

Owls, Red Raiders Split

Tech Captures Nightcap

Oregon Tech opened its baseball season yesterday afternoon against the Southern Oregon College Red Raiders and came away with a split. The Techs won the second game 5-3 after dropping a close 4-3 decision to the Raiders in the first game.

In the first contest the Raiders jumped on Owls starting pitcher, Chuck Carrow for three runs on four base on balls, a fielder's choice, a single and an infield out.

Coach Art Kirgland sent in reliever Ron Wright with two out and the bases loaded. The left hander gave up a free pass to first base forcing in the winning run for the home standing Raiders, before Bill McLean fled out to Lew Emerson in right field to end the inning.

THREE RUNS

The Raiders scored one run in the second inning of play and the Owls came back in their half of the third for three runs to take the lead from the home team.

Dick Joslyn's long triple scored Larry Oatney and Lew Emerson who had previously singled. Warren Osborn grounded out to the shortstop, sending Joslyn home with the Owl's last run.

In the second game the Owls jumped on SOC pitcher Jerry Hennebeck in the first inning on two bases on balls, an error and Larry Jeter's two run single.

The Raiders tied the score in the fifth on an error, a double by Dick Price, and a two run single by Bill McLean.

The remainder of the scoring for both teams came in the sixth inning of the nightcap. Oregon Tech put the game on ice with three runs on Dave Savage's single that scored Joslyn and Osborn who had walked and singled.

INFIELD OUT

The Owl's last run, and third of the inning, came when Don Vest's infield out scored Jeter from third base.

SOC came back and loaded the bases on three base on balls, off pitcher Ron Wright, but Owl chucker got out of the inning with only one run being scored off him. This came when Ned Landers scored from third on a sacrifice fly by Ken Kimura.

Next Sunday the Owls play host to Humboldt State College in an afternoon doubleheader at Recreation Field.

McMurtry Decisions Hoxsey

SEATTLE — A lot of gore was spilled Tuesday night in the Civic Ice Arena but Pat McMurtry of Tacoma and Dixon Hoxsey of Seattle came through their toughest little tests safely.

McMurtry, 183, won a close decision from Max Chris, 185, Salt Lake City, in six hard-swinging rounds.

Hoxsey, 137, was well-chopped around the cheekbone by the veteran Don Rogers, 145, of Portland, Ore., before he learned his opponent's weakness for body punches and put him down three times for a third round TKO victory.

Both feature bouts were scheduled six-rounders.

SHED

Most of the blood was shed in the quartet of 4-round preliminaries. Both Tony Alvarez, 130, Seattle, and Teddy Hall, 128, Tacoma, were running red at the noses before they wound up in a draw.

Barrie Jackson, 172, Spokane, took a decision from LeRoy Miller, 172, Chicago, pounding Miller free by all the way without putting him on the deck.

Johnny Williams, 182, Bremerton, was stopped by Don Jasper, 201, Duluth, in 1:23 of the second round, his corner tossing in the towel to save him from further pounding.

SOX SENIORS — Minnie Minoso, left, and Chico Carrasquel are the stars of the Chicago Americans' Latin Quarter. 10,000-TO-1 — Nitaffly keeps a sharp eye on her twin colts foaled at LaJolla, California Farms and considered a 10,000 to 1 chance among thoroughbreds. The sire is Atavistic.

Red Wings Blast At Officiating

DETROIT — Furious over the officiating, the Detroit Red Wings blasted Referee Red Storey with a verbal broadside Wednesday after Maurice Richard of the Montreal Canadiens had squared the Stanley Cup Hockey finals at a game apiece.

Breaking out of a slump, Richard fired two goals in 31 seconds Tuesday night to lead the Canadiens to a 3-1 victory over the Red Wings.

But most of the fireworks took place in the steamy Detroit dressing room after the game.

"I thought we were supposed to have impartial referees," boomed General Manager Jack Adams. "How come Storey, who lives in Montreal, was allowed to officiate in this series?"

Adams was incensed because he claimed Storey failed to call a penalty against Montreal in the first period for having too many men on the ice.

From the press box, it seemed clear that the Canadiens had more than six players on the ice at one time during a change of lines and actual play.

"But what did Storey do?" Adams asked. "He blew his whistle and put off our Gordie Howe for high sticking."

As it turned out, Howe's penalty was the start of Detroit's downfall. Just 19 seconds after Howe was sent off teammate Tony Leswick followed him into the penalty box for slashing. That gave the Canadiens a two-man advantage for one minute and 41 seconds, and they scored all three goals within that time.

Storey had to be assisted from the arena by a half dozen policemen as irate fans pressed around the officials' dressing room. Stepping head down from the darkened cubicle, Storey was whisked to an awaiting cab. The fans showered him with orange peels, paper cups and newspapers. He had no comment.

The Canadiens now are favorites as the best-of-seven series shifts to Montreal Forum for the next two games Thursday and Saturday.

HAPPY ORIOLE

BALTIMORE — Happy is the word for George J. Diering III, 35. He was chosen as the batboy for the Orioles, Baltimore's new team in the American League, after a contest in which 250 boys were entered. His favorite Oriole? Outfielder Chuck Diering, of course. They are not related, the youngster sadly admits.

EXCURSION PRICES

BOISE, Idaho — Tourists with a taste for Idaho fishing can take more than one run at fishing this year and still get excursion prices. The state's $3 license, good for five days of fishing by nonresidents, may be taken out as many times as a guest wishes. It used to be limited to once a season.

Pin Meet High Scoring

SEATTLE — Nine-pins may not seem like much. But to Chicago's redhot Tri-Par Radio team it meant a chance to become the highest scoring team in 51 years of American Bowling Congress tournament history.

Even so, the Chicagoans left no doubt who ranks as favorite to sweep this year's tournament as they posted a 124 series to boom into first place in the open division of the ABC meet here Tuesday night.

With Carmen Salvino showing the way, the Windy City aggregation served notice from their opening game that they were out to take command of the tourney and they did it with pins to spare.

Joe Wilman, who scored 600, second to Salvino's high of 693, could have given the Tri-Par quintet the record, which they missed by the nine pins, but his much-needed strike in the tenth frame was high in the pocket and left the four pin standing.

In nearly cracking the record, the new leaders rolled the high game of the 1934 meet with their 1115 and their total is the second highest in tourney history. Birk Brothers of Chicago set the record of 3224 in 1938.

While Tri-Par was racking pins left and right, two other teams managed to break into the top ten of the open standings.

Mady's Lanes of South St. Paul, Minn., clocked for 2945 to move into sixth place, while King Louie Bowling Shirts of Kansas City, Mo., edged into seventh place with 2954 pins.

In the afternoon sessions, two changes were rung up in the doubles, and a solitary advance in the all-events.

A Milwaukee, Wis., pair—Carl Ray and Andy Grilli—swept into second place in the doubles mainly on the strength of a 717 series by Grilli, a 59 year old bowling alley maintenance man. Their 1292 mark was only 15 pins off the pace-making combination of John McGraw and Harry Wheeler, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Don Heimberger, of Walla Walla, Wash., teamed with Richard Reither, Columbus, Ohio, to cop fifth place with 1257.

The only other change saw Grilli combine his totals to earn eighth place in the all-events with an 1868 figure.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (NEA) — Frank Thomas isn't interested in becoming the new Ralph Kiner of the Pirates.

The home-grown Pittsburgh slugger is content with merely remaining the old Frank Thomas.

Thomas' work this spring is an indication that he hasn't lost the home run knack. The blond whacker seven round trippers in 10 games, hit safely in each contest. His average is .395 and there is talk of his becoming the home run king of baseball very soon.

over any of them," declares Ricker. "But now that the Gardens are down, Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Roy Campanella have a better target at Ebbets Field.

"Frankly, I'd rather have Thomas hitting 300 than winning the home run title. Hitting 300 would make him a more valuable team man. Pitchers must pitch to him now, which is in his favor.

"He certainly is one of the coming hitters at 24."

Davey Renews Campaign

OAKLAND, Calif. — Chuck Davey, the educated southpaw from Lansing, Mich., renews his campaign for another crack at the welterweight title when he meets Gerald Dreyer of Pretoria, South Africa, in a 10-round fight tonight at the Oakland Auditorium.

The bout will be nationally televised starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Davey has been installed as a mild favorite to beat the former British Empire champion. Both are hard hitters. They have similar fighting styles, both being aggressive and constantly throwing punches.

In 45 bouts, Davey has scored 26 knockouts. Dreyer has won 19 times by kyo. Each has lost four times.

It is an important fight for both contestants. Davey hopes to use it as a springboard for another chance at the Kie Gavian's welter crown. Dreyer also is seeking a title shot.

Heart Claims Jack Fox

SPOKANE — Tiger Jack Fox, colorful Negro boxer who once just missed capturing the world light heavyweight championship, died here Tuesday of a heart attack.

Fox, left half paralyzed by a stroke two years ago, collapsed as he entered a theater. He died before help could be summoned.

In a long campaign that started in 1932, Fox had battled such name fighters as Maxie Rosenbloom, John Henry Lewis, Bob Olin and Jersey Joe Walcott. He won twice over Walcott, once by a knockout, before Jersey Joe became heavyweight champion.

In 1939, Fox met Mello Bettina in Madison Square Garden for the lightweight crown. A wound received in a knifing fracas two months earlier, however, had weakened Fox and Bettina stopped the batter in the ninth round.

His record showed 73 knockouts in 111 fights and 14 losses, most of them in his declining years.

His last campaign was in Alaska and he claimed the heavyweight championship of the northern territory. That was after the Washington State Athletic Commission had suspended his license in 1946.

Nelson vs. Bear Hug In Armory Mat Battle

BILL FLETCHER

TOMMY MARTINDALE

Georges Dusette and Ivan Kameroff will tangle in the main event of tonight's wrestling program at the Armory.

Dusette is making his fourth straight main event showing in Klamath Falls. The last three weeks the French Canadian has met Eric Pedersen in what had the local fans on the edge of their seats.

Kameroff is no stranger to the Armory fans. He made quite a few enemies when last week's card had finished.

The Mad Russian battled with Bill Fletcher in one of semi-wind-ups on last week's mat menu. Fletcher fell victim of Kameroff's Russian bear hug and was put out of commission for the remainder of the match. Kameroff was awarded the decision when Fletcher was unable to return after the first fall.

Tonight's mainline isn't going to be any less exciting than last week's and there are possibilities that Dusette, who has a tendency to get angry when his opponents start using illegal tactics, may explode on Kameroff with his famous full Nelson.

The opener on the card will pit Fletcher against Roy Wolf, another unpopular muscle man around the local ring circles. This match is slated to go thirty minutes or two out of three falls.

Bug Weaver will square off against popular Tommy Martindale in another thirty minute bout that could very well prove to top the previous mentioned scraps.

Weaver is an ex-football star from Indiana and has proven to fans that he can handle himself in mat warfare.

The doors open at 7:30 and the first bout will get underway one hour later.

This week's admission prices will be slashed in as much as the federal government cut the excise tax last week. Besides this deduction, the wrestling commission has announced that they will make another cut in prices to accommodate more wrestling fans.
