Estate Bequests Told In Burns

BURNS (P) — Mrs. William Hanley, who died here March 2 at the age of 86, left $25,000 of her estate as a scholarship fund for Burns area high school graduates.

A number of $20,000 bequests also were among the items of the will made public by the executor, the U. S. National Bank.

The scholarship fund provides that not more than $500 a year be given any one student and that as many as 10 can be aided in one year.

Mrs. Hanley was the widow of a pioneer cattleman of this area. Most of her property had been sold before her death, leaving an estate of mostly bonds and cash.

Her sisters, Mrs. Anna Cater, Burns, and Miss Bernice Cameron, Medford, and a niece, Eula Jackson, Medford, each received $20,000 plus the residue of the estate after all specific bequests were paid.

Blessed Rain Fall Hits Drought Area

ALBUQUERQUE (P) — A gentle, soaking, blessed rain fell on parched New Mexico yesterday, starting a short time after prayers for rain were recited in churches throughout the state.

Last Friday, Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne ordered prayers for rain Sunday in all Catholic churches throughout the predominately Catholic state. The rain began Sunday night in the western portion of the state and reached the east side, hardest hit by the drought, last night.

SAAR DISPUTE

BONN, Germany (P) — Leaders of two parties in the Bonn government's four-party coalition have chimed in with the opposition Socialists in denouncing France's latest proposal for Europeanization of the disputed Saar.

The politicians announced their rejection of the plan Sunday as reports circulated that French-German talks here on the Saar question had bogged down.

THERESE, JANICE AND PATRICE (left to right), triplet daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Soran, 3220 Boardman, were among the first to enjoy the new merry-go-round which has just been installed in the "Circus Room" at the Model Shoe Store. The store has been redecorated and is celebrating the 75th anniversary of Buster Brown shoes, it was announced by Jesse House, manager.

Walt Disney Films Famed Jules Verne Science Novel

HOLLYWOOD (P) — Even Jules Verne couldn't have imagined what Walt Disney is doing with "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

The French novelist (1828 - 1905) dreamed up his most famous book in 1870, and it was the sensation in its time. It told of a fanatical scientist who roamed the ocean lanes in a huge submarine. No wonder the first atomic sub was named after the Nautilus of the book. Verne described his undersea craft as being run by the harnessed power of the universe.

Disney has converted the Frenchman's dreamings into vivid reality. This is Disney's most costly film, the bill being estimated upwards from three million dollars and as high as five million.

After looking over the production, I can see where the money goes. Eight costly weeks were spent in shooting locations in Nassau and Jamaica, mostly underwater. A brand new stage was built on the Disney lot for a water tank to house Captain Nemo's sub and a huge, sponge-rubber squid which James Mason (Nemo) has named Zsa Zsa.

The interior of the sub is another expensive set. Such an undersea craft you have never seen before. The place is done in red Victorian plush with overstuffed chairs and sofas, a water fountain and even a pipe organ. The walls are lined with all kinds of books from bound copies of Punch to rare editions of Shakespeare.

"In designing the interior, we tried to figure what kind of surroundings a man of science would like," reasoned designer Harper Goff. He said it had been discovered that men like Dr. Einstein and the late Dr. Millikan, although thinking in the future, chose homes which were not particularly modern.

The designers faced the problem of creating mechanisms that were practical yet in the Victorian period. The sub couldn't look like the cigar-shaped vessels of today. It has a rugged look that reminded me of a combination Merrimac and the Loch Ness monster.

Verne described his men as walking underwater without life-lines or other gadgets. Special suits were designed combining the features of a diving suit and aqualing.

Bank Audit Awaited By Depositors

Reynolds himself sat in jail on embezzlement charges after a series of fast-breaking developments yesterday.

The banker had been free in $7,500 bond since his return to Clio Thursday night from a 12-day absence. He had promised to settle all accounts in full by the first of this week.

He turned over $5,000 to a three-man depositors committee yesterday and it was put in a Clayton bank in the names of the three committee members pending final accounting.

The first official checkup of Reynolds' books to find out just how much money was on deposit in the Merchants Exchange was scheduled to begin today in Clayton, the county seat where the banker was brought to jail yesterday.

Expected to take part in the audit were County Solicitor Crews Johnson; Jack Wallace, an attorney representing Mrs. Reynolds' aunt, who was the largest depositor in the exchange; and an official of the First National Bank of Atlanta.

Of the nearly $7,000 accounted for out of an unofficially estimated $167,000 on deposit in the private, unchartered money exchange, $81,800 was found in an Atlanta bank where Reynolds kept much of the company's nonoperating capital.

But the aunt, Mrs. Vela Mae Reynolds, has filed garnishment proceedings in Fulton County Civil Court in Atlanta against those funds.

The imprisoned banker said last night he surrendered voluntarily and went to jail, but declined to say why or to make any other statement.

S. Korea Comments On Geneva Meeting

SEOUL (P) — Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said today South Korea is "satisfied" with American assurances of a joint walkout from the Geneva conference if it proves fruitless at the end of 90 days.

However, South Korea has not yet decided whether it will attend the April 26 conference, Pyun told a news conference. He said his government is studying other assurances given it by the United States.
