KASRU Plans Sunday Outing

Klamath Air Search and Rescue Unit will stage its "drive-in" Sunday, March 28, at 1 p.m. The outing will be held at a spot about five miles east of Newell, south of the peninsula.

The KASRU chuck wagon will be present and will be the scene of a flap-jack flipping contest which everyone is invited to enter. KASRU will furnish ingredients for the contest.

Those who wish may fly down, according to Chairman Hal Ogle, and may land at the Newell airstrip. Flyers should take their own tie-down ropes for planes.

Everyone is invited, and is asked to bring his own picnic lunch and table service. Ogle says he expects a large turnout of KASRU pilots, ground crewmen and friends.

Lumber Pay Talks Recessed

PORTLAND (AP)—Negotiations between the CIO Woodworkers and employers of the Douglas fir belt were recessed Friday, after no progress was made in a meeting called by federal mediators.

No date was set for another meeting, but both sides agreed to meet whenever either side asks for another session.

The Woodworkers have asked a 12 1/2-cent hourly increase, plus fringe benefits. The employers offered only to renew the present contract.

Blood Donors Urged To Sign

Donors are still needed, if Klamath County is to win back the state record on blood contributions now held by Malheur county, with a total of 478 pints in a single visit. Announcement that more pledge cards are needed was made today by Mrs. Hugh Swaney, blood program chairman for the Red Cross.

It will take just one more pint, 479, on the next visit of the bloodmobile truck, Monday and Tuesday, March 29-30 to bring the state record back to Klamath County.

In a check of Merrill, Malin and Tulelake communities, it was learned that 228 pledges have been signed. Seventy five more are needed. Two hundred have signed in Klamath Falls. Four hundred more are needed. The Merrill operation is being handled under sponsorship of the Moose Lodge, Klamath Falls, by the VFW, and Bonanza, by women of the Farm Bureau. All volunteered as sponsors, and the effort represents community-wide interest in the drive, Mrs. Swaney said today.

Governor To Visit K.F.

Governor Paul Patterson will arrive here Friday morning, April 2, for a speaking engagement before a group of Klamath Falls business men at luncheon, a tour of the Klamath Basin, an informal coffee hour during the afternoon and a buffet supper later.

Plans for the Governor's visit were made at a meeting last night of the committee of the Paul Patterson for Governor group.

Elmer C. Lemler, Merrill, was elected chairman of the committee and Mrs. Oscar (Jo) Kittredge will serve as co-chairman. The buffet supper will be sponsored by the Klamath County Republican Club. Time and location of other meetings will be announced next week.

All friends of Governor Patterson, interested in the Paul Patterson for Governor Group, are asked to call Mrs. Oscar Kittredge at 514.

Malin High Newsnotes

By JAN ELMORE
Coming in on the heels of a successful spring vacation is the news from Malin High School, which should have been on these pages last week, but somehow got lost in the shuffle. Spring vacation was highly successful because during the week everyone forgot about school to enable him to return refreshed.

Mainlies would just as soon forget the basketball playoffs, of course. There were other things which bring better memories, such as senior visitation, March 4. Seniors from Merrill and Malin met at Malin with representatives of the Oregon State System of Higher Education to pick a college of their choice.

Another worthwhile memory is that of the Klamath County Senior High School Speech Festival held at MHS March 11. We welcomed students from Bly, Bonanza, Chiloquin, Gilchrist, Henley and Merrill who competed in the ten events. After listening to music by the Malin band, the group heard the decisions of the judges. Tying for the cup with 36 points each were Henley and Malin.

Sophomores, Marie Rodgers took 4 points in Humorous Reading and Richard Micka's Extempore speech merited 2 points. So much for the speech festival.

That secretive look on the faces of the juniors and seniors suggests that the Junior-Senior Prom is once more being planned. Word is that the seniors have come up with some new and different ideas which promise to make a real hit.

The whooping coming from the gym Tuesday, March 23, was not just another study hall. No, it was a national school assembly in which were featured four Indians who performed tribal dances for us.

Wednesday, March 24, saw the seniors journeying to Chiloquin for another panel discussion. This time taxation came up for discussion. "Is the excess profits tax strangling progress in the business world?" was brought up by Ron Lovensness and Ed Pierce of Malin.

Dunsmuir Man Cremated

DUNSMUIR—The remains of Klark Thornton Green, 72, were cremated Wednesday, March 24, in Medford, Oregon. There were no funeral services. Those wishing to do so may contribute to the Stikivoy County Society for Crippled Children in his memory.

Green, a resident of Dunsmuir for 31 years, died suddenly Saturday night at his home in North Dunsmuir. He was a retired Southern Pacific shopman and assisted his wife in operating a restaurant in North Dunsmuir.

Green was a native Californian. He is survived by his widow, Lisa.
