Potato Growers To Attend Meet

A large delegation of certified seed potato growers from the Tulelake Grower's Association as well as individual growers will attend a seed potato certification hearing to be held in Sacramento, March 16.

The group plans to inspect test plots at Oceanside to be followed by a one day tour of markets in Sacramento led by Gene Strobridge, supervising inspector for the agricultural department.

The hearing to be held in Sacramento is for the purpose of amending and rescinding certain regulations pertaining to seed potato certification.

Persons interested in the proposed changes in regulations may present statements or arguments orally, or in writing, relevant to the action proposed.

The meeting will be held in the conference room of the State Department of Agriculture, second floor, state office building No. 1, starting at 9 a.m.

Yellow Jaundice Cases In Basin

There have been many cases of yellow jaundice reported recently, particularly in the Chiloquin area. This disease is also called infectious hepatitis. It usually takes about two to five weeks to come down with the disease after being exposed.

When one is coming down with it, they usually show symptoms of nausea and vomiting, fever, weakness, loss of appetite and pain in the right side. Jaundice is not usually present at first. Since these symptoms are like many other illnesses, it is hard to diagnose.

Not much is known about its spread, but it is thought to be spread to other through body discharges, chiefly the feces of a person who has the disease. It may also be spread through water, milk, or food that has been contaminated. Food handlers have to be especially careful.

In the care of someone with infectious hepatitis, the patient should be isolated from the rest of the family. If you have it in your family consult your doctor about the necessary precautions to be taken.

Liquor Board Gives Rulings

License of Merrill Billiards, 125 E. Front Street, Merrill, will be suspended for five days beginning March 8, according to the Oregon Liquor Control Commission. The suspension was based on an earlier court conviction of the licensee, Darrel King, of "possession of games of chance". The liquor laws do not specifically prohibit gambling, but do provide that court conviction of a licensee of a misdemandor committed on licensed premises is grounds for suspension or cancellation by the commission.

A package store class "B" license was issued by the commission to Mallory's Y Market No. 2, 3801 Altamont drive, Klamath Falls. The license allows sale of packaged beer and package wine for off premises consumption. The commission also granted a retail malt beverage license allowing sale of bottled beer for on or off premises consumption to Murray and Seraphine Harris, proprietors of the Beatty Pool Hall and Cafe, at Beatty.

Coon Backs Klamath Bill

WASHINGTON—A bill to authorize transfer of three buildings and a plot of ground at the Klamath Falls Airport to the Oregon national guard for training purposes was introduced today by Rep. Sam Coon.

Transfer of the property was requested by the national guard for use as armories, classrooms, office space and parking area for Batteries B and D of the 732nd AAA Battalion and members of the battalion staff stationed in Klamath Falls. Present facilities, a building and part of a hangar rented from the city of Klamath Falls, are not adequate for the needs of the national guard, according to Congressman Coon.

The property is located at the southeast corner of the intersection of the county road (Joe Wright Road) and Yorktown Avenue at the Airport. The buildings were constructed in 1944 for Navy personnel. Along with other property it was acquired by the Bureau of Reclamation later for project headquarters purposes. Reclamation recently declared the property surplus to its needs.

Eagles Auxiliary Plans Meeting

The Eagles Auxiliary will meet Friday at 8 p.m. in the upper lodge hall. Initiation will be held, officers are asked to wear formals. "The men will serve refreshments in the dining room imediately following the meeting." A dance will be held featuring "ladies night" similar to the dance held recently at the lodge hall.
