Federal Judge Jails Union Leaders In Rackets Probe

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A persistent federal judge and equally persistent AFL labor officials were locked in a fight today over whether a union's financial records will be turned over to a grand jury investigating reports of labor racketeering.

Two officials—Harold J. Gibbons, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 688, and Louis Berra, his assistant—have gone to jail rather than turn over the records.

U.S. Dist. Judge George H. Moore ordered both men held in city jail for contempt of court until the records are presented to the jury. Berra went to jail yesterday and Gibbons, jailed Wednesday, was returned to his cell after refusing a second time to produce the records.

The local president, William Latal, and three members of the local's Executive Committee have been subpoenaed to appear before the jury today with the records, which Judge Moore says they will have "sooner or later."

Dave Beck, international president of the Teamsters Union, was reported considering appointment of a trustee to take over the local from present officials and instructing the trustee to make the records available.

Beck, in Miami Beach, Fla., for a meeting of the union's General Executive Board, could not be reached for comment and this report from Teamster sources could not be immediately confirmed.

The local—Missouri's largest with 10,000 members—figures it is fighting to keep its records from unreasonable search and seizure.

It has planned on an all-out fight.

A special committee has been set up to administer the local's affairs should all members of the Executive Board be jailed for contempt.

Shop stewards of the local have pledged full support, voting to use, if necessary, the final resources of the union, including a $150,000 "security fund."

Judge Moore's position is equally clear. He told one of the union's attorneys:

"I don't believe the law is such an ass as you would have people believe. I don't believe the law is so limited that one man saying taking the books might incriminate him would keep the books from lawful authorities. They (the grand jury) have the right to have those books, and sooner or later they are going to have them."

It was Judge Moore who called for a grand jury probe of reports of labor racketeering in eastern Missouri last spring. The inquiry, which is continuing under a second jury, has resulted in indictments against 16 AFL union officials on charges of violation of the anti-racketeering law.

Paul H. Hulahan, business agent of Building Laborers' Local 42 and the first official to be tried, was convicted and sentenced to 12 years in prison and fined $8,000. He has appealed the conviction.

A second trial, involving three more union officials, is under way here.

Eisenhower Meets With GOP Leaders

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The political advice President Eisenhower gets from Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California is this: if you want to defeat the Democrats at the polls, be kind to them.

The Republican governor visited with Eisenhower for half an hour yesterday at the President's vacation retreat here. And Knight said to newsmen after the session:

"I told the President his recent announcement that the best kind of Republicanism is to avoid bitter condemnation of Democrats is very popular in California, because that is the way we have been beating the New Deal here for 20 years."

Knight was alluding to Eisenhower's statement Feb. 10 that he is against extreme political partisanship.

Knight visited Eisenhower with California Republican National Committeeman Ronald Button, who told reporters the President and his program rate high with Californians. Button said he gave Eisenhower a report to that effect based on a cross-section study of sentiment in the state, a study which he declared included the views of Democrats and Republicans alike.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here Wednesday evening for a five-day vacation at the Smoke Tree Ranch home of Paul H. Helms, Los Angeles bakery executive. Aides to Eisenhower indicated, however, that he is enjoying himself so much his stay may be extended beyond Monday.

The President tentatively scheduled a round of golf today at the popular Thunderbird course after shooting a reported 87 for 18 holes at the exclusive Tamarisk Country Club yesterday.

Newsmen heard that Ben Hogan, one of golf's topnotchers and Tamarisk's pro, fired a 4 under par 68 as Eisenhower's partner. They teamed up against Helms and Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker Corp. who, with Helms, is co-host to the Eisenhowers on this vacation.

Bensons Butter Support Cuts Listed By Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced Thursday that the cut in support prices for top grade butter will average about 8 ¼ cents a pound.

The reduction reflects the decision by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, announced Monday, to cut dairy supports from the present level of 90 per cent of parity to 75 per cent, effective April 1.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in terms of prices they pay.

The support buying price, the department said, will range from 57 ½ cents to 58 ¼ cents, varying by base markets.

Benson in announcing the support price cut said it was expected to be reflected in retail prices. He took the stand that present supports are discouraging consumption of dairy products and causing excessive supplies to move into government hands. The government now owns more than 50 million dollars worth of such products.

The government's new buying prices for cheddar cheese, also effective April 1, will be 32.25 cents a pound for grade A or higher compared with 37 cents now.

The new price for U.S. extra grade non-fat dried milk will be 15 cents a pound for the spray process type compared with 16 cents now, and 13.25 for the roller process type compared with 14 cents now.

The department said these prices for dairy products were designed to enable processors pay dairymen $3.14 for 100 pounds of milk and 56 cents a pound for butter fat. The present dairy product support prices are designed to reflect $3.74 for milk and 67.3 for butter fat.

The new butter prices for U.S. grade A or higher by base markets included: 57 ½ cents a pound at Chicago, San Francisco and Seattle, and 58 ¼ at New York, compared with present prices of 65 ¾ cents at Chicago, 66 ½ at New York and 66 ¾ at San Francisco and Seattle.

The new prices for U.S. grade B butter were set at 55.5 cents at Chicago, San Francisco and Seattle and 56.25 at New York, compared with present prices of 63.75 at Chicago, 64.5 at New York and 64.75 at San Francisco and Seattle.

Buying prices for butter at points other than these base markets will be at the price of the base market named by the seller, less deductions for transportation to the designated market.

In providing the same base prices for butter at Seattle and San Francisco as for Chicago, the department said it followed recommendations of dairy producer ample in the West now and no special price incentive was needed to move supplies there.

Himalayas Again To Be Scaled

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An expedition made up mainly of young scientists left here last night to begin an attempt to scale the world's fourth highest mountain, Makalu, in the Himalayas near Mt. Everest.

The nine members of the party left for Tokyo aboard a plane from Travis Air Force Base. From there they will fly to Calcutta, then go by rail to a little town in India near the border of Nepal, an independent state. Makalu, never before climbed, is on the boundary line between Nepal and Soviet-dominated Tibet.

Scientific information on what happens to humans under the stresses of extreme cold, high altitude and danger will be the main object of the expedition, although its mountain-climbing experts hope to scale the 27,790-foot peak. The attempt will probably be made in May.

The expedition has the backing of the Air Force, the Navy, the California Academy of Sciences, the Sierra Club and the American Alpine Club.

Leader of the party is William Siri, University of California medical physicist.

Bricker Bill Amendments Said Dead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today chances for Senate passage of any constitutional amendment on the treaty powers are dead unless a provision already tentatively approved is stricken out.

This provision, sponsored by the four top Republican Senate leaders, was written into the proposed amendment by a 44 - 43 vote Wednesday.

It would amend Article VI of the Constitution to require that all future treaties cannot be the supreme law of the land unless made "in pursuance of the Constitution."

George, a leader among the Democrats on foreign affairs, voted against the provision on the ground it might cast a shadow over all treaties negotiated and ratified since the Constitution first was approved.

He said in an interview today that the Wednesday vote clearly showed the Senate would not pass any constitutional amendment so long as this provision remained in.

"Too many senators," he said, "have doubts about what the effect of this would be."

This group, he said, combined with those who do not want any change in the Constitution affecting treaties would comprise considerably more than one-third of the Senate.

It will take two-thirds vote of those present to pass any proposal for a constitutional change and send it to the House. Before this showdown, however, the resolution can be altered on the floor by a simple majority.

The senate resumes debate today on the constitutional change first proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio). However, no more votes are expected until next Tuesday.

Pending now is an amendment by Bricker to his own original proposal. It would state that a treaty or other international agreement cannot become effective as domestic law unless Congress passes legislation on it, or unless the Senate so provides by a two-thirds vote in ratifying a treaty. Other executive agreements are not subject to Senate approval.

Damages Denied By Jury Action

A verdict denying damages to Inez Lane in her action against Walter T. Moore and Carl Gibson, as the result of an automobile accident, was returned late Thursday by a jury in Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg's court.

Mrs. Lane was seeking $10,000 for injuries allegedly suffered in a car crash on the Merrill highway in December, 1952. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney U.S. Balentine.

Counsel for the defendants were Attorneys Edwin E. Driscoll and Ben Goddard.

Prankster Sends Unkind Wire

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A five - day dream that his soldier son might still be alive was ended today for Walter Tartar, 64-year-old shipyard worker.

Tartar conceded early this morning as he went to bed that he had been a victim of a vicious hoax. He had received a telegram last Saturday with the words "Hello Pop. Will be home on Thursday. Dick." It was sent from New York city.

His son, Pvt. Richard Tartar, 21, was reported by the Army to have been killed in action in Korea 11 months ago. A sealed coffin and his personal papers arrived here last summer.

With only a father's hope, Tartar waited up past midnight before sadly shaking his head and telling a group of reporters and photographers who kept the vigil with him:

"I won't be satisfied until the one who did it goes to jail."

Marriage Presents Problem To Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The prosecution's chief witness has married the defendant, presenting a special problem for the district attorney's office in the trial of a former county employe.

The case opened yesterday with selection of a jury to try Joseph M. Fowzer, 29, on charges of forgery and grand theft. Fowzer is now wed to the former Corrine Clazebal, 25, in whose bank account a $760 warrant, allegedly forged, was deposited. Fowzer worked for a county collection bureau.

A wife cannot testify against her husband.

Student Finds Parking Costly

BALTIMORE (AP) — A University of Maryland law student yesterday paid $264.50 in fines for a backlog of 46 parking tickets he had accumulated.

In addition, Daniel N. Silver told Magistrate S. Robert Levinson that he had paid off 50 other tickets after publicity that the court would crack down on traffic violators.

The student operates a business while going to school. He said the tickets were issued as he went in and out of his place of work.

College Students Fight Forest Fire

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—A forest fire near 9,000-foot Pennock Pass gave Colorado A&M forestry students a chance to put to use their classroom studies yesterday.

The blaze destroyed about 40 acres of scrub timber. It was under control by night.

The students were preparing for their annual Foresters' Day observance, starting today, when called to fight the fire.

Bathing Birds Youths Job

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Dick Patton, 24, is paid to bathe birds' feet on a busy downtown Springfield street corner at night.

The company for which he works smears a gooey substance on building ledges to discourage birds from roosting. The birds become entangled in the goo and fall to the sidewalk. Patton's job is to capture them, wash the goo from their feet and send them on their way.

In four hours last night he attended about a dozen birds. He said it takes about five munutes to spruce up a sparrow or starling. Pigeons take longer.

Warner Canyon Skiing Good

LAKEVIEW — District Forest Ranger Don Peters told the Herald and News today that Warner Canyon ski conditions are "excellent".

As of 7 a.m. Friday, there was 36 inches of snow with eight inches of new powder. The temperature was 26 degrees, with skies overcast.

If current conditions prevail, the snack bar and ski tow will be open Saturday and Sunday.

Flight Of Burning Owl Spreads Fire

BELOIT, Kan. (AP)—Burning weeds set a tree afire on the Emery Watson farm. An owl, nesting in the tree, flew nearly half a mile with its wings aflame and dropped on the Delmont Jones farm, starting a new fire.

The second fire spread to five other farms, burning 700 acres of pasture.
