Horizon Clubs of Klamath Falls Council of Camp Fire Girls First Annual Conference at Willard Hotel

On Saturday, February 27, the Horizon Clubs of the Klamath Falls Council of Camp Fire Girls held their first annual conference in the Pine Room of the Willard Hotel. Girls attending were from Klamath, Merrill, and Klamath Falls, and Dorris, California. The room was beautifully decorated to carry out the theme of "Fashions in Review", with story book fashions on the tables and a stage setting made and erected by George Boudon of life size figures of Snow White, Alice in Wonderland, and Cinderella. Following the luncheon, Gail Nerseth, accompanied by Ann Henderson, sang "Summer Time", "Blue Moon" and "Stranger in Paradise". Mrs. Frank Tucker gave an interesting talk to the girls on the "Etiquette of Dating." Linda Williams was featured in a Hawaiian dance and also appeared in a tap routine with Marilyn Humphrey.

Annie Lou Romtvedt Bride Of Benjamin McCracken Jr. In Klamath Lutheran Church

LANGELL VALLEY — Baskets of white flowers, and lighted tapers in floor candleabra formed the background for the lovely wedding of Annie Lou Romtvedt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sandre Romtvedt of Langell Valley, and Benjamin A. McCracken Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin McCracken Sr., Seattle, at the Klamath Lutheran Church February 20. The Rev. Kent E. Spaulding read the 3 p.m. double-ring ceremony in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends. The attractive bride wore a floor-length gown made with a fitted white lace bolero, buttoned to the waist, high neck and long sleeves. The skirt was net over satin with inserts of lace. A lace crown with scattered seed pearls held the finger tip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white flowers centered with a lavender orchid. Annie Lou was given in marriage by her father. Maid of honor was her sister Alvild Romtvedt who wore a floor length dress with a bodice of rose velvet with oval neckline. The skirt was net over tulle. Bridesmaids were Darlene Brankhorst of Connel, Washington, and Jeanette Bush of Hilo, Hawaii, school friends from Southern Oregon College. Both girls wore dresses made exactly as the maid of honor's, but ice blue. Their bouquets were colonial, of pastel colors. Best man was Arnold McCracken, brother of the bridegroom. Little Judy Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Randall of flower girl, and scattered white petals before the bride. Her tiny dress was identical to the bridesmaids. Her brother Gary Randall was ring bearer. Ushers were Carl Romtvedt, and David Romtvedt. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Romtvedt chose a wine tulle dress, with pink accessories, with an orchid corsage. Mrs. McCracken wore brown with matching accessories, also an orchid corsage. Mrs. A. H. Denison played incidental music and the traditional wedding march. Richard Melius

Ancestors Traced At DAR Meeting

"Searching for Your Ancestors," a genealogical study, was most interestingly presented to Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, by Mrs. William D. Foster, Monday evening March 1, in the Kent room of the YMCA. After Mrs. Foster had explained the methods of genealogical research, members were permitted time to look through the many volumes on the tables before them and to make copies of information concerning their own family trees. Mrs. Foster revealed that a survey of six Klamath County cemeteries had been made during the past year for the genealogical records of the society. Assisting Mrs. Foster in this survey were Mrs. George Offield, Mrs. Fred Fletcher Sr., Mrs. Henry Nicol, Mrs. Guy Barton, Mrs. James Thornton and Mrs. Bert C. Thomas. The regent, Mrs. Charles R. Waters, announced that on March 2 Mrs. S. B. Evans, chairman of the Americanism Committee, would present flag codes to the new citizens at the ceremony for the spring naturalization class. Word was received from Mrs. Roland E. Wright that she and Mr. Wright are on their way east, where, as a delegate for Eulalona Chapter, she will attend the 63rd Continental Congress of the National Society in Washington, D.C. in April. Mrs. E. M. Chilcote, delegate to the state conference in Salem March 14-16, will take the 1933 historical scrapbook made by Mrs. Bert C. Thomas and Mrs. W. J. Owsley with her and place it on display with those of other chapters. Guests of the chapter were Mrs. Addie Mae Nixon and Mrs. Lewis Andrew of Klamath Falls; Mrs. Ann Brown and Mrs. W. M. Riese of Bonanza; and Mrs. Julia Brymer of Cannon Beach, Oregon. Mrs. Brymer, aunt of Mrs. H. A. Pedersen, is a former member of Multnomah Chapter, Portland. Hostesses were Mrs. Guy Barton, Mrs. Henry Nicol, and Mrs. L. H. Stone. Announcement of the place of the April 5 meeting will be made at a later date.

Birthday Party 'Western Style'

FORT KLAMATH — Fun in the Western style featured a delightful party given after school hours on Friday afternoon, February 26, at the Harry Orem ranch home, when Mrs. Orem entertained a group of fellow schoolmates, in honor of her son Gary's seventh birthday anniversary. A picnic lunch was served in the living room, with Mrs. Walter J. Wright and Mrs. Donald P. Veatch assisting the hostess in serving the outdoor fare, which included such picnic items as hot dogs, hard boiled eggs and soda pop. A l.s.o served was a large candle topped chocolate birthday cake, cleverly decorated with miniature lasso-wrangling cowboys fashioned from pipe cleaners and standing in "grass" made of green tinted coconut. Gifts were opened by the birthday celebrant, games were played and a treasure hunt held, with each child following a ribbon which led to a gaily wrapped package containing a toy gun and bright colored cowboy neckerchief. When televised programs started at four o'clock, grownups and children gathered in front of the TV set in the Orem living room and saw the Western Theater show. In addition to Gary, his mother, Mrs. Veatch and Mrs. Wright, the following children were present: Erna Jean Engle, Martha Williams, Janet Wilson, Judy Culver, Susie Veatch, Ann Orem, Ellen Veatch, Danny Culver, Douglas Brattian, and Roger Nicholson; absent from the birthday festivities was one invited schoolmate, Leonard (Moose) Wilder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren (Lefty Wild Eagle) Wilder, who was unable to be present at the party.
