

Radio Log

KFLW-1440 Kc. - PST
 Wednesday Evening, Feb. 17
 6:00 Crime Photographer CBS
 6:30 Time Out ABC
 7:00 The Lone Ranger ABC
 7:25 Les Griffin ABC
 7:30 Longline Symphonette CBS
 8:00 FBI in Peace & War CBS
 8:30 Lowell Thomas CBS
 8:45 Family Skelton CBS
 9:00 Baseball CBS
 9:15 Julius & La Rosa CBS
 9:30 That's Rich CBS
 10:00 10 P.M. Headlines
 10:15 Lum & Abner ABC
 10:30 Sam's Other Show
 10:45 Kilocycle Club
 11:00 Sign Off News Summary
 11:15 Sign Off

KFLW-1440 Kc. - PST
 Thursday, Feb. 18
 6:00 Early Bird News
 6:05 Alarm Clock Club
 6:30 Hafter's Almanac
 6:45 County Agent
 6:55 Music
 7:00 News - Breakfast Edition
 7:10 Charlie's Roundup
 7:20 Frank Conroy CBS
 7:45 Harry Radotti CBS
 8:00 Kilocycle Club ABC
 8:00 Blue Skies
 8:15 Chet Huntley ABC
 8:30 Helen Trent CBS
 8:45 Our Gal Sunday
 9:15 Radio Living
 9:30 Sam Hayes News MBS
 10:00 Young Dr. Malone CBS
 10:45 Marion Faxon CBS
 10:55 Whispering Streets ABC
 11:15 Perry Mason CBS
 11:30 Noon Edition News
 11:45 Brighter Day CBS
 12:00 Noon Edition News
 12:15 Payless Sideline Show
 12:30 House Party CBS
 1:00 Sam Hayes News MBS
 1:15 Arthur Godfrey CBS
 1:45 Hank Henry Show
 2:00 Arthur Godfrey CBS
 2:45 Ted Malone ABC
 3:00 Wizard of Odds CBS
 3:15 Ruth Ashton CBS
 3:30 Doris Bell, ABC
 3:45 Ralph Story's Backyard CBS
 3:55 Hank Henry Show
 4:00 Grand Central Station ABC
 4:25 Basin Briefs
 4:35 Sam with Wynne
 4:45 When a Girl Marries ABC
 5:00 Edward Murrow CBS
 5:15 Leo's Photo School
 5:30 Today's Sports Highlights
 5:45 Frank Conroy CBS
 5:55 Home Town
 6:00 Meet Mr. McNulty CBS
 6:30 Record Derby
 7:00 On Stage CBS
 7:30 Choralaires CBS
 8:00 Meet Mike CBS
 8:35 Lowell Thomas CBS
 8:45 Family Skelton CBS
 9:00 Baseball CBS
 9:15 Doctor's Orders
 9:30 Mystery Theater ABC
 10:00 10 P.M. Headlines
 10:15 Lum & Abner ABC
 10:30 Sam's Other Show
 10:45 Kilocycle Club
 11:00 Sign Off News Summary
 11:15 Sign Off

KFJJ - 1150 Kc. - PST
 Wednesday Evening, Feb. 17
 6:00 Gabriel Heatter MBS
 6:15 Evening Edition Local News
 6:25 Hollywood Highlights
 6:30 Virgil Pinkley News, DLBS
 6:45 Sam Hayes News DLBS
 7:00 Squad Room CBS
 7:30 Sports Report
 7:40 According to the Record
 7:45 Perry Como Show MBS
 8:00 I Was a Communist for the FBI
 8:30 Newspaper of the Air MBS
 8:45 Fulton Lewis, Jr. MBS
 9:30 Klamath Falls Armory
 9:30 Wrestling
 9:45 Harry Warner Sports MBS

KFJJ - 1150 Kc. - PST
 Wednesday Evening, Feb. 17
 6:00 Devotions
 6:05 Feminine Fancies
 6:30 Val Rogie
 6:50 Uncle Bill's Adventure Time
 6:55 Western Theater
 7:15 Capt. Video
 8:00 News
 8:40 Shopping So. Ore.
 9:00 Industry on Parade
 9:15 County Agent
 9:25 Boston Blackie
 9:50 Liberate
 9:55 Amos & Andy

9:55 Music Box Medley Time
 11:00 Sign Off
KFJJ - 1150 Kc. - PST
 Thursday, Feb. 18
 6:00 Sunrise Serenade
 6:30 Farm Report
 6:45 Sons of the Pioneers
 7:00 Frank Hemingway News, DLBS
 7:15 Breakfast Gang, DLBS
 7:30 Today's Best Buys
 7:45 Bob Green's Local News
 7:55 Something to Think About, DLBS
 8:00 Breakfast Gang, DLBS
 8:15 Bob Green's News, DLBS
 8:30 Holland Ernie News, MBS
 8:45 Capt. Video
 8:55 Gaudy Star
 9:00 Melody Manor, DLBS
 9:15 A. V. Way to Currier
 9:20 Gabriel Heatter, MBS
 9:30 Cardinal Milk Time
 9:45 Music Of Manhattan
 10:00 Newspaper of the Air, DLBS
 10:15 Tello Test, DLBS
 10:30 From My Heart
 10:45 Music
 10:55 Visit to La Pointe's
 11:00 Wonderful City, MBS
 11:15 News, MBS
 11:30 Queen for a Day, MBS
 11:50 Tips From the Town Shop
 12:15 Noonday Edition Local News
 12:30 Rest on Record
 12:45 Korn Kobblers
 1:00 The Hour of Stars
 1:05 Dick Powell
 1:15 News
 1:30 Standard School Broadcast, DLBS
 1:45 Sam Hayes News, DLBS
 2:05 Northwest News, DLBS
 2:15 Music, DLBS
 2:30 Bob Green's News, MBS
 2:45 South Sixth Street Varieties
 3:15 Hurlstree, DLBS
 3:30 Kirkwood Show, DLBS
 3:45 Town and Country Time
 4:15 Frank Hemingway News, DLBS
 4:30 Curt Massey Time, MBS
 4:45 Sam Hayes News, DLBS
 5:00 Sergeant Preston, MBS
 5:15 Tello Test, DLBS
 5:30 Cecil Brown News, MBS
 5:45 Gabriel Heatter, MBS
 5:55 Final Edition, News, MBS
 6:25 Hollywood Highlights
 6:30 Virgil Pinkley News, DLBS
 6:45 Sam Hayes News, DLBS
 6:55 Bill Henry, MBS
 7:00 Sports Report
 7:40 According to the Record
 7:45 Perry Como Show, MBS
 8:00 Crime Fighters, MBS
 8:15 Never Know
 8:45 Harmonica
 9:00 Newspaper of the Air, DLBS
 9:15 Fulton Lewis, Jr., MBS
 9:30 Moonlight Melody Time
 9:45 Harry Warner Sports, MBS
 9:55 Music Box Medley Time
 11:00 Sign Off

KBSB-TV-MEDFORD
 Channel 5
 Wednesday, Feb. 17
 3:55 Devotions
 4:05 Feminine Fancies
 4:30 Val Rogie
 5:00 Uncle Bill's Adventure Time
 5:15 Western Theater
 5:45 Capt. Video
 6:00 News
 6:40 Shopping So. Ore.
 7:00 Industry on Parade
 7:15 County Agent
 7:25 Boston Blackie
 7:50 Liberate
 7:55 Amos & Andy

9:55 Life is Worth Living
 10:30 Best Theater
 10:45 Weather
 10:55 Sign Off
Thursday, Feb. 18
 3:50 Devotions
 4:05 Feminine Fancies
 4:30 Gary Moore
 4:55 Val Rogie
 5:00 Uncle Bill's Adventure Time
 5:15 Western Theater
 5:45 Capt. Video
 6:00 News
 6:40 Shopping So. Ore.
 7:00 Cisco Kid
 7:25 Hollywood About
 7:45 Sportsman's Club
 8:00 Groucho Marx
 8:30 4 Star Playhouse
 9:00 Lux Video Theater
 9:30 Ford Theater
 10:00 Favorite Story
 10:45 Weather

Seattle Red Trial Extended
 SEATTLE (AP) - Federal Judge William J. Lindberg Tuesday granted six Pacific Northwest Communist Party officials an extension until April 1 to perfect appeals of Federal Court convictions to the Circuit Court of Appeals in San Francisco.
 Five of the defendants, Henry Huff, Barbara Hartle, Terry Pettus, John Darsbach and Paul Bowen, were convicted last October of conspiring to teach violent overthrow of the government.
 The sixth, Herbert J. Phillips, a witness at the trial, was convicted of contempt of court.
 Attorneys for the six asked for an extension until April 1, Judge Lindberg gave them until April 1 and suggested they ask the Circuit Court for additional time.
 Ass. U. S. attorney Richard D. Harris, in affidavits filed with the court, protested the extension contending the six were using "stalling and delaying tactics" in making the appeals.

Marriage Helped By Customs Men
 INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP) - A displaced Polish couple was honeymooning in Ontario today after customs and immigration men helped play cupid in a marriage ceremony performed on the International Bridge here.
 Joseph Dyczyk, 37, and Maria Kryz, 27, were childhood sweethearts until the war separated them. Miss Kryz came to the United States from Germany in 1950 as a displaced person. Dyczyk arrived in Canada on the same basis recently.
 American immigration laws prevented Dyczyk from coming here to claim his bride. And Canada's regulations made it impossible for Miss Kryz to get a license there.
 J. N. Smith, a Port Frances, Ont., attorney, paved the way for the ceremony a few hours before Valentine's Day when he helped the bride-to-be get a marriage license here.
 Then the couple was married in the customs house on the bridge, with American and Canadian officials looking on after they had bent the rigid regulations of both nations a little bit.

Cattle Lists Up In Oregon
 PORTLAND (AP) - The Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Tuesday there were fewer hogs in Oregon last year than at any time on record.
 The agency listed the number at 101,000 - a 28 per cent decrease from the previous year.
 There was a 4 per cent increase in the number of cattle, reaching 1,429,000 head - an all-time high.
 Sheep totaled 669,000, about the same as the previous year.
 Turkeys were up 12 per cent to 296,000 but chickens were down 3 per cent to 3,432,000.
 The valuations of all animals and poultry were down except for hogs and turkeys. Hog value was up 9 per cent and turkeys up 21 per cent.

Miners Lights Aid Library Workers
 NEW YORK (AP) - A new lighting system is being installed in the New York Public Library's book stacks.
 In the meantime, employees were equipped with flashlights to locate books on the unlighted shelves. But they had a tough time manipulating flashlights when their arms were loaded with volumes.
 The library has found a solution: It's ordered 48 miner's head lamps.

Well Drillers Plan Meeting
 The Oregon Well Drillers Association, organized several years ago, is holding a meeting Saturday, February 20, in the Winema Hotel. Representatives are expected from Klamath Falls, Merrill, Tulelake, Malin, Dorris, Lakeview, Medford, Grants Pass, Bend, Madras and Redmond. Wives of members have also been invited to attend.
 A cocktail and social hour, 5-7:30 p.m. and a turkey dinner at 8 p.m. will follow the business meeting in the hotel from 2 until 5 o'clock.
 Officers of the association will give information on the future water code; insurance for well drillers; water rights for the customer and the future of the well drilling industry in Oregon.
 Under discussion also will be future plans of the new Water Resources Commission and the legislation to be written for the 1955 state legislature. The first draft of the proposed water code will be presented at the meeting. On this code will depend much of the future stability of the drilling business according to officers of the association.
 The meeting is also planned to better acquaint well drillers from the various parts of the state with the aims, problems and purposes of the industry this year.
 Membership in the organization is not required for attendance at the meeting and all persons connected with the business are invited to attend and express opinions.
 Room reservations will be available for those traveling long distances.
 Further information may be had from E. E. Story, of the board of directors of the association, by calling 3990.

Tulelake Grange Sponsors Party
 TULELAKE - Tulelake grangers met February 11 for the usual order business in the Grange hall, recently moved from the Garfield district where it has been used for a school, to a lot in Tulelake. Twenty loads of gravel have been hauled to the site and spread.
 Kitchen improvements were discussed during the business meeting and members voted to sponsor a public card party at 8 p.m., February 25, to raise funds for improving the building. Each grange couple is asked to invite a table of players. Mrs. Leonard Meschke will be in charge of arrangements.
 There will be prizes and refreshments.
 Grange obligations were conferred on Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ryckman by H. T. Street, master.

NAVAL AID
 TOKYO (AP) - Three support landing craft will be turned over to the Nationalist Chinese navy Friday at the U.S. naval base at Yokosuka, the Navy said tonight.

Long TV Kiss Draws Protest
 CHICAGO (AP) - A disc jockey was fired yesterday for kissing a Hollywood starlet for more than two minutes on his television program in what he termed an experiment testing the reaction of TV audiences.
 The reaction, said an official of station WBBK, an American Broadcasting Co. affiliate, came from hundreds of women viewers after the marathon kissing episode involving Jack Elgen, radio and TV veteran, and Cleo Moore, film starlet.
 A station spokesman said the women protested the long kiss, and charged Elgen with "vulgarity," "coarseness," and "bad taste."
 The station told Elgen in a telegram notifying him of his dismissal that the kissing exhibition on his telecast Monday night was in "extreme poor taste." It added that the long kiss "under no circumstances can be considered acceptable television fare in the homes of our viewers."
 "I have no guilty conscience," said Elgen, a former New York disc jockey. "I have been happily married for 14 years, and my wife knew what I planned for the program. If she had thought there was anything un ladylike or rude about it, she would have told me."

Brazilians Show Coffee Damage
 SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) - At least four U. S. housewives have about decided the Brazilians are right in blaming the weatherman for the high price of coffee.
 The quartet, a delegation from the U. S. General Confederation of Women's Clubs, just completed a three-day tour of the coffee producing areas of Sao Paulo and Parana. They said they were "amazed and distressed" by the extent of damage to the coffee trees from severe frosts last July.
 Disturbed by U.S. charges of profiteering and talks of boycotts, the Brazilian Coffee Institute is giving them a 10-day expense-paid tour in an effort to show soaring coffee prices are the result of weather-produced crop shortages.
 Further information may be had from E. E. Story, of the board of directors of the association, by calling 3990.

Speech Tournament Held In Portland
 PORTLAND (AP) - The sixth annual Northwestern Intercollegiate Town Meeting speech tournament was won by Lewis Hampton of Willamette University.
 Thirty-nine speakers from 13 Northwest colleges participated in the Portland State College sponsored contest which ended Tuesday.
 Each of the contestants took part in four panel discussions before Portland club gatherings. Subject of the discussions was "What should our policy be toward Russia?"
 The winner was selected on the basis of audience rating.
 Other winners were named in this order: Augustine Opl, Seattle Pacific College; John Osborn, Pacific Lutheran; Phil McLennan, Pacific University; William Check, University of Oregon; and George Fisher, Seattle Pacific.

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Well Drillers Plan Meeting
 The Oregon Well Drillers Association, organized several years ago, is holding a meeting Saturday, February 20, in the Winema Hotel. Representatives are expected from Klamath Falls, Merrill, Tulelake, Malin, Dorris, Lakeview, Medford, Grants Pass, Bend, Madras and Redmond. Wives of members have also been invited to attend.
 A cocktail and social hour, 5-7:30 p.m. and a turkey dinner at 8 p.m. will follow the business meeting in the hotel from 2 until 5 o'clock.
 Officers of the association will give information on the future water code; insurance for well drillers; water rights for the customer and the future of the well drilling industry in Oregon.
 Under discussion also will be future plans of the new Water Resources Commission and the legislation to be written for the 1955 state legislature. The first draft of the proposed water code will be presented at the meeting. On this code will depend much of the future stability of the drilling business according to officers of the association.
 The meeting is also planned to better acquaint well drillers from the various parts of the state with the aims, problems and purposes of the industry this year.
 Membership in the organization is not required for attendance at the meeting and all persons connected with the business are invited to attend and express opinions.
 Room reservations will be available for those traveling long distances.
 Further information may be had from E. E. Story, of the board of directors of the association, by calling 3990.

Tulelake Grange Sponsors Party
 TULELAKE - Tulelake grangers met February 11 for the usual order business in the Grange hall, recently moved from the Garfield district where it has been used for a school, to a lot in Tulelake. Twenty loads of gravel have been hauled to the site and spread.
 Kitchen improvements were discussed during the business meeting and members voted to sponsor a public card party at 8 p.m., February 25, to raise funds for improving the building. Each grange couple is asked to invite a table of players. Mrs. Leonard Meschke will be in charge of arrangements.
 There will be prizes and refreshments.
 Grange obligations were conferred on Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ryckman by H. T. Street, master.

NAVAL AID
 TOKYO (AP) - Three support landing craft will be turned over to the Nationalist Chinese navy Friday at the U.S. naval base at Yokosuka, the Navy said tonight.

Wool Growers Back Subsidy Program
 PORTLAND (AP) - The federal administration's wool subsidy program Tuesday received the approval of directors of the Pacific Wool Growers.
 The organization earlier had urged instead an increase in wool tariffs.

Bids Submitted For New Dorm
 PORTLAND (AP) - Bids ran higher than expected for construction of an addition to a men's dormitory at the University of Oregon. The building committee of the State Board of Higher Education reported Tuesday.
 The lowest combination of bids was $75,000 higher than the $1,250,000 available for the project - an addition for John Staub Hall.
 The matter will be referred to the state board for action at a March 8 meeting.

Wool Growers Back Subsidy Program
 PORTLAND (AP) - The federal administration's wool subsidy program Tuesday received the approval of directors of the Pacific Wool Growers.
 The organization earlier had urged instead an increase in wool tariffs.

Wool Growers Back Subsidy Program
 PORTLAND (AP) - The federal administration's wool subsidy program Tuesday received the approval of directors of the Pacific Wool Growers.
 The organization earlier had urged instead an increase in wool tariffs.

Wool Growers Back Subsidy Program
 PORTLAND (AP) - The federal administration's wool subsidy program Tuesday received the approval of directors of the Pacific Wool Growers.
 The organization earlier had urged instead an increase in wool tariffs.

Wool Growers Back Subsidy Program
 PORTLAND (AP) - The federal administration's wool subsidy program Tuesday received the approval of directors of the Pacific Wool Growers.
 The organization earlier had urged instead an increase in wool tariffs.

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-

Jobless Lists Increased By New Counting Methods; Number Still Under 1950
 WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said today new government unemployment statistics support his contention that the nation already is in a recession.
 The Commerce Department announced last night that a new method of gathering data indicates unemployment in early January totaled 3,087,000 or 728,000 more than a previous report showed.
 The department said its Census Bureau collected statistics over a much wider area than before. Secretary Weeks said studies will be made to tell whether the new or old method is more accurate.
 Douglas said in an interview the new unemployment total for early January "supports my previous contention that the unemployment figures issued by the Commerce Department have been drastically understated."
 And some Republicans privately questioned the political wisdom of changing sampling methods at this time.
 One Republican leader in the Senate said in another interview he could not understand switching to a new statistical method at a time Democrats were shouting "recession." He asked not to be quoted by name.
 But Sen. Ferguson (R-Md.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, disagreed with his Republican colleagues who grumbled privately about possible adverse political repercussions.
 "This does not change my mind at all about statements that we are entering a depression," he said. "We are not."
 The new figure, he said, showed unemployment at about 5 per cent of the labor force, while normally he said, it is about 3 per cent.
 The old method pegged unemployment at 2,259,000 the first week in January. The difference was almost entirely accounted for by an increase in the number of persons credited to the labor force, which consists of all persons working or looking for work.
 The Commerce Department for years has not counted as unemployed those workers who are "temporarily" laid off. But Douglas has maintained they should be added in, since he has claimed temporary layoffs often extend well beyond stipulated 30-day periods.
 Under the old method of sampling, Weeks said, Census Bureau workers asked questions at about 25,000 households in 68 areas covering 123 counties.
 The new method, he said, spreads the sample into 230 areas covering approximately 450 counties. The same number of households was visited.
 The new survey, it was under-