SALEM (AP) — Oregon's legislative reapportionment amendment, which the people put into the Constitution in 1952, will be argued at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, before the State Supreme Court.

The court will try to give a speedy decision, because legislative candidates have to know the outcome before the March 12 deadline for filing in the May primary election.

The new amendment, challenged by Rep. David C. Baum of La Grande, provides for changing legislative districts for the first time since 1910. The case is on appeal from Marion County circuit court, where Judge Rex Kimmel ruled the amendment is valid.

It changes the districts to conform with changes in the population pattern.

The amendment also provides that the legislature must reapportion itself every 10 years, after each federal census. If the legislature refuses, then the Secretary of State would do it. And if this official refuses, the Supreme Court would do the reapportioning.

Baum argues that the amendment violates the constitutional provision for separation of powers among the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government.

Atty. Gen. Y. Thornton, who is defending the amendment, says the people have a right to amend the state constitution without having it declared in violation of other provisions of the constitution.

Fort Rock

By ROBERTA MCGEE

The Fort Rock Grange youth committee is holding a HBC party at the Fort Rock Grange Hall Saturday night, February 20, at 8 p.m. Guests are to come dressed as hobos or in old clothes. Men can retire their razors and let those whiskers sprout that night.

Refreshments will be pollock. Ted Emery of Silver Lake will operate the Silver Lake community record player and loud speaker for the square dancing that will be done that evening. Friends and neighbors are invited to attend.

The Wild Life Conservation Service will show free movies at the Fort Rock school house the evening of February 23. The public is invited to attend. Contact Anne Sloan for exact time.

The Fort Rock 4-H Club program and box social, held February 12 at the Grange hall, was very well attended. Mrs. Leon Gilder, club leader, and Mrs. Anne Sloan, teacher, were in charge of the program. Mrs. Sloan wrote the original skit for the program, which was full of rhyme and humor, and carried the Valentine theme. The children had lots of props to work with, even to China dishes broken by the maid and lavish equipment the detective had to solve the Valentine mystery. In the program were: Ralph and Robert Pyritz, Roger Miles, Jerry Pitcher, Bobby Gilder, Max Matlis, Harrison and Joan Perry, Clara Harrison, Teresa Ward and Donna Herge.

There were 18 beautiful boxes and the judges had a difficult time deciding for theme and beauty. In the children's group Clara Harrison took first prize for theme; Joan Perry, second prize for beauty. In the adult group Helen Parks took first for theme; Delores Morehouse, second for beauty. The judges were Rube Long, Dick Schaub and Shorty Gustafson. Donald McGee was the auctioneer. Many persons who were unable to attend sent cash donations. The auction netted $38.40 and cash donations were $135, total $173.40.

The proceeds from this affair will enable the entire Fort Rock 4-H group to attend summer camp at Lakeview for ten days this summer. The children and their leader, Mrs. Gilder, wish to thank everyone for their generosity and whole hearted support. After supper the group enjoyed square dancing with Owen Pitcher calling and Mrs. Gilder at the piano.

A school board meeting was held at the school house Wednesday evening, February 10. Transportation problems and the teacher's contract for the coming year were discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson now have their niece, Clara Harrison of Paulina, living with them. Clara is in the sixth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pitcher and Merritt (Bud) Parks attended the seventh annual meeting of the Redmond SCD, Tuesday, February 9.

The Bible School kindergarten class made Valentines for their parents Wednesday afternoon, February 10, and their teacher, Helen Parks, held a little party for her class. Assisting Mrs. Parks, that afternoon was Mrs. Howard McGee. Delbert Rutherford of Bend visited Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ogle Monday evening, February 8. He left Reva and Kathy to visit here while their mother underwent surgery at the St. Charles Hospital in Bend, February 9. Reva is staying with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ogle; Kathy is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Burton Brown. At this time there was no report on Mrs. Rutherford's condition. Her many friends here wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Richard Brown received word of the death of her stepfather, K. H. Harbaugh, on Tuesday, February 9, in Pasadena, California. Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh were visitors in Fort Rock this summer for several days where they made the acquaintance of many of Mr. and Mrs. Brown's friends. The funeral will be held in the

Unusual Accident Kills Farmer

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP)—A stubborn willow sapling, crushed to the ground by a bulldozer, snapped back like an arrow yesterday after the machine had passed over it and speared a farm worker who was walking behind.

The victim, Jess Lee Henry, 22, was struck in the chest and died before reaching a hospital.

The bulldozer, operated by Henry's father, was clearing brush from the farmland.

East. Friends here extend sympathy to Bernie and her family. Bernie was unable to attend the funeral as she can't leave baby Laura, who is being treated for an infection.

The Fort Rock Grange met Saturday afternoon, February 13, with a good attendance. There were several guests present. The charter was draped in memory of beloved Grange brother, Fred Eskelin, who died the early part of January.

Guests who took an active part in the meeting were county commissioner and Mrs. Jim Ogle; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Abramson, Thomas Creek Grange; Raymond Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Cornett, Westside Grange; Fred Fisher, county deputy, Eastside Grange. They all complimented the Fort Rock Grange for the promptness of their reports on agriculture and the active part the agriculture committee takes in the interest of the grange and community.

There was a lengthy discussion on road problems caused by drainage and washouts, and the work necessary to solve the troubles permanently. A road committee was formed and men from different sections of the valley were appointed to serve. Appointed were Ed Eskelin, Avon Derrick, Ted Emery, Bob Morehouse and Floyd Branch.

Hazel Ward announced a sewing contest to be held for the Grange ladies and girls. Full details will be in next week's column. The March Grange meeting will be held in the evening with Shorty Shirley Wilson on K.P.

Tulelake To Hear Airing Of Nematode

TULELAKE — The nematode problem in the Tulelake Basin is in progress for an airing at a public hearing to be held in the Marcha theater, Thursday, February 25, when the chairman and members of the California state agriculture committee, headed by State Senator Vern Hoffman, will arrive for an all-day meeting. The session, which opens at 9 a.m. will follow a basin-wide investigation and check on Wednesday. Chairman Hoffman urged all persons in the potato industry to attend.

Announcement of the proposed meeting came from Charles K. Wiese, member of the board of directors and immediate past president of the Tulelake Growers Association.

Stan Buckingham, now president, stated, following a meeting of the directors of the organization Saturday morning, that the session has not been called by the association, but that he and members of the association had received numerous requests to be present for the meeting.

He said also that a feasible program for control had already been established by the association, working with commissioners of Modoc and Siskiyou counties, heads of other local agricultural agencies and the growers themselves that should check the spread of the potato disease.

Massive signs, 3 1/2 by 4 1/2 feet with black and red lettering have been placed at road intersections on both sides of the county lines, stating that state laws require inspection by county agriculture commissioners of all seed potatoes before planting. Inspection slips are also required on any selling and buying transactions. Similar posters have been placed in cellars.

The program is already in effect with Ken Benschel, Modoc County ag inspector and Bill Huse, in Siskiyou county inspecting seed potato lots in cellars and alert to all movements of potatoes.

The state law, written for the protection of the farmer carries a penalty for violation and only by consistent compliance of all growers, can the program be carried to a successful conclusion.

Wiese said that he had been requested by members of the visiting committee to arrange the hearing here after the growers' hearing had previously agreed that such an investigation was needed.

The statement denying that such a request had been made by the association, followed Wiese's public utterance.

The action which Wiese referred to, was taken January 17, when directors voted to write Senators Randolph Collier and Dale Williams and Assemblyman Pauline Davis, for help in closing the state line to further potato seed importations and to schedule a hearing on the nematode problem. The directors, by majority vote, rescinded this action at a later meeting, and asked that no further steps be taken, until after February 4, when a meeting was to be devoted to the plan for attempting to solve the problem facing the growers without state aid.

No further official action has been taken on the hearing that is on the calendar for February 25.

A survey is currently being conducted by the association among growers on the proposed marketing order, agreed upon a few weeks ago by the Klamath County Potato Growers Association.

Twenty men in the field today have tallied 40 yes votes, representing 1215 acres in the Tulelake area; 20 yes votes, representing 1354 acres in Macdoel of a total of 60 affirmative votes, representing 256 acres of potatoes. Two votes were registered against the proposal, representing 137 acres of spuds.

The program will take agreement of 51 per cent of the growers who grow 65 per cent of the basin's spuds or vice versa, to pass a referendum before a request can be made to the state agricultural department for inclusion in the program.
