Sacred Heart Civics Club Reports On Basin Industry

Editor's Note: The fourth in a series of studies by the Civics Club of Sacred Heart Academy has been completed by the club and findings written up by Genevieve McAuliffe. The program for the year is "Know Your Community." January's topic was "Industries of the Klamath Basin." Following is Miss McAuliffe's report.

By GENEVIEVE MCAULIFFE

The agricultural industries of the Klamath Basin are many. The main cash crop is potatoes. The value of potato crops varies from six million to 12 million dollars per year. The second major crop in rotation with potatoes is Ham-chen barley.

Among seed crops, Alaska clover is of major importance. Klamath Basin produces 15 to 18 per cent of the national Alaska clover and it is sent to all parts of the United States.

Grass seeds produced are Bent grass, bluegrass, crested wheat and many other miscellaneous crops. Alfalfa is also an outstanding crop. Twenty thousand acres are produced annually.

Lumbering is one of our chief industries and we had a chance to visit the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. Here are our findings:

Logs that are lumbered at Weyerhaeuser come by logging trucks from the many outlying regions of Klamath Basin's tree farms. The logs are brought up from the mill pond by the bull chain and the bark is removed by a device called the "barker" which removes the bark by a great force of water beating upon the log. From there the log is brought up to the mill saw which is 104 inches in diameter, and cut to standard length which is 16 feet. Then the headrigs, of which there are four at Weyerhaeuser, take over. Each headrig has an edger and trimmer

GENE ST. JOHN, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. (Frenchy) St. John, 1904 Orchard, is appearing with Horace Heidt's troupe for a six weeks engagement at the Stetler Hotel in New York. Young St. John is featured as a guitar soloist with the show that broadcasts Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday over CBS. St. John's address is the Hotel Martiniere, Broadway at 32nd, New York 1, N. Y.

YMCA Leader Visits KF

James Mummery, associate area executive of the Pacific Northwest Area Council, YMCA, left this morning following a visit of several days in Klamath Falls.

Mummery came on the invitation of the YMCA Board of Directors to confer with the local organization on its plans for being of greater service not only to the 1200 members now enrolled but also to the many other young people and adults who are currently active in some phase of the YMCA program.

Special meetings were called for new committees in the process of organization, including the personnel committee. John Sandmeyer, Sid Elliot and Ralph Macartney; endowment committee, Andrew Collier, Orth Sisemore, W. W. Southwell, William Huggins and others to be named later; program services committee, with Paul Deller as chairman; membership committee, headed by Earl Kent.

The membership committee sponsored a membership enrollment workshop at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening. Participants in the recent successful membership "Round Up" were in attendance.

During his stay in Klamath Falls, Mummery also found time to meet with the Hi Y and Tri Hi Y youth and government representatives who will represent Klamath Falls at the YMCA Youth Legislature to be held in Salem in May.

John Sandmeyer, president of the local YMCA, and Paul Camp-
