Cub Scouts Hold Dinner

The lights went out! The room was in silence! Then suddenly, one by one, four "Denmers" lighted large red, white and blue and gold candles, surrounding a Statue of Liberty. The Rev. Floyd Holloway gave the invocation. Forty-four small blue and gold candles on a huge birthday cake were lighted.

This ceremony started the "Blue and Gold" birthday dinner, celebrating 44 years of scouting in America, presented by the Riverside PTA cub scout pack of 73 members, Friday evening, February 26, in the Riverside School gymnasium.

The dinner tables, decorated with place mats, place cards, favors, napkins, and centerpieces, were made by the cubs. Mrs. Leonard Hill's den 1 cubs decorated their table with the blue and gold theme. Mrs. Alexander Luft's den 2 cubs used the Liberty Bell theme. Mrs. Loy Tapp's den 3 cubs used the Lincoln theme. Mrs. Irvin Warner's den 4 cubs had the Washington theme.

Following the dinner, Ritchey Vaughn of den 1 explained how boy scouting came to America 44 years ago. Robert Plozman, den chief of den 2, read some cub scout terms from Kipling's "Jungle Book." Billy Burke, den chief of den 3, explained how cub scouting was started in America in 1933. All the cubs of den 4 read verses on cub scouting as a family project.

John Haldiman, surrounded by the cubs of den 4, received his "Bobcat" pin in an induction ceremony.

The following awards were presented in the achievement council: Bobby Mulder, Wolf Badge; Ronald Johnson, Alan Ritchey and Gordon Luft, Wolf Gold Arrow; Bobby Stillwater, Wolf Gold Arrow; Silver Arrows; Steven Goeller, Gary Shill and Larry Morris, Wolf Silver Arrows; Charles Loomis, Wolf Silver Arrow and Bear Badge; Steve Williams, Bear Badge; Gold Arrow and Silver Arrow; Ronald Shill, Bear Badge and Gold Arrow; Richard Springer, Denner Stripes; Joe Cox and Jay Paxton, Assistant Denner Stripes.

The meeting was conducted by Cubmaster Sam Ritchey. Ritchey introduced Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Phair, who were guests at the dinner.

Phair, district chairman of the Modoc Area Council, explained the need for good scouting organizations. He said, "There has never been an Eagle Scout that has a penal record or been in an institution of punishment." He praised pack No. 73 for its high standards.

Smith, field executive of the Modoc Area Council, congratulated pack No. 73 for the fine accomplishments and work done in the past 11 months. He said, "You have one of the finest packs in the Modoc Area Council."

Lewis Hornyak, pack committee chairman, thanked the "Blue and Gold" Committee, Mrs. Ritchey as chairman, Mrs. Cammock, Mrs. Loomis and Mrs. Watkins, for the work and time they gave in making the dinner a success.

The next pack meeting is scheduled for March 26 at the Riverside School.

FRED DALLAS

Music Group Plans Concert

A program of instrumental and voice music will be presented by the Fine Arts group of the Klamath Musical Arts Council, Sunday afternoon, March 7, at three o'clock in the library club room of the city library. Featured in this recital will be Fred Dallas, violinist.

Co-chairman for the recital are Wilma Beever and Don McKenzie, and the following numbers will be included on the program: "Overture" by Henry Purcell and "Allegro" by Charles Aronson, presented by a string ensemble. "Meditation" from "Thais" by Massenet, "Schon Rosmarin" by Kreisler, and "Old Refrain" by Kreisler, presented by Fred Dallas, violin, with Genevieve Dallas at the keyboard.

"Will You Remember" by Romberg and "Morning" by Oley Speaks, sung by Jewel Howard, vocalist. "Air" by Jean Marie Leclair, "Allegro" by Leclair, "Prelude" by Corrente, and "Gavotte" by Arcangelo Corelli, featuring the string ensemble.

Members of the string ensemble are Wilma Beever, Don McKenzie, Robert Anderson, Ethel Leavitt, violins; Harry Borel, viola; Margaret Jolly, cello; with Anita Campbell at the piano.

No admission will be charged, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Warner Canyon Skiing Good

LAKEVIEW—Sunday ski conditions at nearby Warner Canyon were described as "excellent" today by Don Peters, district forest ranger.

At 7 a.m. Saturday the temperature was 30, with the sky partly cloudy and a southerly wind blowing.

Peters said, however, the snack bar will not be open Sunday.

Tax Collector's Office Robbed

PITTSBURG, Tex. (AP)—A burglar reversed proceedings in the Camp County Tax Collector's Office. While everybody was out to lunch yesterday he took $100 in cash and $80 worth of checks.

Sheriff Colin Bell is red-faced about the whole thing. He's also tax collector.

sell said. He reported that Southern Pacific's return on its net investment in transportation properties amounted to only 3.8 per cent last year.

Russell described the changing character of traffic on the railroad throughout the West, the result of increasing shipments of products of industrial plants. Agriculture continues to be important in the Klamath Falls area in spite of the growing industrialization, he commented, with an annual output estimated at approximately $44,000,000 a year, and should show further growth when and if the projected power-trail project on the Klamath River is completed. One of the largest volumes handled is in potatoes, amounting to more than one-third of the total. Barley is becoming increasingly important because of the exceptionally high quality of the crop grown here, and he predicted plantings of this crop will increase due to the construction of new breweries in California.

Wheat, oats, rye, and hay are holding up well in volume, he said, and last year the Klamath area was able to supply a large percentage of hay hauler by the railroad into the drought areas of the Southwest and Middle West. Heavy shipments of livestock into this area continue for summer pasturing.

Because of the large volume of lumber originating in Klamath Falls or passing through, Southern Pacific has installed here what is known as a load adjuster, Russell said. This is a device for straightening loads of lumber of railroad cars, improving the handling.

Klamath Lumber

The lumber industry shows signs of stabilizing at a high level here, the rail president reported, because of new methods introduced into the industry and the manufacture of new wood products for which there are active and large markets. He praised the industry for its new processes, which have cut waste to a minimum, assuring maximum use and perpetual production from this important Klamath Falls natural resource.

In addition to agriculture and lumber, the Northwest has shared to considerable extent in the general increase in industrialization along the railroad, Russell commented. He reported that many new spur-track industrial establishments, or expansions of existing plants, were added in 1953 in Oregon to the growing list of diversified industries served by the railroad. Important among these is the $3,000,000 hardboard plant in Klamath Falls, he said.

POPULATION UP

Underlying the industrial and agricultural developments in the West, population growth of the Northwest, and Southwest in the past decade, Russell pointed out. This westward trek, the greatest migration of its kind in history, gives no sign of slackening, according to the census expert.

The rail executive stated that in his opinion the railroads should be given credit for a large part of the growth, because such growth is fostered by and depends on good transportation.

Klamath Falls has become a major tourist area, and Southern Pacific is helping attract people here by operating some of its finest day and night streamliners on this route and by advertising the famous Crater Lake area, Russell said.

Track improvements and diesel power have been installed on the speediest passenger train schedules in the history of the railroad's Shasta Route between San Francisco and Portland, with all trains stopping at Klamath Falls. Diesel locomotive and car servicing facilities have been installed here for quick servicing of the streamliners midway of their more than 700-mile runs. The diesels, both in freight and passenger duty, are giving the public much better transportation than was possible with the steam engines they have mostly replaced. The railroad will eventually be completely dieselized, he said.

Potato Growers Name Add Board

At a joint meeting of the advertising groups of Klamath Falls, Tulelake and Redmond potato growers, held in Redmond this week, six members of the Oregon Potato Commission were named to serve as a special advertising board. The new board was set up to implement the promotion of Deschutes-Klamath Russets.

The six men on the new board will be assisted by Oregon Potato Commission personnel and the original advertising and promotion committee which was set up earlier.

Two growers from the Klamath district, Troy Qualls, Merrill and Louis Lyons, Malin, were named. Dr. H. W. Stehlemmer, Powell Butte, and Orville Buckner, Lone Pine, were chosen from the Central Oregon area.

Two board members from the Tulelake district will be named if and when the market agreement in that area becomes effective. This is expected about May 1.

The next meeting of the newly formed board will be held April 5.

Beef, Pork Prices Down

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Receipts in the hog pens this week were the smallest in six months, but the market did not respond with any sharp advance. While offerings weighing over 230 pounds sold strong to 60 cents higher, those weighing less are weak.

Order buyers were not active, outgoing shipments for the period being the smallest since last September. Another depressing factor was a drop of $1.00 to $5.00 in Chicago wholesale pork prices. Heavy weight butchers were wanted because of the extreme scarcity of sows.

Top for the week was $26.50, paid Tuesday. The final top of $22.25 was down 15 cents from a week ago.

Supplies in the cattle section were slightly smaller than in the preceding week and in the comparable week a year ago. However, the run on Monday was the largest for the year to date. Fed steers and yearlings predominated. Steers lost about $1.00 and heifers about 50 cents.

Top during the week was $30.00 paid for two loads of 1,150 and 1,183 pound steers.

Slaughter lambs were strong throughout the week, closing 75 cents to $1.00 higher. Supplies were the smallest for any week since September and approximately one-third smaller than in the like 1953 week. Dressed lamb closed $1.00 higher in the wholesale market.

Scholarship Offer Told

A $400 scholarship to the Rochester Institute of Technology is being offered by the Photographic Society of America, to a deserving high school graduate interested in photography, according to an announcement made this week by the Klamath Camera Club. Value of the scholarship is equal to a full year's tuition at the school, starting in September 1954.

Eligibility in a camera club is not needed for qualification. A simple letter of application containing the required data is all that is necessary. Deadline is May 15. Letters may be addressed to C. B. Neblette, FPSA, Head, Department of Photographic Technology, Rochester Institute of Technology, 65 Plymouth Avenue, South, Rochester 8, New York.

Further information may be had by calling Annis Struthers at the public health office, 7714.

Police Capture Young Thief

A 14-year old youth, caught by city police inside the Cascade Laundry plant late Friday evening told officers he had stolen a sweater from the place some time ago and was just returning it.

The lad was captured after E. D. Iensen, owner of the laundry, heard noises in the back of the building and called police.
