Beavers, Oregon Both Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Oregon State Beavers Saturday...

The Beavers, leading the loop with nine wins and four losses, had to come from behind in the final three minutes Friday night to nip Washington State, 51-48.

The second-place quint, Oregon, at 8-5, unveiled a promising sophomore in whipping the University of Washington Huskies, 63-59.

Washington State is the last place club at 3-9, Idaho, idle Friday night, holds down third at 7-6.

Ray Bell, who never before made a field goal in conference play, sparked Oregon's victory over the Ducks...

The Huskies started fast and had a 20-13 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The tournament now has five teams, two league champions and three at-large quintets.

Bruins Go To Front

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA's high-powered Bruins, who jumped from also-rans to top dog in two weeks, could wrap up a share of the Coast Conference Southern Division title Saturday night by beating Stanford's Indians again.

The clutch-shooting Westwooders moved into undisputed first place Friday night with a 92-77 victory over the Stanfords, while the USC Trojans were disposing of the suddenly inept California Bears, 56-36, in Los Angeles.

Bruin performance would assure the UCLA basketballers of at least a tie for the division crown. The season ends next weekend with UCLA meeting USC and California playing Stanford two games each.

UCLA's record is a 6-3 record. USC and Cal are 5-4 and Stanford has a 2-7 mark. Just two weeks ago, the Bruins had a 1-3 conference record. Since then they've won five in a row against Stanford and California.

The Milwaukee Boosters Club, which considers that city's Braves the last word in baseball teams, turns out to be a mobile organization. Some 40 of its members, unwilling to wait, have taken up residence in a body at Sarasota, Fla., a short distance from the Braves' training camp at Bradenton.

Manager Charlie Grimm is certain to set a new all-time record for being second-guessed early.

A local source close to the Yankees declares that club's officials are really worried about the amount of service they can expect to get out of Mickey Mantle in the coming campaign.

He says that even if the phenom does recover from his recent supplementary knee operation in time to report for training March 1 at St. Petersburg, he will be handled very tenderly and will not under any circumstances be permitted to play in exhibition games.

He thinks, also, that Manager Casey Stengel finally will forget about Mickey's tender years and adopt a sure enough tough policy toward his problem boy. There is some thought the Yankees made a mistake when they began measuring Mickey's homers with tape and compass last summer. He can read.

The distance is a mile and one-eighth, a fast track is in prospect and a derby day crowd approaching 50,000 is expected.

Rounding out the field are the Harry James-Betty Grable colt, James Session movie star George Brent's Mr. Mustard, Liangollen Farm's Ordained, Rex Ellsworth's El Dras, Mrs. A. V. Ryan's Fault Free, the Dormar Stable's Travertine, and Owl Stable's Cobblers Bench and Howard A. Jones' Fur Piece.

Rated close behind Duke's Lea and his lesser known running mate are Andrew Grevolin's Determined and Mrs. Harry Gurland's California colt, Major Speed.

Lou, Ted Should Huddle

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—We are only asking, but shouldn't Lou Boudreau, the Boston Red Sox manager, try to get together with his top hired hand, Ted Williams, on the subject of where the Sox figure to finish in this coming American League race?

Lou says he believes he'll have what it takes to beat the Yankees this time. Ted, who probably became a supreme realist in the skies over Korea, says just as positively that talk about a Sox pennant at this time is "silly," adding that third place would be more like it.

In justice to the homerun slugger, he didn't know when he spoke that his manager was busting out all over with confidence. Ted was out of touch, having been away fishing. But in the interest of harmony the two should try to strike a balance, say, on second place.

Honus Wagner, considered by many who saw him to have been the greatest baseball player of them all, is set to celebrate his 80th birthday next Wednesday at Pittsburgh.

A campaign is under way to raise $48,000 to erect an 18-foot bronze statue of the famous Dutchman at Forbes Field, scene of his mightiest triumphs.

No one has asked for any statistics on the average Yale freshman but you're going to get them, anyway.

In 1890 the average Yale freshman weighed exactly 135 pounds and stood 5 feet, 7 1/2 inches. He considered himself much brighter than the average Harvard freshman.

Today the A. Y. F. loes around 150 pounds and measures 5-10 1/2 straight up. Either he's eating better or he's reaching college later.

Rich Derby On Today

By BOB MYERS
ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The 17th running of the rich Santa Anita Derby unfolds today with a cast of 3 year old hopefuls led by a Calumet Farm's entry shooting for the stable's third straight victory here.

The Calumets are Duke's Lea and Indian Red.

Chantlea won the Santa Anita Derby last year for Calumet's mistress, Mrs. Gene Markey. Hill Gail did it the year before and went on to capture the Kentucky Derby.

Today Calumet's entry promised to be the betting favorite to rake in the winner's purse of $48,000 from a gross pot of $133,400, figures based on all 12 horses starting.
