U.S. Attitude on Geneva Talks Said Blow to French

WASHINGTON (AP)—French hopes that the United States will try to buy peace in Indochina by making concessions to the Chinese Communists seem destined to end in disappointment.

A check of official opinion indicated today that this country has no intention of holding out to Red China at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far East peace problems either the prospect of recognition or the lure of trade payments for peace.

There have been news reports from Paris that at least some responsible French leaders believe only such American inducements can offer any real hope of an end to the Indochina fighting.

U.S. officials do not necessarily agree with this point of view. There is no indication that the Reds are helping care about American recognition nor are enough interested in trade with the United States to give up their bid for Indochina.

The real difficulty between Washington and Paris on the problem, however, is their different approaches to the problem of Indochina peace. The French government undoubtedly feels itself under pressure to get peace in Indochina at some price. But the United States has been willing to consider only a settlement which did not bring in outside issues and which would secure the strategic land against new Communist aggression.

In the Geneva talks the world powers will tackle first the problem of Korea and second that of Indochina. A trade embargo was imposed by the United States on Red China because of the Korean War. At the moment it appears that only Communist agreement to the unification, freedom and independence of all Korea would bring an agreement to lift or substantially modify the trade barrier.

On the recognition issue Secretary of State Dulles now has a completely frozen policy. Powerful political elements are absolutely opposed to recognition to the Red regime in China and opposition to this view, if it exists, is seldom heard. Diplomats believe that only a long period of good behavior on the part of the Chinese Communists could bring any change in the national attitude on recognition.

Indochina came up for discussion yesterday at a private White House chat between President Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former supreme commander in the Far East. MacArthur, confirming this, declined to give details.

Co-op Holds Annual Meet At Chemult

CHEMULT (AP)—The third annual meeting of the Midstate Electric Co-op was held in the LaPine High School gymnasium Monday, March 15, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

One hundred and sixty-four members signed the register.

Main business brought before the membership included election of nine new directors. Named with Roy M. Larson, retiring president, were Helen McCabe, LaPine, Clinton Olson, Shevlin, one year; Kenneth McKenzie, Crescent, Grant Damon, Chemult, and William Parks, Port Rock, William Taylor, Chemult, Wilson Wade, Crescent Lake, three years.

The board of newly elected directors retired for its first meeting at which Kenneth McKenzie was named president; Merritt Parks, vice president; Mrs. Helen McCabe, secretary-treasurer.

George Larimer, manager of the Co-op, introduced many visitors, including Manager John Norlin of Central Co-op at Redmond; Bill Bronson, Bend Bulletin; Westinghouse Electric officials and many others.

In his annual progress report, Larimer discussed the growth of the Co-op in the past year and the bright future of the organization. The report showed a gain of 334 new consumers, assets of $990,288.81, kilowatt hours sold last year were 507,270 compared with this year's 1,756,069. Revenue nearly tripled the past year.

Larimer reported with pride the additions of the Co-op of new consumers from the tri-county region of Klamath, Deschutes and Lake; the addition of Southern Pacific and Great Northern railroads as members through the depot and electric signal system at Chemult.

Under construction at the present time is the line to Crescent and Odell Lakes which is about one fourth finished with 13 working miles remaining. The Co-op now has an application from the Port Rock country for service to its 30,000 acres of land. The go-ahead from Washington, D.C., is anticipated the early part of May. Next year it is planned to add service to Paulina, East Lake areas and Elks Park Camp Abbott near Bend.

Paulina, Elks Park and the Village of Gilchrist at a later date.

Larimer reported to the membership his attendance at the meetings in Roseburg, Billings, Montana and Washington, D.C. He read the group a letter from REA Executive Anchor Nelson who gave a special greeting to the Co-op and stressed the need for cooperative planning for our country's security.

Ballooning continued until noon with no further domination from the floor. Inspectors for the election were Mrs. Sterns, Mrs. V. L. Brader and J. Reid.

All during the day many useful prizes were awarded. Marie LaPine won the first prize—an electric toaster. Two films were shown, courtesy of Union Oil Company.

Luncheon was served by women of the LaPine Home Extension Group. Following luncheon, Democratic nominee for U.S. Senator Richard Neuberger was guest speaker. Along with the view on Hells Canyon Dam, progress in rural electrification in Oregon and use of other natural resources, he stressed the need for the public to know what happens to these basic natural resources. He then elaborated on the present raise in rates in the Klamath Basin following a change in ownership of the BPA, new line from Chemult to Klamath Falls by a private power company.

City Pool Job Openings Told
Applications may now be made for jobs as water safety instructors, life guards and check room help for the new city swimming pool that is expected to be opened for use of the public May 23. This is a tentative date only, according to Ella Redkey, pool manager, who announced the qualifications for a pool staff today.

Applicants for water safety instructors must have a current Red Cross water safety instructor's card. Instructors will serve as life guards also and must be qualified as a Red Cross life saving instructor also.

Check room help must hold a junior or a senior life saving certificate and first aid card.

Candidates may apply for blanks by sending names to Ella Redkey, swimming pool director, city recreation department, city hall.

Basin Co-Op To Elect Directors
TULELAKE—Three new directors of the Klamath Basin Co-op will be elected during the annual meeting to be held Tuesday, March 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Grange Hall, Terms of Leland Cheyne, Harley Wilbur, Harnberger, Henley and Leon Andrieu, Midland, are expiring.

Other officers are Chet Stonecypher, Tulelake, president; D. P. Reid, Malin, secretary, and the following directors; Walter Icenbire, Elmer Scott and Clarence Moore, all of Tulelake.

An organization field man from Portland will be present to report the annual report. A General Petroleum Corporation picture will be shown. Lunch will be served by women of the Tulelake Grange.

Wayne Mayfield, Co-op manager will preside.

Haymes' Lawyer Gives Opinion
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes' attorney doubts the constitutionality of a law that barred the Argentina-born entertainer from entering the United States after visiting Rita Hayworth in Honolulu last summer.

David C. Marcus, the attorney, said today he is filing a brief that maintains that the exclusion of "lawful resident" aliens from the United States because of a sojourn in a territory of the United States... is unreasonable and unconstitutional.

The government seeks to deport Haymes for what it maintains was his illegal re-entry into this country after his visit to Miss Hayworth, whom he later married.

HOLIDAY
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Governmental and commercial activities in India were suspended Friday as the nation began a two-day observance of "Holi"—annual celebration of the end of winter.

Solon Asks Probe of H Bomb Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said today a congressional investigation is under way to determine whether avoidable errors were made during the monster hydrogen blast in the Pacific March 1.

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, which he heads, has begun questioning Atomic Energy Commission officials in closed sessions, he said.

Two committee members, Representatives Price (D-III) and Van Zandt (R-Pa.), yesterday called for a full-scale probe to learn why the 315 persons subjected to unexpected radiation exposure were allowed close enough to the blast zone to be endangered. Van Zandt said questioning should include naval officers in command of the task force.

The blast, reportedly three or four times greater than expected, spilled nuclear dust well beyond the hazard zone which had been drawn. Its power has been estimated at between 600 and 700 times that of the Hiroshima atom bomb, which killed 60,000 persons.

Twenty-three Japanese fishermen, 80 miles away and outside the hazard zone, were badly burned. Price said the fact they got that close to the blast indicated a Soviet submarine could have pierced through security precautions for a better vantage point.

A total of 28 American technicians and 264 natives, on several islands more than 100 miles away, were exposed to milder radiation. Sen. Pastore (D-RI) and Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.), congressional observers at the test, reported last night that the Americans and natives are "normal, happy and in the best of spirits."

They added in a joint letter released by the committee that they saw no evidence of radiation in a visit to the victims on Kwajalein and were told "no permanent injury" was likely.

The legislators reported that the unexpected extent of the radiation exposure resulted from "a large explosion than expected" and unpredictable wind shifts.

Gun Safety Course Held

A progressive step toward saving lives and creating good future sportsmen has been carried out by the Benton Lions International Club at Corvallis.

The club recently completed its second annual firearms safety course for boys between the ages of 13 and 15 years, which was carried out at the R.O.T.C. Army on the Oregon State College campus.

Instruction on firearm safety was given by Captain M. J. Murphy and other officers of the R.O.T.C. unit and was under the chairmanship of Carrell D. Stierman of the sponsoring group.

The course was an eight-week program with instruction on the theory of weapons, sighting and aiming, various shooting positions, safety rules at home and afield, and general conduct in the use of firearms. In addition, state police officer Kenneth Moore discussed the game laws of the state.

At the end of the course, participants were awarded a certificate indicating their completion of the firearms safety course.

Such educational courses are thought by experts in the field to be the only possible way to cut down the number of hunting accidents occurring each year and are heartily endorsed by the game commission.

YMCA Leadership Meeting Planned

Tuesday, March 23, the last in the series of meetings on "Recreation Leadership" will be held at the YMCA from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Jessalee Mallalieu, Oregon State College recreation specialist, will teach principles of "Song Leadership."

The Klamath County Extension Service, in cooperation with the City Recreation Department and the YMCA, is sponsoring the workshop. Adults and youths, 16 years and older, who are interested in working with young people, are invited to attend. Material from the workshop can be used in group and family recreation, and in outdoor recreation, such as camping. There is no charge.
