HORIZON GIRLS INVITE FRIENDS TO CAMP FIRE BIRTHDAY WEEK DANCE

The Wahnaka Horizon Club of Camp Fire Girls entertained a large group of friends at a gay and colorful dance in the Legion Hall Friday evening, March 12, using the theme of vacation in Hawaii.

All of the girls wore colorful sarongs; and the boys came as beachcombers, with gay Hawaiian print shirts. Most of the guests were barefooted, and all wore leis.

Decorations carried out the island theme, with pineapples, coconuts, and papayas decorating the serving table. This party was in celebration of Camp Fire birthday week, and was following the 1954 theme of "Let's Be Different Together."

Group members who were present were: Twila Greene, Judy Pieser, Joyce White, Marky Cox, Ruth Richerson, Nancy Elliott, Janis Horn, Charlene Stoecklein, Helen Lane and JoAnne Schmitz.

The guest list included: Pat Collins, Shirley Moore, Paula Horn, Beverly Overen, Rose Marie Bruner, Laura Taylor, Deanna Nicodemus, Lynette Forcier, Bonnie Karnes, Gloria Mahan, Beverly Goehring, Dorothea Geary, John Shaw and Bill Bechen.

Chaperones were Mrs. Violet Pieser, Mrs. Earle Green, club sponsor, and Mrs. Orville Herman, club adviser.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Parr, Janice and Joyce visited at the Fred Beymer home recently. Warren is the manager of a local tractor company and recently moved here from Redmond.

Mrs. Marion Jack spent the weekend visiting her husband in San Francisco. Marion was in a parade unit from Ft. Ord.

Mrs. Minnie Davis, pioneer school teacher, has been very ill and the children have been called to her home.

Harold White spent several days in Sacramento, California, visiting his parents. On his return home he spent several days in bed with the flu.

Richard Dehlinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Dehlinger, spent several days in the hospital. Dick had a severe case of pneumonia, but is now recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. White have just returned from Grass Valley, California, where they were called by the illness of his aged mother.

On their return trip they picked up their trailer house at San Jose. The Whites have spent quite a few months touring the U.S., Canada and Mexico in their trailer house.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Parr, Janice and Joyce visited at the Fred Beymer home recently. Warren is the manager of a local tractor company and recently moved here from Redmond.

When Janice completes her schooling, Mrs. Parr and the children will join Warren.

Mrs. Marion Jack spent the weekend visiting her husband in San Francisco. Marion was in a parade unit from Ft. Ord.

FINE ARTS GROUP SPONSORS OUTSTANDING MUSIC PROGRAM

The fine arts group of the Klamath Musical Arts Council sponsored an outstanding concert in the Library Club Room, March 8.

Featured artist on the Sunday afternoon program was Fred Dallas, violinist. Assisting artist, Jewel Howard, soprano, was accompanied by Mrs. Fred (Genevieve) Dallas, who also accompanied her husband.

Another feature on the program was a string ensemble directed by Harry Borel. First violins, Wilma Beever and Don McKenzie; second violins, Robert Anderson and Robert Enman; viola, Harry Borel; cello, Margaret Jolley; and piano, Anita Campbell.

Council president is Freeman Yount, and co-chairmen for the concert were Wilma Beever and Don McKenzie.

An especially pleasant post-concert event was the reception for the artists at Marie Obenchain's Cottage Fountain, Fourth and Pine Streets. Marie Obenchain is, herself, an accomplished musician

AAUW Spring Musicale Date Set for March 27

The annual spring musicale of the American Association of University Women is slated for Saturday afternoon, March 27, 2 p.m., in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at Home and Martin Streets.

FORT ROCK

Qualified voters of Fort Rock Precinct No. 14 who have not previously registered in this precinct or are not sure of their registration, are asked to please register at the Fort Rock store soon.

Merritt (Bud) Parks has been distributing the seedlings which are given free by the SCD. Many seedlings are not spoken for as yet and there is some bladdersenna left. Freight on the seedlings amounts to about one cent apiece, and nearly everyone accepting the trees has offered to pay the penny on each seedling received.

The Fort Rock Grange is again urday evening, March 13, with a very good attendance. After the business meeting, the group and guests enjoyed a potluck supper, followed by a program arranged by Roberta Miles, lecturer. A skit, "Three O'Clock in the Morning," was enacted by Donald McGee, Delbert Wilson and Dick Schaub.

Rube Long told about Samus O'Brien, renowned Irish patriot. Edith and Owen Picher sang two Irish songs; Eleanor Derrick read a poem, "Birth of St. Patrick;" Ed Eskelin and Nona Frazee played piano and violin duets of Irish melodies and the group joined in singing. Marion Miles played a few tunes, then everyone told Irish tales and jokes. There was square dancing at the close of the evening.

The Fort Rock Grange is again trying to get the paid-up dues pennant. Only six persons haven't paid.

For the next Grange meeting, members are asked to come prepared to tell a big fib for the lecturer's program.

The "show me" trip will be held March 21 at Fort Rock; meeting place is the Horse Ranch. Pomona Grange will meet here in May.

Guest artists will be Wayne Angel, violinist; Jewel Howard, soprano; and Ernest Armstrong, organist.

Wayne, who has long ago endeared himself to Klamath audiences as a "teenage" finished musician, is steadily gaining enthusiastic recognition in metropolitan areas. While in the primary grades in Klamath schools he was a violin pupil of Harry Borel's; and with that foundation he was in constant demand as featured violin soloist.

For over a year he has been studying with Rex Underwood at Portland University, although actually a high school student.

Within that time, he has made an amazing number of public appearances on both the concert stage and radio. His bookings included four October engagements; two in November; one in January; one in December; three in February and two this month. By invitation, he played as soloist with the Portland Symphony; and appeared on six Northwest Artist programs.

Jewel Howard has been a favorite on local programs for years; and her lovely soprano voice and sympathetic interpretations are constantly acclaimed by Klamath Falls audiences.

Ernest Armstrong is well established as a pianist and organist. He took extensive courses in piano, organ, theory, composition, etc., under such famous artists as Julius Harit, Harold Bauer and equally qualified teachers. Recently he was elected dean of the local chapter of the American Organists Guild.

The program as planned: (1) Organ solo, "Jubilate," by Dr. Albert Silver, Ernest Armstrong; (2) Songs, "The Spirit Flower," Tipton-Campbell; and "Dawn," by Curran, Jewel Howard; (3) Violin, "Sonata No. 1," Adagio, Bach (for violin alone), Wayne Angel.

(4) Organ, "In A Monastery Garden," Ketyby; and "Vox Celeste," Edouard Batiste, Ernest Armstrong; (5) "One Fine Day" (from Madame Butterfly), Puccini; "In the Luxembourg Gardens," Kathleen Lockart Manning, Jewel Howard; (6) Violin, "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso," Saint-Saens; and "May Night," Palmgren; Wayne Angel, Ruth Lobaugh, accompanist.

AAUW GUEST ARTIST... at the annual spring musicale given by the American Association of University Women, will be Wayne Angel, gifted violinist; accepted as a student at Portland University, although a high school senior. He is a local boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Angel; and his appearance on the March 27 program at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints at 2 p.m. means a capacity crowd.
