Weyerhaeuser Camp 6

By ELEANOR THOMSON

Karen Gay Fairfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fairfield, was feted on her fourth birthday anniversary by a party given by her mother Thursday, February 11. Enjoying the festivities were her brother, Dickie, Bobby Morehead and Mr. Elmer Morehead, Mary Catherine Katchis and Mrs. Peter Katchis, Joanie Thomson and Mrs. Thomas Thomson. There were prizes and favors for everyone and a gala circus-theme luncheon with clown-head ice cream cones and a white and pink birthday cake. Games were played and Karen opened her gifts, then the group listened to recordings of "Hansel and Gretel" and "Peter and the Wolf."

On Saturday, February 13, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, accompanied by their four children and a friend, Beverly Ann Napier, dropped in on the birthday party of Darwin Vernon Huck Jr., at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Huck of 3224 Fawn Avenue, Klamath Falls. A feature of the entertainment was a movie made of the guests by Don Huck. Larry McVeight, formerly of Camp 6 and now of the Greensprings Highway, was also present.

Young Huck was seven years old on February 9 but had to delay his party until he recovered from chickenpox.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fairfield spent February 7 and 8 visiting relatives in Medford and Talent. Mrs. Fairfield's father, Sam James, has recently purchased a 30-acre ranch near Medford and he and his family were getting ready to move there. James was a long-time resident of camp.

Ronnie Chance of Bly was an overnight guest of J.C. Morehead last week. The two boys are eighth graders at Bly School.

Beverly Napier was a weekend guest of Irene Morris of Bly recent.

Mrs. Henry Napier is driving the children to meet the school bus at the Obenchain ranch during February.

Mrs. Thomas Thomson drove a carload of Bly School students to attend a panel-discussion on "Wetbacks, government problem or not?" held at Henley High School Wednesday, February 17.

The roads to camp are passable at this time but are rough and extremely rutty in spots.
