did not discontinue their threats of the previous administration."

Nixon said while he has cautioned Republicans not to be too sharp in their criticism, he does not believe Democrats can afford to oppose the President's program.

"The program, he declared, 'will be approved in substantial form because it is so popular with the people.'"

Newsmen Tour East Germany

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists took a group of Western correspondents sightseeing in East Germany Sunday but eagle-eyed them as strictly as if they'd been Sunday schoolers at a burlesque house.

It was a short trip, too—just 17 miles from Berlin to Potsdam, residence of Prussian kings and German emperors and site of the 1945 Big Three conference.

Two carloads of East German plainclothesmen joined the three outsiders of Western and Far Eastern correspondents at the East Zone border and dogged their heels throughout the day.

Under the management of East German press officials, the tour went off without a hitch but the news men were depressed and harassed by the close supervision and the open suspicion they might get loose to see something embarrassing to the Reds.

Every time a correspondent stopped to look at a picture or book in the palaces or scribbled a note one of the Red plainclothesmen trotted to his elbow.

One newsmen who turned his camera on three of the operatives precipitated a fine show as each tried to get behind another.

The tour conductors kept the newsmen in a tight little knot. The only time anyone broke away briefly, they learned only that one pedestrian would be mighty glad if the border barriers were lowered so shoes and clothing on the Russian side might be better.

Police Capture Escaped Convict

PORTLAND (AP) — One of two men who escaped from the Washington State Reformatory at Monroe last week was captured Sunday night by Portland police after he had walked out of a tavern.

He is Louis Earl Reifenstein, 34, Seattle. Police charged him with armed assault and robbery in the holdup of a Safeway store here last Friday. Bail was set at $10,000. He also was held as a fugitive from Washington state.

The search continued for the second reformatory escapee, Ralph Elmer Lockery, who also is wanted for questioning about the Safeway holdup.
